GHOSTS RIDE IN TIN CAN

Mystery Ship's Doom Hinted

Message Found on Florida's Coast in Rusted Container Clew to 1899 Puzzle

Schooner, Owners Unknown, Washed Ashore Without Sign of Crew in 1901

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—A message given up by the seas Saturday at St. Petersburg, Fla., may be a clew in the twenty-nine-year-old mystery as to the fate of the crew of the Commodore of Philadelphia.

The message, contained in a rusted tin can, which fell apart when handled, read:

"March 21, 1899.

"Send help at once. Our ship, the Commodore, was wrecked two weeks ago, send help at once. Long. 83; lat. 91.

[Signed]

"GEORGE EVERETT."

Longitude 83 is directly off the Florida coast. Latitude 91 evidently was misread, or blurred from water, for the poles are at 90, both north and south. However, lat. 31 would place the ship off the Florida coast and the upper loop of the figure 3 might have taken the appearance of a 9.

MYSTERY VESSEL

The Commodore of Philadelphia, owners unknown and never traced, was a mystery ship, which rivaled tales of the ancient mariner.

On April 6, 1901, a two-masted fifty-foot rigger drifted into Brooklyn Harbor. With a hard bump she struck a wharf in W. M. Tebo's yacht basin. She had come in on the tide.

No one could be seen aboard her and when the schooner struck the wharf and rolled about, workmen boarded her, expecting to find her crew had been killed by midnight harbor pirates and their ship cut to float with the tide and wind.

To their surprise, no sign of life was found and there was no evidence of a struggle. It could not be determined if the schooner had been abandoned, or whether her crew had been swept overboard and drowned.

OWNERS HUNTED

She bore on her stern the name "Commodore of Philadelphia." Officials of the Tebo Basin communicated with Philadelphia shipping people, but were never able to find the owners.

The Commodore was hauled up to the wharf and made fast. An investigation showed she was of substantial character, but had sprung a leak and unless looked after would soon go down. Pumpers were put to work and the schooner was kept afloat.

Tebo officials expected to hold the wanderer of the seas until claimed by the owners. After more than two months during which wages of pumpers and cost of keeping the schooner afloat mounted rapidly, no word was received and hope of obtaining salvage was abandoned. The Brooklyn Dock Board then was asked to take the sinking craft off the Tebo Basin.

STRANGE TALES

Many strange tales gained circulation. One was that the schooner braved a great storm off the New Jersey coast and was whipped about by wind and swells for eight days.

RIFT NEARS IN CABINET OF PANAMA

Four Members, Including Brother of President, Threaten to Resign

PANAMA CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—It was reliably reported today that four members of the Panama Cabinet intend to resign unless Jeptha B. Duncan, around whom a storm has been brewing for some time, quits his post as Secretary of Public Instruction.

It is understood those intending to resign are T. G. Duque, Minister of Finance; A. Robles, Minister of the Interior; J. D. Arosemena, Foreign Minister (a brother of President Florencio Arosemena,) and L. F. Clement, Minister of Agriculture.

Observers say the attitude of these Cabinet members reflects the view of the Nationalist Assembly, which has protested to the President against Duncan appearing in the Chamber to present his report. Duncan enjoys the confidence of the President, however, and has paid no attention to demands he resign.

Pope, Far from Death, Spends Active Sunday

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—Far from being at the point of death, as some Berlin newspapers have reported him, Pope Pius today spent a Sunday of normal activity.

It was even more than normal, for he began with a lengthy audience to Monsignor Borgonginiduca, papal nuncio to the King of Italy, to discuss many matters such as the Argentine revolution, the nomination of a successor to the late Cardinal Gamba as Archbishop of Turin and relief for the churches stricken in the recent earthquake.

After luncheon and a siesta the pontiff took an automobile ride in the Vatican gardens.

CLOUDBURSTS HIT MIDWEST

Heavy Damage Caused in Iowa and South Dakota; Idaho and Washington Have Storms

YANKTON (S. D.) Sept. 7. (AP)—A cloudburst near Jamison and Naper, Neb., and St. Charles S. D., late Saturday afternoon, caused loss to property and live stock estimated at $60,000.

All communication lines were down and news of the storm did not reach here until today. So far as known here, no lives were lost.

From six to eight inches of rain fell within an hour. The greatest loss was in the Squaw Creek section, where a wall of water fifteen feet high and 500 to 800 feet wide swept bridges, roadbeds, grain, cattle and hay before it.

Highway Superintendent Hewitt of Gregory county, South Dakota, reported many bridges and roads were destroyed.

LEWISTON (Idaho) Sept. 7. (AP) Railroad tracks were washed out, farm buildings were destroyed, crops were damaged and traffic was tied up by a wind and hailstorm that swept this vicinity today. Insurance adjusters set damage as high as $500,000.

Of 500 farms near Sioux City, it is estimated 200 suffered a 75 per cent loss of corn crops because of the storm.

Near Merrill, Iowa, fifty feet of Chicago and Northwestern tracks were washed out and several miles of additional trackage was inundated.

LEWISTON (Idaho) Sept. 7. (AP) A violent electrical storm accompanied by heavy downpours visited the North Central Idaho region today.

The heavy rain checked major fires of the region and forest officials said that new ones probably would be started by lightning, but the rain made it probable that no difficulty in controlling them would be encountered.

The Settlers Creek fire near Kooskia is well in hand, and 150 of the 300 men fighting it were called off. The blaze probably will smoulder for days, forest officials said.

VOLUNTEER SOUGHT AS LIFE SAVER

Physician Hunts Survivor of Granulocytic Angina for Blood Transfusion

BAY CITY (Mich.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Physicians at Mercy Hospital here are bending every effort to save the life of one of the internes who is suffering from granulocytic angina, a rare and nearly always fatal disease. The only certain cure for the malady is a blood transfusion from a patient who has recovered from it. Thus far they have been unable to find one and are appealing for aid in locating such a person.

Anyone having information which will be of aid is asked to telegraph Dr. W. J. Gamble, Jr., pathologist at the hospital. Regular rates will be paid for such a transfusion, Dr. Gamble said, and the subject's expenses will be cared for.

Rock Tossed in Play Kills Boy

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—La Mar Carlson, 9 years of age, was killed tonight by a rock hurled at him in play by Gordon Sanders, 7, in the rear of the dead boy's home, police announced.

Gordon will be turned over to juvenile authorities tomorrow.

Will Rogers Remarks:

CAMP RICHARDSON, Sept. 7. [To the Editor of The Times:] Just in case Mr. Coolidge and all the other columnists are short something to comment on, try the Argentine's new President's name "Uraburro!" We are beginning to find out what those South American republics do with their one battleship each. They use it for their presidents to escape on.

We are up among this Nevada divorce colony "for picture purposes only." An old lady 87 years of age came on the set to watch us shoot. She is serving time here and she told me "life's too short to let one man ruin it. I am going to get my freedom and have some fun." And she is asking for the custody of four minor children.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

CAPITAL WELCOMES FLYERS

Official Acclaim of United States Extended to Coste and Bellonte at Washington

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—A red plane settled down easily at Bolling Field today and Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte stepped out to meet the welcome of the capital.

The official welcome began even before the French Paris-to-New York flyers left the Question Mark. Coste and Bellonte, looking fresh and calm, sat quietly for a few moments before rising to shed their flying clothes. Then, trim and neat in dark blue suits, they stood looking down and Jules Henry, charge d'affaires of the French Embassy, swept his hand upward in a wide arc and introduced George Akerson, representing President Hoover.

Akerson smiled a welcome and said one, too, but it was lost in the roar of the crowd which was massing about the plane. Coste smiled and responded in English:

"I am grateful that the President has sent you to greet me. Please return to him my greetings and express my appreciation."

The flyers held an impromptu reception before they climbed out of the plane that carried them across the Atlantic a few days ago. Most of the official welcoming delegation thrust up hands to them. Maj.-Gen. Fechet, chief of the Army Air Corps, followed Akerson and Herbert Hoover, Jr., took Fechet's place in a line that was beginning to form.

A group of officials and diplomats surrounded the flyers as they alighted. Among the group were Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary of Commerce; Pierre Del Boal of the State Department, the Belgian Ambassador, Prince De Ligne, and Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett.

The Army band had been playing at intervals before the Question Mark appeared out of the northeast and now it boomed into the "Marseillaise." Coste and Bellonte stiffened. Hats were swept off and hands went up in salute before the strains of the French national anthem had stilled the spectators.

The crowd had waited quietly enough for the Frenchmen to appear but once Coste and Bellonte were on the ground they began to swarm out toward the plane.

A path was cleared for a White

ARMS RULE ARGENTINA

Revolt Spreads to Provinces

Army-Navy Group Captures Yrigoyen in Auto and Imprisons Him

Elderly Deposed President, Ill with Pneumonia, Carefully Cared for

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 7. (AP)—With the Hipolito Yrigoyen government unseated by an army-navy rebellion last night and the former President held a prisoner, the movement spread today to a number of other provinces in the republic.

Troops of the revolutionary junta took control of Santa Fe and Rosario, the two principal cities of Santa Fe Province—the Twelfth Infantry holding Santa Fe and the Eleventh occupying Rosario.

Reports from the city of Santiago, Province of Del Estero, say that when news of the revolution in Buenos Aires was received 2000 persons paraded the streets and shouted for the new government, police attempted to disperse them, but afterward joined the manifestation.

YRIGOYEN PRISONER

Other demonstrations which brought the communities over to the side of the junta were held in the cities of Mendoza and Parana and in La Plata, where Yrigoyen is held a prisoner in the barracks of the Seventh Infantry.

In the Province of San Juan, Lisandro Salas, who was the Federal intervenor in the provincial administration under orders of Yrigoyen, anticipated the fall of his government and resigned, leaving a free hand to the opposition. The Yrigoyen policy of Federal intervention is considered one of the things that brought about his downfall.

Meanwhile the capital is under a strict martial regime with the leader of the revolt, Gen. Jose Evaristo Uriburu, as Provisional President with a civilian Cabinet.

The ex-President who is elderly, is both a patient and a prisoner at La Plata. He is suffering from pneumonia, aggravated by the excitement and discouragement which have come to him in the last few days, and has a high temperature. Two physicians were at his bedside all last night, under orders from the new government to give him all possible medical care. He was assured by Col. Giordane, in charge of the provincial troops, that he will be well cared for and guarded against violence.

CAUGHT IN FLIGHT

The story of the former President's adventures yesterday is dramatic. He had kept inside during most of the disturbed week that brought about the outbreak and after the Cabinet ran up the white flag to the oncoming revolutionaries last night, no one knew where Yrigoyen was. Some reports said he had fled to a cruiser for refuge.

Eventually it was learned the President had dashed from his home in a motor car after receiving word that the revolt had triumphed, loyal police holding up traffic near his home in the Calle Brazil for several minutes. Police on the side of the revolutionaries pursued the car and intercepted it at La Plata, where Yrigoyen, so ill he had to be aided to alight from the car, was taken first to the Provincial Capital House and then removed to the infantry barracks for detention.

He asked immediately for a bed, and after conversing for a few minutes with the officers present, wrote a brief resignation and handed it to the commander of the Seventh Infantry, Lieut.-Col. Yrusta. The resignation read:

"To the Officials of the Army:

"In the city of La Plata on the seventh day of September, 1930 (it was shortly after midnight when he signed the resignation.) I, Hipolito Yrigoyen, constitutional President of the republic, in view of what has occurred today present my resignation as President."

REFUSES TO QUIT

No less dramatic was the resignation of the former Vice-President, Dr. Enrique V. Martinez, who was President for a day after Yrigoyen had "retired" under a constitutional provision on Friday night.

When Gen. Uriburu arrived at the Government House last night after the revolutionary troops had taken over the city, he encountered Martinez in the Presidential office, informed him that the revolution was a complete success, and demanded his resignation.

Martinez refused.

"You may kill me, but I will not resign," he asserted.

"I am not simple enough to make a martyr of you," replied the revolt leader, "but your resignation is necessary to prevent bloodshed. Resign or you will be imprisoned."

In a few moments Martinez capitulated and signed the resignation.

Enthusiastic crowds swarmed gleefully through Buenos Aires all night after the exciting change in government.

FURNITURE BURNED

One group went to Yrigoyen's home and removed all furniture to the street, there piling it up and burning it. The houses of former Foreign Minister Oyhanarte and of other Yrigoyenist leaders also were ransacked.

Other groups raided the offices of the executive committee of the Radical party—the Yrigoyenist faction—and also tore up the quarters of all radical political clubs.

Hot-blooded youths, mostly students, attacked the Cafe Molino, which had sheltered a group of

Million-Dollar Invention to Make Gulf Stream Turn Turbine Put in Water

MATANZAS (Cuba) Sept. 7. (AP)—Prof. Georges Claude, French scientist, succeeded today in launching a tube by which he believes he will be able to produce inexpensive power from the waters of the Gulf Stream. The work required six hours.

This is the third tube Prof. Claude has constructed. The others were destroyed in the attempts at launching and the inventor charged at the time that sabotage by interests opposed to his scheme was indicated.

He obtained the co-operation of the Cuban government for the third attempt and soldiers guarded all details of the work. He also got the backing of the French Academy of Sciences and adopted several suggestions for this latest experiment, which cost approximately $1,000,000.

The inventor's scheme, in brief, is based on the fact that the surface water in the tropics is hot the year around, the temperature averaging around [illegible] deg., while the water at the bottom of the ocean is cold—from 35 to 40 deg. As he views it, his tube will run from the shore about a mile along the ocean bed and thus tap the cold water. He plans to use the hot water to operate a turbine, after it has been converted into steam by means of a vacuum, while the cold water will recondense the steam and renew the vacuum.

WALES PUTS OWN FILMS ON DISPLAY

Cinema Show Given on Big Game Hunting with Camera for Royalty

LONDON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The Prince of Wales has adopted a new role—film impresario. Last night at Balmoral Castle he gave a cinema entertainment consisting of films, most of them photographed by himself descriptive of his "big-game hunt with a camera" in Uganda and Sudan recently. The Prince, in addition to lecturing about his own films, worked the projection himself assisted by the Duke of Gloucester.

The audience included King George, Queen Mary and their guests, members of the royal household and the castle staff. The pictures dealt with the game of the countries visited—elephants, rhinoceroses, giraffes, crocodiles, all in their native habitat, the Prince making explanatory comments as the animals of the jungle scenes flitted across the screen. The show lasted an hour.

Princess Gives Birth to Her Second Child in Castle Sedulously Guarded

Salute of 101 Guns Fired to Acquaint Great Crowds with Happy Event

BRUSSELS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Crown Princess Astrid of Belgium gave birth to a son today. As her first child was a girl the boy becomes heir to the Belgian throne in the direct male line.

The baby was born at Stuyvenberg Castle, which had been fenced off from public curiosity by barbed wire in order to assure the maximum of quiet for Princess Astrid.

Crown Prince Leopold this morning hastily canceled his appearance at an unveiling ceremony scheduled in Dixmude this afternoon. This was the first hint that the baby was expected shortly.

Announcement of the birth was answered by demonstrations of enthusiastic loyalty from the populace.

News of the event was telephoned immediately to the Crown Princess of Italy, the former Marie Jose of Belgium, sister of Crown Prince Leopold. Marie Jose herself expects a baby about January.

The baby Prince weighs nearly nine pounds. He was baptized tonight with the name Baudouin Albert Axel Marie Gustave.

News of the birth was announced to the populace by a salute of [illegible] guns and aroused great joy. Great crowds gathered outside Stuyvenberg Castle to cheer Leopold, his wife and their new son.

Ex-Grid Player Burns to Death in Traffic Crash

OAKLAND, Sept. 7. (AP)—Pinned in his seat by the engine of his automobile which was flung against him in a terrific crash, John B. Rawlins, Jr., former University of Washington and Olympic Club football player, burned to death here today.

A traffic officer stood helplessly by and watched the funeral pyre until firemen arrived on the scene.

Rawlins's car crashed into the rear end of a parked truck. The engine was hurled back against him, trapping him where he sat. The car immediately burst into flames.

Traffic Officer E. D. Warrien, who had been trailing Rawlins for several miles, said he was driving at an apparently safe speed.

Rawlins, who was 23 years of age, played on the University of Washington eleven several years ago and last year played with the Olympic Club. He made his home in Piedmont, Cal. He leaves his widow and a 2-months-old child.

Four Oregon Men Drown as Boat Capsizes

TILLAMOOK (Or.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Four men were drowned today at the mouth of Big Nestucca River near Pacific City, when the motorboat from which they were fishing capsized on the bar.

The dead are George H. Green, 39 years of age, Portland; G. Spencer, 49, Portland; Donald Dalrymple, 19, Portland, and a man named Graham.

The body of George Green was recovered when it was washed up on the shore near Woods, but the other three apparently have been carried out to sea.

REVOLT MAY RENEW TIES

Washington Thinks Closer Co-operation May be Result of Yrigoyen Overthrow in Argentina

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Closer co-operation between the United States and the Argentine was held forth unofficially in Washington today as a likely result of the overthrow of the Yrigoyen government. The latest official word received here reported only a temporary shift of authority by Yrigoyen, and comment was withheld while official word of developments was awaited.

Despite occasional exchanges of courtesies between President Hoover and the former Argentine leader, a lack of cordiality to the United States by Yrigoyen long had been felt here. He recalled the Argentine Ambassador from Washington in 1928 and the post has been vacant since.

Not only had Argentina refrained from sending delegates to several pan-American conferences, but Yrigoyen, soon after his election in 1928, had canceled appointments of representatives to the inter-American arbitration conference made by his predecessor.

Softening of this policy, however, was seen in the appointment of Argentine delegates to the Pan-American Agricultural Conference scheduled to open here tomorrow.

Reports of differences between the two countries were carried widely in the press also when a delay occurred in forwarding an invitation by Yrigoyen to Mr. Hoover at the time of his tour of South America as President-elect.

Argentina recently declared an embargo against potato imports, following on the quarantine established by the United States on that country's grapes, and considerable public resentment in the South American Republic has been reported following on the establishment of a high tariff by the United States against several Argentine products.

Then they visited the Central Police Station, carrying banners and singing the national anthem. Behind them trailed a bust of the fallen President.

Other places destroyed by infuriated mobs last night were the newspapers La Epoca and La Calle, Yrigoyen organs. These were burned while the city firemen, loyal to the revolt movement, refused to fight the flames. The attack on La Epoca occurred after persons in the building had fired on the advancing revolutionary troops. The soldiers soon silenced their assailants with machine guns and then the crowd rushed at the building to destroy it.

The provisional Cabinet was organized last night and one of its first acts was dissolution of the Congress and proclamation of martial law. Today it appointed army and navy officers to govern the various provinces pending eventual return of the country to civilian government. The governors chosen for seven of the fourteen provinces are as follows:

Buenos Aires Province, Col. Giordano; Cordoba, Gen. Pertine; San Juan, Col. Cuello; Mendoza, Col. La Porcada; Jujuy, Commander Sueyro; Corrientes, Commander Loredo; Santa Fe, Commander Marequez.

AMERICAN HELD AS RIOT WITNESS

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 7. (AP)—Charles Harper, an American citizen who is general manager of the local branch of an American shoe company, was detained by police, but it is said he is only held as a witness and soon will be liberated.

The police said Harper's testimony is needed because his office is in the same building as the Cafe Molino, from which unidentified civilians last night shot at a group of revolutionary troops and precipitated a battle. The cafe later was raided by a crowd and closed.

Mrs. R. A. Bullinger and Bruce

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Mrs. R. A. Bullinger and her son, Bruce, of Kenilworth, Ill., who won the grand prize of $1000 in a local paper's mother and child photo review in the rotogravure section today have been chosen as the most appealing mother and child in Chicago.

The picture of Mrs. Bullinger and Bruce was selected from among the five sectional first-prize winning photographs which were reproduced in the paper last Sunday. The first-prize winners each representing one of the metropolitan districts, received awards of $500. Including the grand prize of $1000 awards in the mother and child review total $7500.

"We were honored to have been chosen as the North Side representatives in the review,' Mrs. Bullinger said when she was told of the decision, "but to have been selected as the grand-prize winners is the fulfillment of one of our happiest dreams."

RAIL LINE OVER ANDES SNOWBOUND

[Copyright, 1930, by New York Times]

MENDOZA, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Indications are that it will be some time before traffic can be renewed on the trans-Andean Railroad, for long distances of the Chilean section are buried under snow avalanches, which in some places are fifty feet deep. The snow fall is the heaviest since 1914. Six avalanches have been reported so far varying from 100 to 800 feet wide, and from fifteen to fifty feet deep. One carried away a half-mile of iron posts which were holding up trolley wires for the electrified portion of the railroad.

GERMAN YOUTH INNS IMPRESS BRITISHERS

BERLIN, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The unique German institutions known as "Jugendherbergen," or Youth Inns, which afford shelter to young hikers for a merely nominal sum, have made such an impression on young British pedestrians visiting Germany that a "Youth Inn Committee" has now been organized in London with the aim of establishing similar institutions throughout the British Isles.

MEAT OUTPUT LARGE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—The total quantity of meat produced in the United States last year was 16,803,000,000 pounds.

BULLFIGHTS TO BE MADE LESS CRUEL

Commission Working on New Code to Regulate Mexican Sport

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The question of requiring breastplates for horses used in bull fights to eliminate the most cruel part of the Latin sport—cruel in the eyes of Anglo-Saxons and many Latins—is once again up for consideration in Mexico.

A special commission consisting of representatives of the Federal district government, bull fighters, and bull-fight fans, is at present drafting a new code of regulations for the national sport of Mexico, and prominently mentioned among the proposed changes is a clause that would require this protection for horses.

Another proposed change is a regulation that would make all Spanish toreros who are fighting for the first time in Mexico fight as novices. This regulation would be a reprisal against a regulation in effect in Madrid, making Mexican bull fighters who appear for the first time in Spain fight as beginners.

A third regulation that is being considered by the commission would fix the weight as well as the age of bulls with which the "star" toreros are fighting. It would prohibit fighting with small bulls.

Italian Panics Caused by Sharp Earth Tremors

TOLMEZZO (Italy) Sept. 7. (AP)—An earthquake shock of three seconds duration, preceded by rumblings, was felt in this northern town in the Udine region shortly before midnight. There was no damage, but considerable panic ensued among the inhabitants of Tolmezzo and near-by villages.

MELFI (Italy) Sept. 7. (AP) — A brief but sharp earthquake shock was felt here at 10:40 a.m. yesterday. Several buildings already damaged by the quake of July 23, were knocked down. Residents rushed to the streets in panic, but no one was injured.

A shock, accompanied by rumblings, was felt at Rionero on Friday night. There was no damage, but the people, fearful of a catastrophe, spent the night outdoors.

BRITISH CONSUL AT BAY CITY TRANSFERRED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Gerald Campbell, British Consul-General in San Francisco since 1922, today confirmed rumors that he has been promoted to the Consul-Generalship of New York City. Campbell has just returned to this city after a visit to London. He will leave shortly to take up his new post. During Campbell's absence rumors of his transfer were prevalent here.

SURVEY SPEEDED UP

NANKING, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—As a means of expediting a survey now under way the Kiangsu provincial government has ordered registration of lands, both farming and nonutilized, to be completed by mid-November.

FARMSTEADING SHOWS DECLINE

Census Reveals Changes in Ten Years

Half of United States Has 216,967 Fewer Farms

Only Six States so Far Have Reported Increases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—The landscape of twenty-three States and the District of Columbia, approximately half of the United States, now lacks 216,967 farmteads that were there in 1920.

The combined 1930 total, as compiled from Census Bureau announcements, was 2,413,901 farms for this area as against 2,630,868 ten years ago.

Only six States thus far reporting showed increases indicating new farm settlers were coming in, and farmer fathers were subdividing with their sons.

INCREASES LIMITED

Those States, with their percentage of increase in number of farms were: South Dakota, 11.4; Nevada, 8.7; Nebraska, 4.1; Minnesota, 3.9; North Dakota, 0.5, and Kansas, 0.5.

Even in these States, the increases were limited to particular localities. Almost half the counties in North Dakota and Kansas showed decreases, and the other three States all showed a considerable number of counties with fewer farm patches in the country-counterpane.

Over all the rest dangled the minus sign which showed farms had been amalgamated, or abandoned, or subdivided into city lots.

DECREASES SHOWN

States thus far showing decreases in number of farms, in order of their percentage of loss were Tennessee, 2.7; Delaware, 3.8; West Virginia, 5.3; Virginia, 8.2; Kentucky, 8.7; Maryland, 9.6; Indiana, 11.2; Vermont, 14.0; Ohio, 14.4; New York, 17.1; New Jersey, 17.3; Georgia, 17.5; Rhode Island, 17.8; Maine, 18.3; Massachusetts, 20.0; Connecticut, 22.8; New Hampshire, 27.8; District of Columbia, 49.0.

The Census Bureau defined a farm as all the land directly farmed by one person, either by his own labor or with assistance.

MYSTERY SHIP CLEW HINTED

her crew being washed overboard save for one who escaped to tell the tale. But—the identity of the survivor was as mysterious as the craft itself and this story was short-lived.

It may be the note found yesterday off the Florida coast is the answer to the twenty-nine-year-old question. Available shipping records do not list the Commodore. Lloyds registry of missing ships contains no information of such craft. Lacking other detail, the theory could be entertained that the Commodore of Philadelphia, in trouble at sea, and believed sinking, was deserted by all except it's master, who conceivably was the "George Everett" who signed the note found at St. Petersburg yesterday.

Perhaps tiring of his two weeks' vigil, he also abandoned ship leaving the schooner to the mercy of the tides.

DRIVERS BACK CAR BACK INTO NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP) — Two young men from St. Louis backed their automobile into a plaza at the southern tip of Manhattan today and took a long breath before posing for pictures. They had backed all the way across the continent to Los Angeles and return. The youths, James B. Hargis and Charles Creighton, started their journey in reverse July 26 at the behest of an oil company seeking to prove something or other about its oil. They had headlights rigged up in the rear of their car and a large mirror in front.

AMERICAN GANGSTER SUES GERMAN POLICE

BERLIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—Jack (Legs) Diamond, who was shipped toward the United States from Hamburg yesterday on the freighter Hannover, took a parting shot at the Prussian police by entering a claim for damages because he was detained. The American gangster charged the matter was "harmful to my credit," and demanded he be compensated for his detention.

HOSPITAL VISITOR BECOMES PATIENT

WACO (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive) When Sank Holstead, deputy County Tax Collector, went out to spend an hour with his wife, ill in a local hospital, he did not expect to join her as a patient there. He sat down in a straight backed chair, tipped it back. A few minutes later he was in the emergency ward having serious head wounds sewed up, the chair having slipped from beneath him.

PHOTOGRAPHS TO BE TOURIST LURE

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—A national photography contest, designed to advertise the natural beauty of Mexico, has been decided upon by the executive committee of the National Tourist Committee. The prize-winning photographs, together with scenes depicting various phases of native life, will be screened. The picture will be talking and musical.

TALE OF SNAKE SOUNDS FISHY

Hunter Can't Produce Reptile He "Shot" With Bird, so Court Orders Fine

MONTGOMERY (N. Y.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive) — His failure to have a dead snake handy cost Eugene Tommone a fine of $27.50 here today. Arraigned before Judge Cox charged with having shot a robin, Tommone pleaded that he had shot a snake and the bullet had continued on, killing the bird. The fine was assessed when he couldn't produce the dead reptile to substantiate his story.

GOV. LONG STILL KEEPS FOES HID

Pair Kidnaped on Order of Louisiana Executive Remain Sequestered

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Mystery still surrounded the whereabouts of Sam Irby and James Terrell, seized and hidden away by State officers as they were planning to file suits last Thursday against Gov. Long, who is running for the United States Senate against Senator Ransdell in Tuesday's Democratic primary election.

Word was passed out by the Long leaders that they were with friends and Gov. Long said at his final New Orleans rally last night he planned to produce Irby and Terrell at his meeting until he learned the New Orleans police were ready to arrest them if they appeared.

Gov. Long spoke tonight at a meeting at Harvey, in Jefferson parish, across the river from New Orleans, and during the day Senator Ransdell made a series of speeches in the Third District in South Louisiana.

POLES RAISE PROTEST ON GERMANS

Aggressiveness Regarding Area Transferred in War Causes Demonstration

POSNAN (Poland) Sept. 7. (AP)—Fifty thousand inhabitants of Western Poland today demonstrated in protest against "German aggressiveness" regarding this area, which was German before the World War and which the Poles now say the Germans are trying to recover.

Representatives of various political parties, including the Government party, the National Democrats and the Central Radical bloc, made speeches and later a procession was formed to hang Gottfried Treviranus, German Minister of occupied regions, in effigy.

Treviranus in recent speeches has been bitter regarding the Polish Corridor and his actions were interpreted in Poland as meaning the territory lost by post-war treaties should be recovered by force if necessary.

CLOUDBURSTS HIT MIDWEST

separated districts around Wenatchee tonight, turning the Columbia River muddy from dirt washed in by feeder streams.

The extent of the damage was not immediately determinable. Motorists reported they found parts of an irrigation flume and other debris in the road in the direction of Moses Coulee, twenty miles southeast of here. Cars were reported stalled between here and Chelan, north of Wenatchee, and a heavy downpour was reported at Monitor, seven miles northeast of here.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—Cold settled over the coast of Yucatan yesterday and heavy rains fell over the gulf coast and as far inland as Mexico City today. The government meteorological service blamed the hurricane which originated in the Caribbean Sea last week and finished up in the Gulf of Mexico.

The rain in the capital was so heavy that streets were flooded in some districts and adobe buildings collapsed.

VISITOR RECOVERS AFTER OPERATION

James P. Crosland, president of the Continental Appraisal Company of New York and father of Alan Crosland, motion-picture director, was reported yesterday as resting comfortably in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital following an operation early yesterday morning for gall stones. The New York man was visiting his son in Beverly Hills when he suffered the attack that made the operation necessary.

DANISH AIR MAIL OFFERED BY FORD

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 7. (AP)—The Ford interests have offered to establish a regular air-mail service between Copenhagen and Esbjerg, using three two-ton Ford planes. Though the Danish government has not yet decided to accept it is reported favorably disposed.

THIRD ANDREE VICTIM FOUND

More Clews to Tragedy of Andree Discovered

Either Blizzard or Poisoning Blamed for Deaths

Memorial Rites for Party will be Postponed

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 7. (AP)—The sealing vessel Isbjoern reported today it believes it has solved the final mystery of the Salomon August Andree polar expedition—what became of the body of the third member.

The sealer, which has on board a party of newspaper men, said it has found a human skeleton believed to be that of Knut Frankel and more of the remnants of the Andree camp on White Island.

Early last month an expedition headed by Dr. Gunnar Horn visited the island on the sealer Bratvaag and found two bodies—those of Dr. Andree and Nils Strindberg. Some bones in a boat at first were believed to be those of Frankel, but later proved to be only a polar bear's bones.

OTHER THINGS FOUND

The Isbjoern party said it has found a number of other things left by the Andree expedition thirty-three years ago, including scientific instruments, weapons, pieces of the basket from the Andree balloon, and Frankel's notebooks. They said the camp was in excellent order and they believe the explorers died from some sudden catastrophe, such as a blizzard.

This news brought word from Oslo that the finding of the additional Andree relics has given a fresh turn to the situation.

SERVICES MAY WAIT

The memorial service for members of the ill-fated expedition probably will be postponed until it is known whether the Swedish warship Svensksund is to await at Tromsoe the arrival of the Isbjoern. The latter cannot reach Tromsoe before next Sunday as it is having motor trouble and can go only at half-speed.

Adolph Hoel, director of the Svalbard office at Oslo, told the Associated Press correspondent there it was odd the bodies of the three explorers were found scattered. He advanced the theory they might have been poisoned from something they ate, for they had plenty of provisions left untouched and also could kill the animals that abound in the North.

QUESTION MARK AT WASHINGTON

House car. Coste, Bellonte, Akerson, Capt. Charles R. Train and Jules Henry climbed in and started to the French Embassy. There they found a crowd that filled a block in both directions, awaiting them. The aviators went into the building without pausing but immediately reappeared on a second-story balcony. The cheering continued without interruption and three encores were necessary to satisfy the spectators.

PLANE ACCESSORIES FACTORY PLANNED

NANKING, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Chinese and American merchants of Shanghai have joined in formation of a company there to manufacture airplane parts and accessories, it is learned at the Ministry of War. Approval has been given by the Aviation Bureau of that Ministry, as well as the Ministry of Industry, Commerce and Labor. The American group is headed by Hugo Reiss and the Chinese interest by Fong Tse Chao.

THIRTEEN-LOOP MARK SET BY GLIDER PILOT

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Lyman Voelpel, member of a flying circus performing at the Indiana State Fair, professed to have established a new world's record for looping the loop in a glider here yesterday, when he made thirteen circles with his motorless biplane. Voelpel is said to have held the former record of twelve loops.

One of the best we have offered

We have sold quite a large number of Re-Perfected Pierce-Arrows, all of which have given great satisfaction. But we have never had a Re-Perfected series 80 sedan which we were so sure would please as the one we are offering at $1050, fully guaranteed and entitled to the same free service that a new straight-eight would receive.

It has new tires all around and the finish is excellent. Every Re-Perfected Pierce-Arrow goes through our own shops so that we can fully guarantee it and service it after it is purchased.

You can safely count on getting from 12 to 15 miles per gallon of fuel and your repairs will be slight indeed. Last January we sold a series 80 Re-Perfected sedan which the owner has driven 16,000 miles since. He tells us that it runs from 14 to 16 miles per gallon and he has not had to spend a cent for repairs or maintenance. He formerly drove a small car. His Re-Perfected Pierce-Arrow serves him better, actually costs him less to operate, and he gets a comfort and a pride of ownership which he never before enjoyed.

ELEVEN STATES VOTE THIS WEEK

Maine will Have Election and Ten Hold Primaries

Louisiana and Colorado in Midst of Hot Campaigns

Michigan Also Excited at Race for Couzens's Seat

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Maine elects tomorrow and ten States hold primaries during the week to choose party candidates for national and State offices.

Voters in the New England State will decide whether Wallace H. White, Republican, or Frank H. Haskell, Democrat, shall represent them in the Senate.

Maryland Democrats at the same time will be renominating Albert C. Ritchie for Governor, while the Republicans are assenting to the choice of Mayor William F. Broening of Baltimore, to oppose the incumbent in November. No Senatorial election falls there this year. National issues have played little part in contests for nomination to the House.

South Carolina Democrats, who dominate, participate in a run-off primary Tuesday which will determine whether Cole L. Blease goes back to the Senate or is replaced by James F. Byrnes, whom he defeated in 1924. Ibra C. Blackwood and Olin D. Johnson, Spartanburg attorneys, are in the run-off for the gubernatorial nomination.

In Louisiana meanwhile will come the answer to "who is stronger, Senator Ransdall or Gov. Long?" They seek the Democratic Senatorial nomination, which means election. The Senator, who came to Washington thirty-one years ago when his tempestuous opponent was 6 years of age has based his campaign on his record. Long has shouted that Ransdall "has been sleeping in Washington for thirty years."

HOT RACE IN COLORADO

With Senator Lawrence C. Phipps retiring, Colorado Republicans vote Tuesday on whether to put up William V. Hodges or George H. Shaw to succeed him. Their contest has excited the State, Phipps supporting Hodges as against other party powers in the State who favor Shaw.

Senator James Couzens has Chase S. Osborn, former Governor, against him for the Republican Senatorial nomination in Michigan Tuesday. The Michigan Anti-Saloon League is friendly to Osborn. Thomas E. A. Weadock is unopposed as the Democrat who will have it out with the winner in November.

OTHER CLASHES

In New Hampshire, Senator Henry W. Keyes and the two Representatives, Fletcher Hale and Edward H. Watson, are unopposed for Republican renomination. Albert W. Noone and Amos N. Blandin seek the Democratic Senatorial candidacy.

Vermont, Arizona and Washington also hold primaries Tuesday, but no Senator's term expires in those States. Three men seek the Republican nomination for Governor in Vermont, W. Arthur Simpson, Stanley C. Wilson and John W. Gordon.

Representative Lewis W. Douglas is unopposed for Democratic renomination to the House from Arizona. Gov. John C. Phillips, Republican, is up for re-election. The Democratic gubernatorial contest is among four candidates.

THREE CONTESTS

Three of Washington's five Representatives have opposition, with John W. Summers, Republican, and Samuel B. Hill, Democrat, unopposed. John F. Miller, after seven terms, has to overcome Ralph H. A. Horr, a wet, to win Republican renomination. Representatives Albert Johnson and Lindley H H. Hadley, Republicans, each have four opponents.

Georgia holds the only primary Wednesday. Senator William J. Harris seeks renomination by the Democrats and is opposed by former Gov. John M. Slaton. To win the nomination amounts to election. Only three of the State's twelve Representatives in the House are opposed. There are five candidates for Governor.

On the 16th inst. the final primaries will be held in Massachusetts, New York and Wisconsin.

FOREIGNERS STUDY GERMAN RAILROADS

BERLIN, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—In the first six months of the current year, 755 foreigners came to Germany to study the system and operating methods of the German Railroad Company. England alone sent 125, ninety-seven came from Hungary, seventy-seven from Russia, seventy-one from France and fifty-seven from Switzerland. Persia and Japan were also among the countries represented. Especial interest was manifested in electrical operation, in switching methods, in new types of locomotives, and particularly in the "psycho-technical" stations for testing the fitness of employees for different branches of railroad work. Two Chinese and one Siamese are now being trained by the German Railroad Company in operating methods.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS TO ATTEND COURSE

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) A two weeks' intensive training course for volunteer Girl Scout leaders from all over the United States will be given in Indianapolis, Ind., from the 16th to 30th inst., under the direction of the personnel division of which Mrs. Nathan Miller of New York Citys is chairman. This course will directly precede the sixteenth annual National Convention of the Girl Scouts, which will be held from October 1 to 4 in Indianapolis.

Once Noted Entertainer Asks Time to Raise $3.50

Financial Embarrassment in New York Means Jail

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) Getting "temporarily embarrassed financially" in New York is likely to mean spending a night in jail when a taxicab driver is concerned—even if one happens to be a former vaudeville and musical-comedy headliner. This, Frances White, of the once-noted Rock and White team, discovered today.

Held five hours this morning in a police station on the complaint of Paul Lake, cab chauffeur, after her failure to pay $3.50 shown on his meter, Miss White pleaded guilty to a disorderly-conduct charge in West Side Court. As she was being led away to be fingerprinted Magistrate Jean Norris learned her real identity, recalled her and suspended sentence, warning her, however, that the bill must be paid.

TIME TO RAISE GIVEN

Once reputed to have earned a salary of $1000 a week, Miss White asked and was granted three days to raise the $3.50.

"I had the taxi man drive me to a Brooklyn address and then back to the Hotel Thorndyke, where I live," she explained. "Then I found I had only 30 cents in my purse. I told the driver I'd pay him later, but he wouldn't hear of it.

"I'd had a few drinks, but I wasn't tight. You see—well, I haven't been working lately. Just a temporary financial embarrassment, and I'm looking for a better break soon."

FORMER PROCEEDINGS

First public notice that the famous song-and-dance artiste, former stage partner of the late William Rock, who "discovered" her on the Pacific Coast, had come to financial straits came on August 10, last, when a Seattle jeweler demanded in Bronx Supreme Court proceedings that she be held in $3000 bail for a $2867 bill for gems he declared she owed him.

Miss White formerly was the wife of Frank Faye, revue producer. They were divorced in 1919. Four years later she was married to Clinton T. Donnelly, a business man, after he had been divorced by Mrs. Hazel Reba Donnelly, who named the dancer as corespondent. She divorced Donnelly in Chicago on February 5, last, charging desertion.

TALKIES TO BE USED AS ADVERTISING

Extensive Use of Sound Films Seen by Bureau of Commerce Official

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) — Widespread use of sound motion pictures as an advertising medium is predicted by Eugene L. Way, of the motion-picture division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

He said that according to reports coming to him definite plans have been made in many cases for the use of the sound pictures to advertise various products while in some instances such films already are being shown.

"Advertisers," he declared, "are becoming conscious of the value of motion pictures as a medium by which to reach a great public. The motion picture is second to none in reaching a tremendous number of people in an emphatic manner, and the numerous advantages in favor of this form of advertising make such action economically practicable."

Mr. Way believes the entertainment value of motion pictures need not be destroyed by the advertising features, and said that the future campaigns of large manufacturers in many lines will present all forms of amusement. In his opinion the bulk of the pictures are not likely to be "educational" in character, but will be good entertainment including cartoons and comedies which will hold eager attention of audiences while the advertising matter is slipped in subtly after the manner of commercial radio broadcasts.

Cotton Picker Tried in Texas

POLK (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive) Since the beginning of the cotton season in this section a new mechanical cotton picker has been in regular operation upon the farm of W. F. Long, near here. Its operation has attracted much attention among the farmers and business men. The machine is the invention of Thomas E. Rice of Des Moines, Iowa. He said that it was the first practical demonstration he had made with it and that it has come up to all requirements. The machine will be manufactured in Des Moines.

"The machine, mounted on a horse-drawn wagon, is capable of picking three to five rows simultaneously, the averages between 1500 and 3000 pounds of cotton daily," according to Rice. "It is operated by a six-horsepower gasoline motor, which creates the necessary vacuum."

FRUIT RATES CASE HEARING TO REOPEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Hearings in the reopened California deciduous fruit case will be held here the 17th to 22nd inst., interested San Francisco parties were advised today. The hearing involves a three-year-old order in which the Interstate Commerce Commission reduced the rate on deciduous fruit from California to eastern points at a saving of $2,700,000 annually to the industry. Last March the Supreme Court ruled the commission was in error but granted an application to reopen the case.

AL SMITH OILS UP HIS TONSILS

He's Going to Do Some Tall Talking for Democrats

Grabbing Senate and House for "Out" Party Sought

Presidential Candidate to Campaign in Wet East

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, who carried the Democratic Presidential banner in 1928, is going to be the hardest-worked man in his party this fall in the effort under way to grab control of the Senate and House from the Republicans.

The New Yorker has placed himself at the disposition of the Democratic National Committee. He is to make personal speaking tours of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and his home State. That much has already been parceled out to him. There also is a probability that he may campaign in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Smith, too, the man who unsuccessfully "bucked" Hoover will devote much of his time to pleading the Democratic cause via the radio, concentrating his efforts during the last week or two of the current campaign. He will be aided in this by John W. Davis and James Cox, both of whom are likewise Democratic Presidential "also-rans" of the vintages of 1924 and 1920, respectively.

TWELVE STATES IN VIEW

Leaders of the party figure that House members can pretty much take care of themselves with the aid of the Congressional Campaign Committee. Consequently the national party men are planning most of their efforts toward wresting control of the Senate from the Republicans. It is learned they have twelve States particularly in view—Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Delaware, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Colorado and South Dakota.

It is in these States that Jouett Shouse and John J. Raskob believe they have the best opportunities. The mere fact that they list only these twelve States must give the Republicans a little solace, for it would look as though they are forsaking several other Commonwealths, where it was figured by observers they also had a chance to win.

RUMORS HEARD

Nebraska and Montana are notable omissions from the States where Democratic partisan ballyhoo is the loudest. There have been rumors around the capital that Gilbert Hitchcock of Nebraska, a figure of proportions in the Senate in war days, former chairman of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee and a man high in party councils, is to be sacrificed by the party's national committee. Ignoring of Nebraska would seem to lend some credence to these whispers.

The Democratic party probably would be better with Senator Norris, "left wing" Republican and leader of the insurgent-Democratic coalition in the Senate. With him out the coalition so badly needed by the Democrats might easily split up. With him gone, the Democrats would be chief losers for it takes the most optimistic of them to assert they can claim a majority in their own right out of the coming elections.

REASON ADVANCED

At all events, the Raskob-Shouse cohorts have made no plans for aiding Hitchcock. Neither has Senator Tydings, in charge of the Democratic Senatorial campaign committee. This may or may not be as significant as it appears. Hitchcock may not want any help from them, for the plain reason that if he is to win from Norris he must rely on votes from the anti-Norris Republicans and lots of them. They might not be forthcoming if the national leaders set up a loud partisan squall in his behalf.

But why Mr. Raskob and Mr. Shouse have no plans for assisting the eminent Tom Walsh in Montana is difficult to explain. Walsh for the first time is understood to have a real fight on his hands to get back to the Senate. It would appear that the Anaconda copper interests, which long have been reputed to control Montana, are ready to ditch Walsh in favor of Judge Albert J. Galen of Helena, the Republican candidate, a man of distinguished record and said to be associated with the company.

Walsh needs help, but it is evident he will have to get along as best he can on his own resources.

GORE VICTORY SOUGHT

In Oklahoma the Democrats look forward confidently to bringing former Senator Gore back to Washington and they will "take it out" on Senator Pine, one of those of independent tastes who failed to "go along" continuously with the coalition of which he was for a time a part. It was the desertion of Pine, Schall of Minnesota and three or four of the Democrats that broke up the combine and apparently they are to be punished.

Schall's opponent for the Senatorship is Einar Hoidale of Minneapolis. The Democrats figure they can beat Schall with him.

Naturally, they will ballyhoo Illinois from boundary to boundary in the interest of James (Ham) Lewis, with a fair chance of success. McMaster of South Dakota, though a dyed-in-the-wool insurgent and supporter of the coalition, is to be battered by the Democratic "big shots."

Former Democratic Senators of the type who always "stayed on the reservation" like Gerry, Rhode Island, and Bayard of Delaware, will be aided, while it is noted that those in some of the other States where there have been deviations from party policies from time to time will be left to shift for themselves.

It also is notable from these present plans of the leaders that Mr. Smith is to confine himself in his personal speaking engagements to the wet States of the East. The plans have all the earmarks of laying the foundation for the big race in 1932.

MOTORCYCLE BECOMES MOTOR BOAT IN WATER

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—An "auto-amphibian" hailed as the latest development in land and sea locomotion, rolled down the sands of Gerrith Beach today and startled early risers by proceeding, with barely a pause, into the water and away over the waves at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour.

A motorcycle on land and a motor boat at sea, the Theresa, as the contrivance was christened, is the invention of Bartolo Sanni of Brooklyn, who, with his backer, Philip Zelin, made the successful test today. The conversion of the vehicle into a sea-going vessel is accomplished almost instantly by an ingenious arrangement of levels which drops a set of pontoons, to which the propeller is attached, just before the vessel enters the water.

RAIL RATES ON CITRUS FRUIT CUT

Texas Shippers Helped Materially by Reduced Freight Tariff

HARLINGEN (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Freight rates on citrus fruits from Texas to points in other southern States have been reduced up to $1 a one hundredweight, according to information received from the Interstate Commerce Commission. Lesser reductions in freight raes on citrus fruits are carried in the new schedule to points east of the Mississippi River and north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers. The new rates will become effective as soon as the new tariff lot shipments will range from $12 now in process of printing is ready for distribution. The savings in car-a car on shipments to eastern points up to $275 a car on shipments to southern points.

An increase is anticipated in the Texas citrus crop this season and the reduced rates will be of vital importance to the citrus industry in the State, shippers here said. Texas shipped 4860 cars of citrus fruit by freight, motor truck and express last season, the motor trucks taking the same rates as the railroads and the express rates being higher.

Lewis, Clark Relics Found

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Workers in a gravel pit on Upper Horse Prairie in Southwestern Montana just have uncovered relics of two stone fireplaces, which are said to have been constructed during the Lewis and Clark expedition in 1804-1806, according to advices received at the general offices of the Northern Pacific a few days ago. The railway company's line follows closely the trail of these intrepid explorers. The ancient masonry was under three feet of gravel. The fireplaces were well constructed. Old-timers of Upper Horse Prairie declare Indians did not construct such fireplaces. They, therefore, believe they were built by Lewis and Clark 125 years ago.

FOR A VERY BUSY WOMAN...

BUSY housewives on shopping excursions prefer the Union Bank. First, because of its "personal service," its friendly way of being helpful, and its desire to serve. And second, because Union Bank is right in the heart of the shopping district, convenient to the big stores, smart shops, and the theatres.

Also, Union Bank is close to all bus lines, street cars, and cheap parking stations. It is out of the traffic congestion and yet handy to almost every section of town.

WASHINGTON POLLS OPEN ON TUESDAY

Five Congressmen will be Nominated by Voters at Primary

SEATTLE (Wash.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Another chapter in Washington State politics will be written Tuesday, with voters going to the polls to nominate five Congressmen, twenty-two State Senators, ninety-seven State representatives, three State Supreme Court justices and numerous minor officers. The general election will be held November 4.

Representative John W. Summers, Walla Walla, who was elected first to Congress in 1918 from the Fourth District, is the only one of the State's five Congressmen without opposition.

Three State Supreme Court justices seeking renomination for six-year terms are unopposed. They are Justice John F. Main, Seattle, Position No. 1; Justice John R. Mitchell, Olympia, position No. 2; and Justice William J. Millard, position No. 3. Former Superior Judge Austin E. Griffiths, who had filed to oppose Justice Millard, withdrew at the last moment.

In five State Senatorial districts there are no contests. Senator Oliver Hall, Colfax, who first served in the Senate in 1895 and who was among the first to outline a definite road policy for the State, is unopposed. Senators Ralph Metcalf, Tacoma, George Murphy, Snohomish, W. J. Knutzen, Mount Vernon, and E. J. Bellingham are the others without opposition.

Nineteen candidates for State Representative are also without contest.

Senator Reba J. Hurn, Spokane, the only woman Senator, faces opposition from Charles H. Voss. Senator Hurn has served since 1923.

Heroic Roles Played Despite Rotund Figure

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (NANA)—A free-lance ghost writer for celebrities who speak over the radio declares that it is one of the rising rackets.

Alexander Woollcott, essayist and dramatic writer, he mentions as one of the leading independents remaining in the radio world. Woollcott, who gets $500 now for thirty minutes of radio talk, turned down an offer of $1000 for ten minutes because he would have been required to make a little set speech that would have offended his aesthetic sense.

Woollcott is rotund of figure and says that he likes the radio because it makes heroic roles possible. On the stage Romeo's lines and his figure would be incompatible. The radio fixes that nicely.

Mechanical Hen Exhibit at Show

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) A mechanical hen, which digests synthetic food and lays synthetic eggs, will make its premier appearance in the United States at the St. Louis National Poultry Show, to be held in the arena group of buildings October 11-19, next, in connection with the National Dairy Exposition, it has been announced by Charles Key Cullom, manager of the poultry show.

Described as the "robot egg factory," the mechanism contains a concealed talking machine which explains the demonstration and the successive stages in the formation of an egg. It was shown at the fourth World's Poultry Congress in London recently. The "hen" stands six feet in height.

This year's poultry show, Cullom said, is expected to attract more than 3000 entries. Cash prizes will total $8900 and cups and ribbons also will be awarded.

Governor Says State on Crest

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Gov. Young has called upon citizens of California to recognize the importance of Admission Day, celebrated Tuesday, and to observe it appropriately. In his proclamation the Governor said:

"This year, more than ever before, we have cause for thanksgiving and rejoicing on Admission Day, because no State has shown such remarkable strides in recent years as California and no State has a greater destiny clearly marked before it than California. Economically we are favored among the States; in population we have shown the greatest growth of all the States and as a people we are enjoying a period of peace and good will which speaks well for the happiness and well-being of the entire citizenry."

ROAD MAY BUILD IN LASSEN PARK

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Rumors that the Western Pacific Railroad was contemplating the development of Lassen Park on a large scale by building hotels and resorts were strengthened here today by H. M. Adams, Western Pacific president. It was admitted by Adams that engineers of his company had been surveying the park with a view of establishing such hotels and resorts and that such development might be attempted.

Senator Watson Challenges Party on Criticisms

Democrats Asked to Define Policy If in Power

Debenture and Tariff Talk Stand Demanded

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Senator James Watson, Republican leader of the Senate, is leaving for his home in Indiana tomorrow to take part in the Senatorial and Congressional elections. Today he made a demand on the Democratic party that it issue a definite statement as to what it would do if it controlled Congress on the two important measures on which the Democrats are basing their present campaign — farm relief and the latest revision of the tariff.

Senator Watson said:

"Mr. Gouett Shouse in opening the campaign on behalf of Mr. Raskob's organization reiterates that the Democratic party supported the debenture as a measure of farm relief.

"Will Mr. Shouse state specifically that if a Democratic House and Senate are elected they will pass the debenture?

"Mr. Shouse has been prolific in his criticism of the tariff bill. Let him state specifically that if a Democratic House and Senate are elected they will at once proceed to revise the tariff. If not, for what purpose are they making these vicious assaults?

"Let Mr. Shouse say to the country whether his party will reduce the tariff on long-staple cotton, china clay, graphite, manganese, tomatoes, onions, vegetables, eggs, wheat, corn, meat, dairy products, soy beans, peanuts, vegetable oils or shoes. Also let him inform us whether the Democratic party will undertake to abolish the flexible clause of the tariff and the authority of the commission to revise the rates. If not, will it undertake to modify them, and if so, how?"

GREENEVILLE (Tenn.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Three Mays brothers are members of the Greene County Court. Charles Rome and Troy have been elected magistrates.

CAFE BANDITS TAKE GUNS AWAY FROM POLICEMEN

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Two enterprising bandits entered the soft-drink parlor of David Rynn this afternoon and encountered Rynn, Gust Dulun, a patron and Policeman John Donlon, who was off duty for half an hour. One bandit, waving a pistol, forced the three to elevate their hands, while the other took $128 and a watch from Rynn, $18 and a watch from Dulun and his heavy service revolver from the policeman.

While the robbery was in progress a startled youth hastened to Policeman Stephen Howard, walking beat near by and told him he was wanted in Rynn's saloon. Policeman Howard stepped inside, faced two revolvers and elevated his hands. The bandits unloaded his revolver and that of Policeman Donlon, transferred the cartridges to their pockets, tossed the empty revolvers back on the radiator and walked out.

HURRICANE TOLL GROWS RAPIDLY

Estimate of Santo Domingo Dead Now 4000

SANTO DOMINGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—This old city of the New World, which basked calmly in the warm tropical sun of last Sunday, today spent another period of horror in seeking out the bodies of Wednesday's hurricane dead and burying or incinerating those already recovered.

Troops stood sternly on guard over the food and medical supplies rushed here as relief workers sought under masses of wood, stone and mortar for those who are swelling the great toll of dead.

When a body is found a pistol shot is fired into the air, and the shots are heard frequently. So far the death toll is estimated at 4000, with a prediction the number will be increased when all are accounted for.

Meanwhile the relief expeditions from Porto Rico, Cuba and Haiti have taken charge and are feeding the hungry and treating the ill.

WORLD LEAGUE ENVOYS GATHER

Geneva Hums with Debates on Nation's Problems

European Union Proposition Held Premature

German Demand for Treaty Revision Menacing

GENEVA, Sept. 7. (AP)—Geneva hummed with discussion of international questions tonight as political leaders began arriving for the League of Nations Council, beginning Monday, and the annual League Assembly session, which convenes Wednesday.

Premier Briand's European union plan, the British administration of Palestine and German agitation for treaty revision were the most-discussed topics.

The Briand project will be debated Monday afternoon when the French Minister reports on his survey of possibilities. The consensus here seems to be that in view of reservations by several governments the European union scheme will be given to a special commission for another year's study.

THEORY APPLAUDED

While the principle of Briand's idea was applauded almost universally throughout Europe, Great Britain, Italy, Germany and Switzerland have advanced criticisms or suggestions indicating the time has not yet arrived for full collaboration through a European federation.

The question of British administration of Palestine, involving discussions of responsibility for the Jewish-Arab troubles a year ago, and the nature of a future policy for this Holy Land of three religions, will go before the Council Monday morning. Criticisms of British management by the League of Nations mandates commission and Foreign Minister Henderson's tart reply have aroused wide comment.

BRITISH STEWARDSHIP

The League will try to adjust this matter. Mr. Henderson and Hjalmar Procope, Foreign Minister of Finland, who acted for the committee on mandates, have already conferred on the subject. It is understood tonight that M. Procope's report to the Council will be conciliatory, without rejecting the observations made by the mandates body. Mr. Henderson is expected to follow M. Procope with a brief outline of the proposed British Palestine policy for the future. Both Mr. Henderson and M. Procope are expected to suggest that the Council turn its back on post mortems and start working out a program to advance the happiness and prosperity of all the peoples of Palestine.

MEXICAN STUDENTS ABUSE FOREIGNERS

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—Several hundred students of the National University today heaped verbal abuse on Rear-Admiral Edward H. Campbell of the United States Navy and Gen. Jose Millan Astray, former commander of the Spanish Foreign Legion, who happened to be visiting the capital at the same time. The students paraded from the university to the Plaza Santo Domingo, where their orators attacked Admiral Campbell for landing American troops in Nicaragua and Gen. Millan Astray for the attacks he led on the Riff warriors in Morocco.

ODD FELLOW DEAD AT CENTURY MARK

ILION (N. Y.) Sept. 7. (AP)—William James Grimes, 100 years of age, credited with being the oldest Odd Fellow in the world, died at his home here today after an illness of about two weeks.

Fraternal brothers paid tribute to Mr. Grimes on his 100th birthday, May 6, last, on which occasion he received a letter of congratulation from President Hoover.

FOURTEEN WORDS WILL $250,000

Chicago Attorney Leaves His Estate to Widow in Record Instrument

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The shortest will in the history of the Probate Court here was filed today. The document, consisting of fourteen words leaves the $250,000 estate of Richard Bentley, an attorney, to his widow, Elizabeth King Bentley. Mr. Bentley died August 1. The will, drawn in 1904, reads: "I will all my property to my wife and appoint her executrix without bond."

STRINGS ON RELEASE OF AMERICANS

Pair Held by New Regime Given Freedom, but will be Tried for "Crimes"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—The State Department was advised today that Capt. Harold Crow and Charles Sutton, American citizens held prisoners in Peru since the overthrow of the Leguia government in that country, have been ordered released.

A dispatch to the department from American Ambassador Dearing in Lima, dated yesterday, said the release of the Americans has been directed by the President of the Peruvian Junta but that they are still liable to legal proceedings on such charges as may be made against them.

Press dispatches last night carried an announcement by the American Ambassador that he had conferred with officials of the new regime and had obtained assurances that the Americans will be freed if they agree to stand trial in the courts.

Capt. Crow formerly was a member of the American naval mission in Peru but had resigned and taken over the directorship of the Peruvian air service when the Leguia regime was overthrown.

ROAD SESSION HELD GOOD FOR BUSINESS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—That the sixth International Road Congress, to be held here October 6 to 11, will exert a beneficial influence upon business, not only in the United States but throughout the world, was the opinion expressed by Roy D. Chapin, president of the American organizing commission in discussing the coming sessions at a meeting of members of the commission who are making arrangements for the parley. The congress is being held at the invitation of the United States government under the auspices of the permanent International Association of Road Congresses, Paris.

PERUVIAN DICTATOR WOULD BE FRIENDLY

LIMA (Peru) Sept. 7. (AP)—Today's El Comercio editorially discussing the attitude of Lieut.-Col. Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, head of the military junta, toward the United States, says the head of the government told a correspondent the country will entertain most friendly relations with the United States "provided the United States gives Peru the treatment deserved by all free and independent nations and provided Peru is treated as an equal."

WAR OUTLAWRY RULES OFFERED

International Law Meeting Debates Proposals

Neutrality Agreement Would Penalize Aggressor

Right of Contraband Search Denial Suggested

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Proposals to strengthen the covenant of the League of Nations and the Briand-Kellogg pact in their outlawry of war by allying neutral nations against a belligerent country today caused dissension among delegates to the conference of the International Law Association.

Dr. Thorvald Boye, Judge of the Supreme Court of Norway, advanced an amendment to a draft convention on the rights and duties of belligerents toward neutral property at sea specifying that noncombatant nations would deny the aggressor the right to search merchant vessels for contraband. The proposal was defeated by a close vote.

This proposal was considered in connection with a second resolution, adopted by the neutrality committee of the association in May, decreeing that among signatories of the Briand-Kellogg agreement a neutral state which continued friendly intercourse with an aggressive nation would violate international law. The resolution was tabled to await the next meeting of the conference.

Edward A. Harriman, a member of the American section, opposed the resolutions and declared their adoption would eliminate the possibility of the proposed convention being accepted by the United States.

The draft convention was approved substantially as submitted by the committee. It increases the protection given to passengers on neutral ships and protects noncontraband goods aboard a ship carrying contraband cargo. An article denying to belligerents the right to confiscate neutral property at sea was eliminated.

Raid on Gunman Fatal for Pair

DETROIT, Sept. 7. (AP)—Detective Edward Barney of the Detroit Police Department and an unidentified gunman were wounded fatally in a gun battle here this afternoon. The dead gunman later was identified tentatively as Leo Genova.

Police were sent to a residence near the suburb of Highland Park, after receiving word that the place was a "gangster hangout."

Barney, only recently appointed a detective, was eager to show he merited promotion, according to other officers, and rushed the rear door of the house alone. After he entered shots were heard. Detectives who followed him in found Detective Barney and Genova lying on the floor in dying condition.

POOR FARM THREAT CAUSE OF SUICIDE

MARYSVILLE, Sept. 7. (AP)—Because his son said he would send him to a poor farm, Frank Sullivan, 65 years of age, ended his life by taking poison in an auto camp here today. A suicide note said his daughter-in-law had driven him from his son's home and his son threatened to send him to the poor farm. "I had rather be dead," he wrote. Authorities have been unable to locate members of his family.

Don't Let Those Little Bald Spots Become Big Ones

See Thomas' at Once

Almost before you know it, those little bald spots on the (1) frontal, (2) crown or (3) temple may become large bare areas—unless you do something NOW to stop your abnormal hairfall at these points, and promote natural hair growth. The Thomas' scalp treatment presents a dependable method of keeping those little bald spots from becoming big ones. Thomas' treatment not only stops falling hair, but it promotes a healthy scalp condition, conducive to the growth of hair.

Twenty or thirty years ago it was almost impossible to prevent baldness. Today, the modern, scientific Thomas' treatment has replaced old-fashioned, haphazard methods with modern scientific precision. This reliable, proved treatment actually goes to the basic source of your own specific scalp trouble—and by overcoming the cause, results in restoring the scalp to a normal healthy condition. In this manner Thomas' scalp treatment acts as Nature's assistant and makes it possible for hair to grow naturally where it has been hindered by some abnormal scalp condition. Dandruff infection is relieved and hairfall stops.

The Thomas' are reliable scalp specialists. They will tell you frankly if your trouble does not come within their scope of treatment—and they accept for treatment only those for whom they conscientiously feel they can produce the anticipated results. This code of ethics has resulted in their growth to a chain of more than 45 offices, from coast to coast, in fifteen years.

No charge is made for a complete Thomas' scalp examination at any time. Come into the nearest office today and learn the truth about your hair and scalp.

INANCE PLANS FOR CHINA TOLD

'orld War Consortium Still Alive but Quiescent

ternal Troubles Then as Now Preclude Loans

resident Wilson's Fair Play Demand Related

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—he complete story of efforts made 1918 to financially rehabilitate hina as an ally in the war against rmany was made public for the st time today by the State Dertment.

ecrets of confidential notes and moranda describing the State partment's attempt to create an ernational, four-power banking nsortium for this purpose are conined in a 1000-page volume coming for the first time United ates foreign relations correondence for 1918.

WAR PAPERS DELETED

All papers relating directly to the orld War, however, are deleted m the bulky volume. Some of e correspondence printed had en published previously.

Initiation of the eventually sucsful move to create a banking nsortium between the United ates, Great Britain, France and pan—a consortium still alive toy but which is believed never to ve made a loan—was launched ne 20, 1918, by Robert Lansing, en Secretary of State.

The next day President Wilson ve his consent to the plan, but verely condemned a former six-power consortium which had included also Germany and Russia and from which the United States had withdrawn.

WILSON'S PROVISO

In a note believed hitherto unpublished Wilson said:

"I take it for granted that everything necessary will be done to protect the Chinese government against such unconscionable arrangements as were contemplated by the former consortium, because I am afraid it is not less, but rather more likely that the Chinese government would permit unfair advantage to be taken of it at the present time of stress than formerly."

Other correspondence showed that China then, as now, was in a state of revolution, with both northern and southern factions opposing the central government.

LITIGATION COSTS CUT IN NEW DES MOINES COURT

DES MOINES, Sept. 7. (AP)—Petty money disputes are settled quickly and cheaply in the municipal "conciliation court" directed by Judge H. H. Sawyer here.

Cases involving less than $100 are settled before a "conciliator" for a fee of $1. There are no lawyers, no cross-examinations and lengthy court records, and petty cases no longer clutter dockets of higher courts.

The disputants "lay their cards on the table" while the conciliator explains legal points and suggests a settlement. The parties either reach an agreement between themselves or go to a higher court.

Children Find Teacher's Body

GREELEY (Colo.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Children playing today in the bleachers at Jackson athletic field came upon a grewsome find—the body of Miss Alice Johnson, 39-year-old English professor at the Colorado State Teachers' School, who had been missing since Friday night. She had shot herself just below the heart.

She leaves two sisters, Miss Frankie Johnson of Pasadena, Cal., and Miss Sue M. Johnson of Memphis, Tenn.; a brother and two adopted children.

SOVIET EXECUTES SIX FOR FOOD CONSPIRACY

MOSCOW, Sept. 7. (AP)—The O.G.P.U., (soviet secret police,) announced tonight six persons were shot today and others were sentenced to imprisonment for attempting to disrupt the food market by acquiring large quantities from government shops under false pretenses and reselling the food privately at high prices.

The O.G.P.U. said this had broken up the ring.

TWENTY-TWO ESCAPE PRISON IN MEXICO

HUEJOTZINGO (Puebla, Mex.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Twenty-two prisoners today overpowered the guards of their jail, seized the rifles stored in the prison and terrorized the town by looting houses and shooting in the air. They fled to the hills and troops were rushed in pursuit.

RANCHER FOUND DEAD

LIVERMORE (Cal.) Sept. 7. (AP)—A. E. Fischer, 67-year-old Hayward rancher for whom 250 men had been searching, was found dead today in the Indian Creek district eight miles south of Sunol.

Editor Slain in Holy Land Riot

HAIFA (Palestine) Sept. 7. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency says Jamal Dakhri, editor of the Christian Arab newspaper, Alsamer, was killed, and six other persons were injured in a fight between Moslems and Catholics in the streets of Haifa today.

The agency said the Moslems and Catholics had been disputing over the rights to a cemetery for some time, and that Catholic workers who attempted to build a structure in the cemetery today were attacked by a crowd of Moslems.

Child Drowns in Wine Crock

PORT HURON (Mich.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Kenneth R. Wisson, 18 months of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wisson, drowned early today in a fifteen-gallon crock of grape wine in his parents' home. The wine, which was fermenting, was placed in the large crock, which was covered with a piece of cloth. The child toddled into the room, climbed over the crock's edge and fell into it head downward.

Lightning Kills Two at Tucson

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Lightning killed Ramon Garcia and Secondino Cocio, cowboys, here this afternoon. Riding together, they were dropped instantly, both their horses being killed also.

It was the second and third deaths caused by lightning here in two weeks. An Indian was killed two weeks ago.

RIFLE USED AS CLUB KILLS DEER HUNTER

MIDDLETOWN (Cal.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Stanley Bevans, 38 years of age, Middletown, tried to knock apples from a tree with his rifle. The gum discharged and fatally wounded him. The accident occurred near here yesterday when he and friends who were starting on a deer hunting trip passed through an abandoned orchard.

Y.M.C.A. WORKER PASSES

URBANA (O.) Sept. 7. (AP)—B. D. Edwards, 51 years of age, president of the National Council of Education Secretaries of the Y.M.C.A., and former general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Duluth, Minn., Detroit and Oklahoma City, died here today.

PIONEERS HELP IN FAIR CLOSING

State's Annual Exposition Has Glorious Finale

Early Settlers Honored and View Familiar Scene

Los Angeles Man Proves to be Oldest Present

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—California's seventy-sixth annual State fair came to a glorious close today to honor pioneers, living and dead, whose deeds of valor and dogged preseverance put the State on the high road to progress back in the days of gold.

Between thirty and forty men and women, who are among the eighty surviving California pioneers of 1850 and earlier, accepted the hospitality of the State fair directors to attend the exposition, which they have seen grow from a community affair into one of the largest fairs in the United States.

And just to make the boys and girls of yesteryear feel right at home the directors arranged to have ox teams and covered wagons drawn along the track in front of the grand stand and around the grounds. Many of the honored guests came to California in just such vehicles.

The oldest of the pioneers invited to the fair is George W. Root of Los Angeles, 93 years of age, who arrived in the Golden State, October 12, 1849. Anther pioneer of '47 is J. E. Pleasant of Orange, who was 10 when his parents brought him to California during the gold rush.

The $1000 fraternal and patriotic drill team competition, in which a score of teams participated, and a polo game between Sacramento and Menlo Park teams were other features of the afternoon program.

Two Lose Lives in Lake Tahoe

RENO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Lola Jean Tuff, 5-year-old daughter of Robert Tuff, formerly connected with the Chicago offices of the Radio Corporation of America, and Chester Harvey, 24, were drowned at Lake Tahoe last night when a canoe in which they were riding capsized.

Mrs. Dorothy Johnson of Reno, and Tuff, who were also in the canoe, escaped death but neither could explain the cause for the accident. The little Tuff girl's body drifted ashore and the body of Harvey was recovered shortly after midnight from eight feet of water.

NEW JERSEY PILOT PERISHES IN CRASH

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7. (AP)—John O. Donaldson, Newark (N. J.) pilot, plunged to his death at the Municipal Airport here today a short time after the two-day race meet held under the auspices of the American Legion had come to a close. He died in a hospital less than an hour after his plane crashed a short distance from the field.

OUT OF FRYING PAN INTO FIRE

Marriage Wins "Freedom" for Jailed Youth in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Through the bars of the first district jail in Mexico City Rafael Zepeda and his sweetheart, Dolores Diaz, were married. Zepeda was on the inside, being held on a statutory charge.

By consenting to the unusual marriage ceremony, Rafael secured his freedom. Dolores, beaming and happy, rushed him his release ticket soon afterward.

Missing Man Carried Cash

BERKELEY, Sept. 7. (AP)—Edwin P. Hodel, missing amnesia victim, carried $350 which his wife had given him for safe keeping when he disappeared last Thursday, Mrs. Hodel told searchers today.

She collapsed when 150 Boy Scouts and officers returned from a three-day search covering the area from Berkeley Hills to Wildcat Canyon without finding a trace of him.

Fifty Arrested in Chicago Raid

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Raiding squads led by Capt. Michael Delaney early today swooped down on play spots of Chicago's art colonists and arrested fifty persons described as of high-school age and for the most part members of wealthy local families.

The Kalico Kat and the Entre-Nous were two of the places raided. After the raids, Capt. Delaney expressed himself as amazed at the "unwholesome, un-American and degrading atmosphere" in which the youths were found.

STATE STATUES TO BE UNVEILED

Junipero Serra and Thomas Starr King Honored

California Niches in Capitol Will Be Filled

Fifteen States Have Not Used Their Space

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Unveiling ceremonies for California's contribution of two statues to the National Statuary Hall in the Capitol probably will be held shortly after Congress reassembles in December, Charles E. Fairman, art curator of the Capitol, says.

The California statues to be enrolled in the National Hall of Fame will be those of Junipero Serra and Thomas Starr King. Serra was the missionary who in the early days of the West established the first chain of missions along the Mexican border. Thomas Starr King was a Unitarian minister, who, during the Civil War period, pleaded the cause of the Union. He is credited with persuading the State that its duty lay with the Federal government and the California contributions, particularly of money, were a considerable factor in the ultimate success of the Union Army.

These two statues will make up California's quota in Statuary Hall and the State will be the twenty-seventh in the Union to take full advantage of the space allotted it. At the present time fifteen States remain without any representation in the hall, while seven have placed one of their two statues.

According to Mr. Fairman, Tennessee, now represented by a statue of Andrew Jackson, is planning in the near future to install a statue of John Sevier, an early Governor, while Maine is preparing to place a statue of Hannibal Hamlin, Vice-President during the first Lincoln administration, in the gallery.

The program for the unveiling of the California statues has not been made up, but it is believed probable that Senator Shortridge will deliver the principal address.

Cattle Raising Ousts Cotton

SEALE (Ala.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Cotton has lost its place as the "money crop" on a large Alabama plantation.

Beef cattle provide the cash for operating the 1800-acre Bradley Nuckolls farm near here. Cotton formerly was grown on the farm, but cattle are found more profitable. Hogs also are raised for the market.

Enough feed for the cattle and hogs is raised, with some to spare to the markets. Oats, peas, vetch, velvet beans, peanuts, artichokes and potatoes are the principal crops.

Seals and Cherubs Split Bargain Bill

SERAPH RALLY COPS NIGHTCAP

Angels Score Three Runs in Seventh to Win, 5-4

San Francisco Nabs Opener by Score of 7 to 5

Crippled Cherubs Drop Odd Game of Series

BY BOB RAY

Jack Lelivelt's crippled Cherubs hung on to second place in the standings yesterday by breaking even with San Francisco in the Sabbath twin bill. After the Seals had scored two runs in the ninth to cop the opener, 7 to 5, the battling Angels put on a three-run rally in the final inning to capture the nightcap, 5 to 4.

WES SCHULMERICH.

Both games provided the customers with quite a few thrills, with the Seraphs giving the home fans something to cheer about when they came from behind to pull the second tilt out of the fire. Going into the seventh two runs behind and apparently beaten, the Angels started their winning rally to chase Southpaw Artie McDougal. Pudgy Gould replaced him and pitched to one batter, Wes Schulmerich, who drove a sizzling single to center that brought across two runs and broke up the contest.

The Seals had taken a three-run lead and chased Angie Walsh in the first inning, but Carrell Yerkes stopped them when he got on the mound. The Seraph southpaw got credit for the victory and started the winning rally with a single in the seventh.

In the opener Curtis Davis stag-

HOLLYWOOD AND REDS SPLIT TWO

Page Hurls Victory in Opener, 13 to 2, Sheiks Lose Second, 3 to 1

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—(Exclusive)—Hollywood and the Missions broke even in the two games played this afternoon, Hollywood winning the first one by a score of 13 to 2, and the Missions winning the second one, which was a seven-inning affair, by a score of 3 to 1.

MICKEY HEATH.

Hollywood won the series, six games out of seven, and won twelve of the sixteen games the two teams played in the last two weeks.

Ted Pillette started the first game for the Missions and he was no puzzle. He was nicked for four runs in the first inning, four more in the sixth, two in the seventh and then he was lifted and Lloyd Johnson finished. Page hit Johnson for a triple in the eighth and scored on an infield out and Carlyle and Heath, both left-handed hitters, smote home runs in the ninth.

Page pitched a swell game for Hollywood. Only one of the two runs made by the Missions was earned. Page allowed only four hits and did not allow a hit from the second until the ninth.

In the first inning Hill was walked and was forced at second by Lee. Brannan and Barbee sin-

The Polo Test

UNLESS there is an unexpected turn of affairs in general, the British will lose another hard-fought polo game on Wednesday and the Westchester Cup will remain practically where it is now for another two or three years. The second test may be even closer and fought out with even greater dash and gallantry, but the American four seem to have just enough superior stuff in the way of pony speed, harder hitting and team play to win again, no matter how bravely the invading side may fight back.

ERIC PEDLEY

And no one can say the British didn't fight back in Saturday's opening test at Meadowbrook before the greatest crowd that ever saw a polo match, anywhere or any time. For six periods they held a better all-around team to almost even terms, close enough to keep the excitement popping in the two packed stands. But not even the desperation of a stout defense could hold Pedley, Hopping, Hitchcock and Guest at bay all afternoon and the continued hammering finally broke through with something of a crash. Still, the hammering process had to be a continued thing to put the game on ice, as there was never a moment when the invading side slackened its pace or showed any sign of discouragement.

Men and Ponies

Taking up the ponies first—the United States mounts were not always faster, but they had greater speed a good part of the afternoon. In certain periods there was no difference. In others there was a decided difference, as any one could see in the longer rides up and down field where two might start on even terms for the rolling, bounding white ball. This extra speed was enough to make some difference at least, granted the human material was about the same.

There were occasions where the United States players picked up from ten to fifteen yards in the longer sprints to save a goal or keep an attack under way. So far as the human material was concerned, the United States was in greater average strength. There was no one on the United States side above the play of Roark and Lacey in this first match. The two British veterans came early to the heights and held them throughout. It is certain the able Eric Pedley has had few No. 4's to give him the battle that Humphrey Guinness gave him, especially after the start.

But when you match both teams man for man, the United States was slightly higher in a total summing up, and this was enough to carry the day.

You could match Roark and Lacey against the two best on the American side, but for all-around effectiveness you could not quite match Balding and Guinness with the other two. Not quite. Capt. Roark played a whale of a game

UPLIFTERS WIN OVER CAVALRY

Marsh and Pedley Star as Locals Score 9-to-8 Polo Victory

Featured by the fine scoring play of Hale Marsh and the all-around efficiency of Lionel Pedley, the Uplifters' polo four scored a 9-to-8 victory over the Eleventh Cavalry team before a huge crowd in Santa Monica Canyon yesterday afternoon.

LIONEL PEDLEY

Marsh, who hails from Santa Barbara, scored four goals and conducted himself as a real polo player at all times. Pedley was right behind him with three tallies, while Dr. Harry Wilson played a bang-up defensive game and Will Rogers, Jr., came through with two goals at opportune moments.

The largest crowd that ever saw a game at the Uplifters' field turned out for yesterday's affair which was nip and tuck from start to finish, the cavalry riders making a determined bid for victory by scoring two goals in the final chukker. The two teams will play again next Sunday.

Lieut. Thornbaugh, playing at No. 2 for the visitors, tied Marsh for high-point honors during the day, banging over four tallies. Maj. D.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO KNOW ABOUT FOOTBALL?

Next Thursday night Paul Lowry and Braven Dyer of The Times Sports staff will inaugurate a unique radio feature—The Los Angeles Times Sports Edition of the Air. It will be presented to you over the Don Lee station KHJ, from 9:30 to 10 o'clock. The opening broadcast will bring to you a critical analysis and up to the minute survey of the football situation as it exists in the Pacific Coast Conference. Teams will turn out on the 15th inst. and you will want to know what the prospects are for your favorite eleven. If you have any questions to ask pertaining to football send them along, addressed to the Los Angeles Times Sports Edition of the Air. Lowry and Dyer will answer them. Perhaps you want to know who is the best punter returning for action this fall. Maybe you desire the opinion of these two gentlemen on the coming stars of the season. Are you interested in how the new shift rule will affect the Trojans? Do you know that Nibs Price is planning a new offense at California? In this day and age most football fans are well posted—but not until after the season has started. Lowry and Dyer have the dope now and all you have to do is dial in on KHJ Thursday night to get it. Don't forget—if you have any questions pertaining to football send them along immediately as those first received will stand the best chance of being answered Thursday night. There's only a half hour allotted the two sports authorities and no doubt they will have to talk swiftly to answer all the questions.

Joe Hauser Ties Ruth's Homer Mark

BALTIMORE, Sept. 7. (AP)—Joe Hauser, first baseman of the Baltimore Orioles of the International League, today drove out his sixtieth home run of the season and equalled the world record chalked up in 1927 by Babe Ruth of the New York Yankees. The blow came in the fifth inning of the first game of a double bill with Jersey City. The bases were empty and no one was out.

Pirates Take Slugfest from Loop Leaders

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Paced by the "Poison Twins," Lloyd and Paul Waner, who have been particularly poisonous to the Cubs, the Pittsburgh Pirates won the final game of the season from the National League champions today, 9 to 7.

PAUL WANER

A three-run rally off Guy Bush and Bud Teachout in the eighth inning, gave the Pirates their margin after the Cubs had come from behind to assume the lead. Paul Waner notched a pair of triples and propelled in four runs, while Lloyd drove in another pair. Each scored once.

Home runs by Kelly, Stephenson and Bell kept the Cubs in the game, but the pitching failed to stem the Pittsburgh finish. Osborn lasted less than an inning, and was followed by Bush, Teachout and Charlie Root. Spencer started for the Pirates, but was batted out and was replaced by Charlie Wood, who gained credit for the victory, although Brame finished.

The Pirates outscored the Cubs, 13 to 10, in season play. Score:

Haines, Rhem Turn in Wins for Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals were within two and a half games of the league-leading Chicago Cubs tonight by virtue of a twin win from the Cincinnati Reds, 11 to 6 and 4 to 2, this afternoon, while the Pittsburgh Pirates outlasted the Bruins.

FLINT RHEM.

The double victory made it eleven out of eleven for the Cards over the Reds at Sportsman Park and nineteen out of twenty-two for the season. The Birds open in New York Tuesday.

Both Rhem and Haines were effective today, Rhem allowing twelve scattered hits in the first game, while his team-mates were clubbing three Red pitchers. Haines was touched for five blows in the nightcap. Scores:

Helene Madison Cracks Two Swimming Records in Far West Championships at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Helene Madison, sensational Seattle 17-year-old swimmer, bettered two records today in the closing events of the Far West swimming championships under the auspices of the Pacific Association of the A. A. U.

Miss Madison, who holds all of the women's free-style records, bettered the mark in the 200-meter event over the long course with a time of 2m. 36 4-10s. The previous low mark, an unofficial one, was 2m. 41 4-10s., held by Albina Osipowich of Massachusetts.

HELENE MADISON

Later in an exhibition Miss Madison swam the 300-meter event in 4m. 8s., bettering the record held by Martha Norelius, New York, by 10 2-5s. The event was over the 100-meter course.

The Seattle swimmer easily outswam the field in the 200-meter event, leading Noreen Forbes, Los Angeles, competing unattached, by more than fifteen yards. Katherine Hartwell of the Western Women's swimming Club, was third.

Austin Clapp, Hollywood Athletic Club, won the men's 400-meter free-style championship in the good time of 5m. 14 6-10s., defeating Ted Wiget, Jr., 16-year-old swimmer of the Oakland Athens Club by ten feet. Buster Olds, 16, unattached, was third.

Clapp was also a member of the Hollywood 800-meter relay team, which took that event in the time

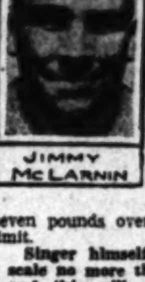
M'LARNIN AND SINGER TO MIX ON THURSDAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Boxing's faithful get an opportunity to watch Al Singer in the ring this week for the first time since he won the lightweight title from Sammy Mandell, but the Bronx idol will leave his crown at home in cold storage.



JIMMY McLARNIN

Singer meets Jimmy McLarnin, smiling Celt from Vancouver, in a ten-round bout in the Yankee Stadium Thursday night at 142 pounds, seven pounds over the lightweight limit.

Singer himself probably will scale no more than 135 pounds and this will concede about seven pounds to one of the hardest punchers in the ring, irrespective of weight.

As a matter of fact, experts have been wondering just why Singer's handlers signed for the match. McLarnin, a deadly puncher with either hand, has not been beaten since he took a trouncing, in fifteen rounds, from Sammy Mandell, the then lightweight title-holder, here two years ago. As a welterweight he has yet to meet defeat. Singer, of course, will risk nothing more than his reputation, but it seems to some observers he is taking a terrible chance in mixing with McLarnin a few weeks before his championship bout with Tony Canzoneri.

Joe Dundee of Baltimore, former welterweight champion, battles Ben Jeby, New York, in an eight-rounder of the same card. Armando Aguilar, Chile, and Lew Paluso, New York, and Nel Tarleton, England, and Jimmy Slavin, New York, are to meet in other eight-rounders.

Chicago and Newark offer the only other attractions of widespread interest. At the Chicago Stadium, Thursday night, Billy Petrolle vs. Tony Canzoneri, New York lightweight, in the feature ten-rounder of a benefit show for Patricia Harmon, daughter of the late Paddy Harmon. Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, (Wash.) light-heavyweight, takes on King Levinsky of Chicago, in another ten-rounder, and Ernie Peters and Harry Fierro, Chicago bantamweights, clash in an eight-rounder.

At Newark tomorrow night, Primo Carnera will try to add another knockout victory to his long string in a ten-rounder with Pat McCar-

Diegel Begins Defense of Professional Golfers' Association Championship T

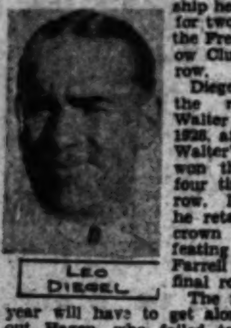
Agua Caliente Pro Seeking Third Championship

Noted Stars Qualify Over Fresh Meadow Links

Walter Hagen Missing from Brilliant Field

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—Leo Diegel begins defense of the Professional Golfers' Association championship he has held for two years at the Fresh Meadow Club tomorrow.



LEO DIEGEL

Diegel stopped the reign of Walter Hagen in 1926, after "Sir Walter" had won the title four times in a row. Last year he retained the crown by defeating Johnny Farrell in the final round.

The field this year will have to get along without Hagen, who failed to qualify and a few other notables, but most of the other top-notchers are entered, including Farrell, Gene Sarazen, over whose course the championship will be played; Horton Smith, Al Espinosa, Tommy Armour, Harry Cooper, Bill Mehlhorn and many others.

The low thirty-two in tomorrow's qualifying medal round of thirty-six holes will qualify for match play starting Tuesday. All match-play rounds will be at thirty-six holes.

Indians Split with Solons

SEATTLE, Sept. 7. (AP)—Seattle and Sacramento divided a double-bill today, the Senators taking the first game, 4 to 2, while the Indians walked off with the seven-inning nightcap, 5 to 3. The Indians won four games to take the long end of the series.

The Senators touched Ruether for four straight singles to take a three-run lead in the first inning of the opening game and added another in the fifth, while Chesterfield held the Indians at bay throughout. Sacramento led 3 to 0, in the second game until the sixth inning, when Seattle put over five runs. The Senators came back with one run in the seventh, but the Indians' defense stiffened and stopped a threatened rally to win, 5 to 3.

Yankees Win Trophy Shoot

CAMP PERRY (O.) Sept. 7. (AP) The Lord Dewar Trophy match, fired on ranges here and in England, was won by th United States international small-bore rifle team today when it scored 7849 out of a possible 8000.

The English team fired at Wimbledon August 4, scoring 7839.

This was the fourth consecutive victory for the American team. A heavy wind over the field today interfered with the shooting. The match was on 50 and 100-yard ranges, with twenty shots a man at each range. Col. W. A. Tewes, of Cincinnati was the American team captain.

Team members' scores were: Archie F. Goldsborough, Pasadena, 398; F. J. Pallee, St. Augustine, Fla., 397; Edward H. Larue, Chicago, 397; Frank Rogers, New Haven, Ct., 396; O. M. Upshaw, Pasadena, 395; A. J. Yearsley, Piqua, O., 394; Omer H. Jacobs, Dayton, 394; T. Randle, Fort Worth, Tex., 393; Virgil A. Moore, Dallas, Tex., 393; Eric Johnston, New Haven, 393; W. F. Hamer, Primghar, Iowa, 393; W. R. Stokes, Washington, 392; John W. Aitkens, Overly, N. D., 391; Gene Farrens, Houston, Tex., 391; Chester A. Dority, Toledo, 391; T. L. Harrell, Washington, 390; Fred Johansen, Joliet, Ill., 389; O. E. Crockett, Logansport, Ind., 389; L. C. Tuner, Fort Worth, 388; and O. O. Cook, Dallas, 384.

The national rifle and pistol matches, under the direction of the Secretary of War, will open tomorrow morning with 649 of some of the best pistol shots in the country on the firing line. During the afternoon the national pistol team match will be held with twenty-five teams of five members each taking part. Both these matches will be over slow, timed and rapid fire stage, on 25 and 50-yard ranges.

FORT WORTH IN TITLE PLAY

DALLAS (Tex.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Wichita Falls and Fort Worth, winners in the first half and second half, respectively, in the Texas League baseball pennant race, will meet Wednesday at Wichita Falls in the first game of a play-off series to determine the winner for the season.

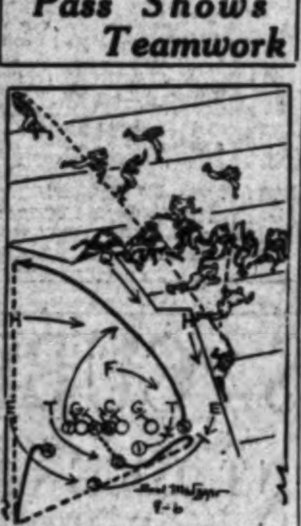
Kansas Aggie Pass Shows Teamwork



BY SOL METZGER

Some football games are just like a horse race—over in a flash. That was true when Kansas Aggies beat Kansas University last year. It was modern down-to-the-minute strategy that did it, too. Neither team was doing much, as the defense of both was strong. The turn came after two consecutive first downs on tackle plays. The Aggies' quarterback had noticed that Bausch, Kansas right half on defense, was coming up fast to back up the line, overeager to get into the fray.

Whereupon this play was pulled at the 40-yard line, a real thriller if ever you saw one. Ball was snapped to the No. 2 back, who broke as if off tackle, protected by the No. 1 and No. 3 backs as shown. Suddenly No. 2 whirled and threw a fast lateral pass to Nigro, No. 4 back, who had faked to block the defensive right end. He then ran back some ten yards.

Nigro was not rushed. He had ample time. He calmly waited until Towler, his right end and No. 5 man in the diagram, had sprinted past the defensive backs. Then he ripped a forward pass full 40 yards into the running Towler's arms. Towler got to the 1-yard line and two bucks gained the much-desired winning touchdown.

gled and Carlyle hit a three-bagger. The fourth run was scored on an infield out.

The Missions made their two runs in the first inning. Mulligan was safe on a boot by Brannan and Rodda was out on a fly to Carlyle. Monroe singled and Hufft hit a triple to left. Burns lifted a fly to short left which Lee caught. Hufft tried to score after the catch but was out at the plate. Lee to Gazella to Severeid. The Missions were all washed up after that.

Hollywood got after Ted Pillette again in the sixth. Brannan doubled. Barbee was out on a fly to Kelly. Carlyle walked. Heath was out on a fly to Rosenberg and then Severeid and Gazella singled and Page doubled.

Two more scored in the seventh on Brannan's second double, Barbee's single and a sacrifice fly by Severeid.

A three-bagger by Page and an infield out off Johnson gave Hollywood a run in the eighth and homers by Carlyle and Heath added two more to the total in the ninth.

Herman Pillette allowed Hollywood only four hits in the second game. Johnny Monroe hit a home run for the Missions in the first inning and smote another in the fourth. Brenzel singled in the fifth, was bunted to second by Herman Pillette and scored on Rodda's single to left.

Hollywood made its only run in the sixth. Governor batted for Hulvey and singled. He was forced at second by Hill. Lee singled and Hill raced to third and scored when Brannan rolled out to Burns. Pillette got rid of the first three men who faced him in the seventh. Scores:

MEXICAN GRIDS DUE TOMORROW

Three More Team Members Slated to Arrive

More of the advance guard of the University of Mexico football team will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow morning, according to word received last night by Fay Smalley, manager of the Alexandria Hotel, which will be the stopping place of the visitors. The Mexicans are coming to play Occidental College in a night game at the Coliseum, the 26th inst.

EDDIE ROMAN

The players slated to arrive tomorrow are Faustio Miranda, quarterback; Manuel Landa, end, and Bill McGinn, halfback. Eddie Roman, quarterback, has been here since last Wednesday.

Saturday night local Mexican fans made Roman guest of honor at a banquet held at the Alexander. A big affair is planned for the night of the game in honor of the visitors.

On the 24th inst. a special train will arrive from Mexico City, bringing more than 150 rooters.

FRANCIS BROWN ANNEXES TITLE

territory. He also won the amateur championship of Japan last year.

Brown succeeds Jack Neville of Pebble Beach, 1929 champion who failed to qualify this year. The Honoluluan qualified easily, in fifth place with a 78-73—151 and for the rest of the week proceeded to live up to advance reports that he was "on his game," this year.

In the first round of match play he eliminated John De Paolo of Bakersfield, 5 and 4. Jack Wolf of San Francisco, was the next victim, going out 3 and 1 and he disposed of Lawson Little of San Francisco, medalist, 5 and 4 on the following day. In the thirty-six-hole semifinals he removed John McHugh of San Francisco, three-time holder of the title, 2 and 1.

Coleman advanced by defeating Herb Schultz, Jr., of Alameda, 6-4; Roy E. Harris of San Francisco, 1 up at the nineteenth; Leon Keller of Los Angeles, 1 up at the nineteenth, and Harry Eichelberger of Los Angeles, 4 and 3, in the semifinals.

Brown won the first hole with a par 4, but conceded the second to Coleman after a poor out from behind a tree where his shot carried him. Coleman was on in 2 and down in 4.

BROWN IN LEAD

The third was halved in par 4's and Brown went into the lead again on the fourth on which he chalked up a birdie 3 through the medium of a long putt. The gentleman from Hawaii added two more holes in succession, winning the fifth with a par 3 and the sixth with a birdie 4. His play on the sixth earned him the plaudits of the crowd. He had a good drive, but his second sliced nearly out of bounds. A strong iron, approximately 180 yards, sent his ball spinning up to within fifteen feet of the cup and he sank the putt. Coleman played the hole perfectly for a par 5 and yet was forced to yield the honors.

The seventh was halved in par 3's and Brown made it 4 up on the eighth, taking a par 4 to Coleman's 5. The ninth was halved in 5's, each getting into trouble in the par 4 layout. Brown's drive landed in a barranca and Coleman banged his into a bunker.

REMARKABLE SHOT

They had bad luck on the tenth, a par 4 hole. Brown won it with a 5 after a spectacular recovery from the beach, where he sent his drive. His second was as remarkable as any seen in this tournament. With the ball lodged at the base of a fifty-foot bank, he lofted it to the fairway with a mashie niblick and pitched up nicely to win. Coleman was over in 2 and his third fell short in a trap.

The eleventh was halved in par 4's and Brown went 6 up on the twelfth with a par 3. Coleman took a 5 after hooking his drive into a bank and using two strokes to get up.

After a par four half on the thirteenth, Coleman birdied the par 5 fourteenth when Brown conceded the hole. Brown topped his second and reached a trap on his third while Coleman's third was up for a fairly easy putt.

The fifteenth and sixteenth were halved in fours and fives, respectively. Brown won the seventeenth and eighteenth with a 4 and 5 to go 7 up. On the seventeenth Coleman drove his first into the ocean and on the eighteenth his third fell into a trap. He had sixes on the holes.

The cards.

Morning round:

Par out	4	5	4	4	3	5	3	4	4	—36
Brown, out	4	6	4	3	3	4	3	4	5	—36
Coleman, out	5	4	4	4	4	5	3	5	5	—39

Brown, in	5	4	3	4	6	4	4	4	6	—40	—76
Coleman, in	6	4	5	4	4	4	5	6	6	—44	—83

After luncheon Brown snapped into action to win the nineteenth and go 8 up. He had a par 4, following a fine second shot from behind a tree. Coleman was on nicely in 2, twelve feet from the pin, but three-putted. The twentieth was halved in par 5's.

Brown's tenacity in the face of adverse conditions was shown on the twenty-first, when he made a thrilling recovery to win with a par 4. He had hooked his tee shot from a deep trap in front of the sixteenth green but cut across country to drop the ball on the edge of the green. Coleman had a good drive but his second was over and he was strong on a return.

Coleman won back the next two holes. He had a birdie 3 on the twenty-second and a par 3 on the twenty-third. Brown drove one into the ocean on the twenty-second and was 4 in a trap so conceded the hole. On the twenty-third he drove out of bounds.

Brown holed a twelve-foot putt to win the 503-yard twenty-fourth with an eagle 3; the twenty-fifth was halved in par 3's. He went 9 up with a win at the twenty-sixth, taking a 5 to Coleman's 6 when the latter ran over the hole coming out of the sand. The match was clinched on the twenty-seventh with Brown posting a par 4 while Coleman's putt for a half was short.

SERAPHS, SEALS DIVIDE

Visitors Score Two in Ninth to Win Opener, 7 to 5, but Angels Cop Nightcap with Rally, 5-4

gered through to the finish on the mound for the Seals although he was rapped for thirteen safeties. The Angels twice came from behind to tie the score, knotting the count for the second time in the eighth, but the Seals blasted Clyde Barfoot for five hits in the ninth to get the two tallies that gave them the triumph. Barfoot replaced Berly Horne in the second round but failed to last through the visitors' ninth inning barrage, retiring to let Glenn Gabler get the side out.

Led by Babe Pinelli and "Jowls" Penebsky, who rapped out four hits apiece, the Seals clicked out seventeen safeties in the opener. Penebsky was the fair-haired boy with two singles and a pair of doubles and scoring three runs.

The Angels had plenty of opportunities to win the first game but were unable to hit in the pinches. Fred Haney came up five times with men on base, but wasn't able to deliver a hit on any of the occasions, while Jigger Statz lined into two double plays and almost hit into another. Statz, however, singled across the tying run in the eighth, while Haney made up for his failure to hit in the opener by poking out three hits in the finale.

The Angels wound up the second game more crippled than ever when Art Parker, filling in at third base, had to retire with a bum knee. Parker got spiked by Davis in the first game and had the knee injured again in the nightcap when Pinelli smashed a single off his patella. Statz was pulled in from the outfield to play third and Bill Peters sent to center field to finish the game.

After getting Powles out, Walsh ran into trouble in the second game and failed to last out the first inning. Pinelli singled infield and Crosetti doubled. Baker's hit to center scored both runners Caveney singled and Oana popped out. When Jimmy Zinn, who played right field for the visitors, followed with a hit to score Baker. Yerkes replaced Walsh and got the side out.

STATZ TRIPLES

The Angels got two hits off McDougal in both the first and second innings, but weren't able to score until the fourth when Statz tripled off the left-field screen and scored on one of Pinelli's three wide throws to first of the afternoon.

San Francisco got its fourth run in the sixth when Baker and Caveney singled to start the round. Yerkes retired Oana and Zinn easily and forced Penebsky to hit a pop fly that Jacobs dropped. Baker scored on the error.

Jacobs's double and Statz's single gave the Seraphs a run in the home half of the sixth.

Yerkes opened the Angel seventh with a single and Rawlings followed suit to put the winning rally under way. Harper bunted the boys along and Haney followed with a single to left that scored Yerkes and put Rawlings on third. When Donovan, who had been sent out to left field for defensive purposes, got off a poor throw-in to the infield, Haney scampered to second with the winning run. Nick Williams then called Gould in to replace McDougal and pitch to Schulmerich. Big Wes responded with a slashing single to center and Rawlings and Haney galloped home to finish the battle.

SEALS GET EARLY LEAD

The Seals also got off to an early three-run lead in the opener, driving Horne to the showers in the second inning. Singles by Powles and Pinelli and a couple of infield outs produced a run in the first frame. In the second Zinn singled, Penebsky doubled and Davis singled for two runs, although Penebsky scored after Harper kicked the hurler's hit. Barfoot then took the mound and ended the inning without further scoring.

The first of Pinelli's three wild throws followed by singles by Hannah and Parker and Harper's double got all three of those runs back for Los Angeles in the third.

Penebsky started the fourth with a hit and completed the circuit on Davis's sacrifice and Pinelli's single. Crosetti hit one over the center-field fence for another run in the fifth.

Another wild heave by Pinelli put Hannah on first in the home half of the fifth and Truck counted on Parker's double and an infield out.

The Angels tied it up in the eighth, when Schulmerich doubled and was driven home by Statz.

The score didn't stay tied long, though, for the Seals got busy on Barfoot in the ninth. Penebsky led off with a double to right and went on to third when Schulmerich threw the ball past Haney. A wild pitch scored Penebsky. Powles then beat out a hit but was caught trying to take third on Pinelli's single to center. When Crosetti and Baker followed with hits to bring Pinelli over the plate, Barfoot was lifted and Gabler got rid of Caveney for the third out.

The Seraphs threatened in their half of the ninth when Peters, batting for Gabler, and Harper both singled, but Davis disposed of Haney on a pop fly to Penebsky for the final out. Scores:

and the finished play of Lewis Lacey remained at high tide from start to finish.

But the play of all four from the defensive cast was too evenly distributed. First, Eric Pedley's keen, accurate sniping in the early chapters kept the American side in the hunt. Then Hopping came into his own with a rush and a dash. After some moments of slightly over-anxious work, possibly due to his responsibilities on the field, Tommy Hitchcock improved and began again to hit the ball as he nearly always does. And there was nothing to criticise in the play of Winston Guest. He did a thoroughly good job from beginning to end for a young star and his hard hitting was one of the winning factors.

Early in the game Eric Pedley made two of his goals from almost impossible angles. They were high marks of skillful mallet control, flicked through openings that called for uncanny marksmanship, especially when pressed by as earnest an opponent as Guinness proved to be. Pedley and Hopping were among the leading stars on the offensive side, and the American play is largely given over to the offensive game.

Pedley might easily have missed two of these difficult chances, and that would have made the battle much closer than it looked to be at the finish.

The British Chance

There is no question but that the hard-fighting play of the British team might bring about an even closer match, but the odds must be against them, no matter what happens. They haven't quite got the pony speed to match the American sector. And they haven't quite got the well-balanced team to keep back such four stars as Pedley, Hopping, Hitchcock and Guest, who are not likely to present a single weak spot.

Only a desperate attack, plus a few breaks from fortune, can give the invaders an even chance. They played first-class polo Saturday, but after the first two or three periods you had the feeling that they were doomed against the combined speed, power and skill of the defending side. Yet there was no element of a run-away on Saturday and there should be no such element on Wednesday in the second match. You can't ride rough shod over such polo stars as Roark and Lacey, who can be in a flock of places doing a big job through any afternoon.

All Action

There is no other game that has so much in the way of color and action as polo can show, especially high-class polo.

This was especially true on Saturday when so many stars were thrown together—stars who could ride and hit—who were keyed up to such limits of desperate attack and desperate defense. On more than one occasion the British defense of a British goal was as fine a thing as polo has seen, for at least four American assaults were finally broken up and driven back where there seemed to be no possible way to stave off another score.

It would be difficult to name any outstanding stars in this first game, but the play of Pedley, Hopping, Roark and Lacey certainly was not surpassed by any others on the field.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW, BOYS

Pacific Coast Conference Teams to Report on Monday; Much Material and Many Problems Confront Coaches of California's "Big Three"

BY BRAVEN DYER

"It won't be long now," said the prison barber as he shaved the new convict's dome. And the saying is doubly applicable at this time for one week from today teams of the Pacific Coast Conference will line up much after the fashion that they are to disport during the 1930 season.

MARSHALL DUFFIELD

ORV MOHLER

Present plans call for two workouts at Bovard Field. Howard Jones will call his boys together at 9 a.m. for the first and have them at it again in the afternoon. This will be the order on Monday and Tuesday with single daily practices the rule beginning Wednesday when classes start for Trojan students.

As the season approaches there are plenty of questions to be answered. Fans have theirs and the respective coaches are also confronted with numerous problems. The coaches, as they work out their destinies, will automatically answer most of the questions now uppermost in the grid public's mind.

For instance, will Duffield or Mohler be first-string quarterback at Southern California? Or will there be no first-string signal snorter? Will Duffield and Mohler alternate much as the Santa Monica star did with Saunders last year? Apropos of this, it is said that Jones and his staff, looking back over last year, now feel that it might have been better had they started Saunders against Stanford. Not that it would have made any difference in that game, but the effect of benching "Racehorse Russell" rather put him back a few games and it wasn't until much later in the year that he hit his true form.

Will Wilcox be able to fill Tappaan's shoes at end? If not, will Jim Stewart, provided he reports for football, make the grade in his first year on the varsity? There is no denying that Big Jim, with 200 pounds of muscle plus the ability to run under 11s. flat in the 100, will make a welcome addition to the Trojan squad.

SHAW VS. SOPHS

Will one of Jones's sophomore linemen, Black or Ramey, replace Jess Shaw at the guard berth opposite hard-running John Baker? Shaw is a two-year letter man, but Jones is strong for sophomore linemen as they seem to be imbued with more dash and fire than hold-over veterans.

And will Jones introduce something new in the way of shifts? Remember a few years ago when the Trojans used to turn their tails to the opposition, then do a quick right-about face and dash into action? Perhaps the "head man" has something new in store for his foes.

What's going on up at Berkeley? Reports have rarely been of so optimistic a nature. Ordinarily losing Lom, Eisan and Riegels, among others, would be enough for a whole carload of moans, but there are no yelps in the air around the Campanile. Does it mean that Nibs Price will really unleash a powerful offense?

You know the little Bear coach, in the face of criticism against his defensive tactics, used to say: "Well, what am I supposed to do against those two gridiron wizards, Warner and Jones, go out there and get slaughtered by trying to run away with the ball game? No sirree, I'll sit back and hold 'em the best I can until we get a break or two." There's to be no more of that, we are told. If not, what next, and who will be the newly found Moses to lead California out of the wilderness of defensive tactics?

HOW ABOUT SIMKINS

Stanford and the sons of the old Red want to know and know soon, whether or not Bill Simkins will be the Simkins of old. Not the Simkins of 1929, when his trick knee made him practically valueless but the Simkins of 1928, who was hailed as one of the best backfield prospects of Coast history. Recall that Warner, seeking the downfall of the Trojans, relied heavily on Simkins last year. Recall also that Simkins failed terribly in his passing and that the Cards, aside from their first-quarter rush to Troy's 2-yard line, did not maintain a sustained offensive all afternoon. If Simkins is his old self much of Stanford's success seems assured. If he isn't, will Harlow Rothert fill the bill at fullback?

Who will win the battle between Perry Taylor and one of the Albertson boys for the center post left vacant by the graduation of Battling Walter Heinecke? It is said that Taylor has the edge right now, but that there is really little to choose between the two. Will either do as well as Heinecke, and if not, won't the Trojans do a lot of damage to the middle of Warner's line with Big Jim Musick in the leading role?

Isn't there a strong likelihood of Phil Neill, the Santa Monica boy, being one of the two best ends on the Coast this year? He drew a high rating last season and seems headed for big things. How will Carl Wittenau, the next best prospect, do on the other wing?

Will Corwin Artman, 240-pound tackle, return to Stanford? Those in the know say he will be on hand. Quit college last year after being banished from the California game.

WHAT OF THE BRUINS

How will the Bruins fare in the big local opener against "The Thundeirng Herd" just two weeks from Saturday? That date is not far off, as both Bill Spaulding and Jones will agree. Can Spaulding whip a team together that will keep the score down? Did the fighting finish against Montana last year usher in a new regime for the Bruins, and if so, can they take up where they left off?

What's all this chatter about a mystery team at Oregon State? Is Paul Schissler, one of the best-liked coaches on the Coast, preparing a big surprise for the Trojans on October 4? Reports indicate that the Orangemen or Beavers or whatever you want to call 'em, have no weak points. On top of this, Schissler has adopted the Jones style of offensive. Recall what the Trojans did to Idaho last year the Idaho boys employing, to some extent, the Jones style of offense. Will Bryce Nesley give local fans another thrill this year as he did last season with his 70-yard run to a touchdown?

Who'll be the king of the Northwest, Doc Spears or Jimmy Phelan? It used to be Enoch Bagshaw, but of late years Babe Hollingbery has stolen most of the thunder. Perhaps Hollingbery or Schissler will show the way to both Spears and Phelan this year.

And last, but far from least, how are we all going to get seats near the 50-yard line?

Oaks Capture Two Contests

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7. (AP)—Oakland won both games of a double-header from Portland today, capturing the first, 14 to 4, and the second, 3 to 2, to win the series, six out of seven.

In the first game Bill Phebus, the youthful speed king from Arizona, had easy sailing with a big lead always in his favor. The second game was 1 to 1 until the eighth when the Oaks broke through and scored two runs. Cramer of Portland homed in the ninth, and Johnson doubled but with two out, the tying run on third and Catcher Palm at the plate, Craghead struck him out. Scores:

DETROIT, Sept. 7. (AP)—The St. Louis Browns won their final meeting of the season with the Detroit Tigers, 9 to 6, during an almost steady rain today. The win gave the Browns an even break with Detroit for the year with eleven victories each.

Tom Bridges, a rookie pitcher, started for Detroit and was followed by Sullivan, Cantrell, Hoyt and Hoggett. Walter Stewart went the route for St. Louis. The game was stopped twice because of heavy rainfall, and the playing field became muddy. Because of these conditions several of the total of twenty-six hits were flukes.

CHAMPION OFFERED MARSHALL

Daro Wires Sonnenberg for Match with Youthful Mat Gladiator

Promoter Lou Daro yesterday wired an offer to Champion Gus Sonnenberg for a finish title match with Everett Marshall, to be held at the Olympic, the 17th inst.

GUS SONNENBERG

As a result of his victory over Bob (Bibber) McCoy here last week, Marshall cinched his claim as being the outstanding challenger for a title match with Sonnenberg. He has defeated all of the great wrestlers who have cared to meet him, and he is ready at the present time to meet any heavyweight in the world who believes he has a better claim to a title match.

Daro has already signed Marshall to top the mat card planned for the 17th inst., and indications are that Sonnenberg will accept his offer, it was reported. The promoter bases his hopes on the fact that the champion has been in training for almost two weeks in the East, getting ready for a strenuous mat campaign this fall. The proposed rematch between Marshall and Sonnenberg has been a natural ever since their first meeting at Wrigley Field, May 5, last. Sonnenberg won when he resorted to the "flying butts," a hold which has since been barred by the State Athletic Commission.

STEINER WINS WAY TO FINALS OF TENNIS PLAY

Harold Steiner advanced to the final round of the men's singles matches in the Santa Monica open tennis tournament by winning a hard-fought battle from C. Johnson, 6-4, 8-6. Steiner will meet the winner of the Stoefen, Westsmith match in the final round next week.

Les Stoefen and Phil Hanna defeated Weaver and Kerwin, 6-1, 6-1, to advance into the semifinal round of the men's doubles play. Robbins and Biano kept pace with the former two by upsetting Fisher and Thomas, 6-2, 8-6. In the mixed doubles play Miss Patz and Johnson went into the semifinals with a 6-4, 7-9, 6-1, victory over Sturgeon and Howell.

Foul Tips

After winning eight in a row, the Stars were stopped by the Missions in the second game yesterday. They will open their series with Los Angeles tomorrow, six and a half games ahead of the Angels.

Fred Haney didn't get a hit in the opener, but came through with three timely wallops in the nightcap. His third hit drove in one of the three winning runs in the seventh inning of the nightcap.

Haney deserves a lot of credit for [illegible] in at shortstop, a position he doesn't care much about playing anyway, but he's out there now although he's handicapped by a lame ankle and a sore throwing arm.

Wes Schulmerich raised his average yesterday by banging out four hits in seven times at bat. Wes's final hit broke up the second game.

Ed Coleman hurt his leg sliding into second base in Sturday night's game and was on the bench yesterday while Jimmy Zinn, the league's leading hurler, patroled right field.

Despite the fact that they were without the services of Johnny Moore, Carl Dittmar and Frank Shellenback, the Angels split even in their sixteen-game series with the Seals.

Win Ballou and Ed Baecht are expected to do the hurling for the Angels in tomorrow's two Admission Day games with Hollywood. The Stars and Seraphs will play an afternoon and evening game tomorrow.

Jigger Statz hit in tough luck in the opener, having line drives caught his first three times at bat. Jigger finally got a single in the eighth inning and followed with a triple and two singles in the nightcap.

TRIPLETT'S MOUNT OKEH

Noted Racing Mechanic Believes Car will Make Auspicious Debut in Ascot Races Wednesday

Dick Doyle, world famous auto-racing mechanic and head of George Souders's pit crew when the Indiana youth won the Indianapolis classic in 1923, yesterday inspected Ernie Triplett's Gulberson Special and declared that it should prove the greatest dirt-track racing mount in the country. Triplett will throttle the Gulberson Wednesday night at the Legion Ascot Speedway and will attempt to beat Jimmy Sharp and six others to the checkered flag in the forty-lap sweepstakes.

According to Doyle, the Gulberson is ideally built for use on a banked oval. The car, which was raced as a two-seater in the East this year, has been cut down until little is left besides the motor. Although the engine is a large 183-cubic-inch Miller with 140 horsepower, the whole racing chariot will not weigh more than 1350 pounds when it is pushed to the starting line Wednesday night.

JIMMY SHARP.

The car with a much larger body than it will have for its local appearance, was driven to a new world's board track record at Altoona by Triplett. The mark was for four-cylinder cars and was 118 miles an hour. Many local critics of the speedway sport have predicted that Triplett will not only break Jimmy Sharp's winning streak of seven consecutive victories, but will create a sensation at the wheel of the creation.

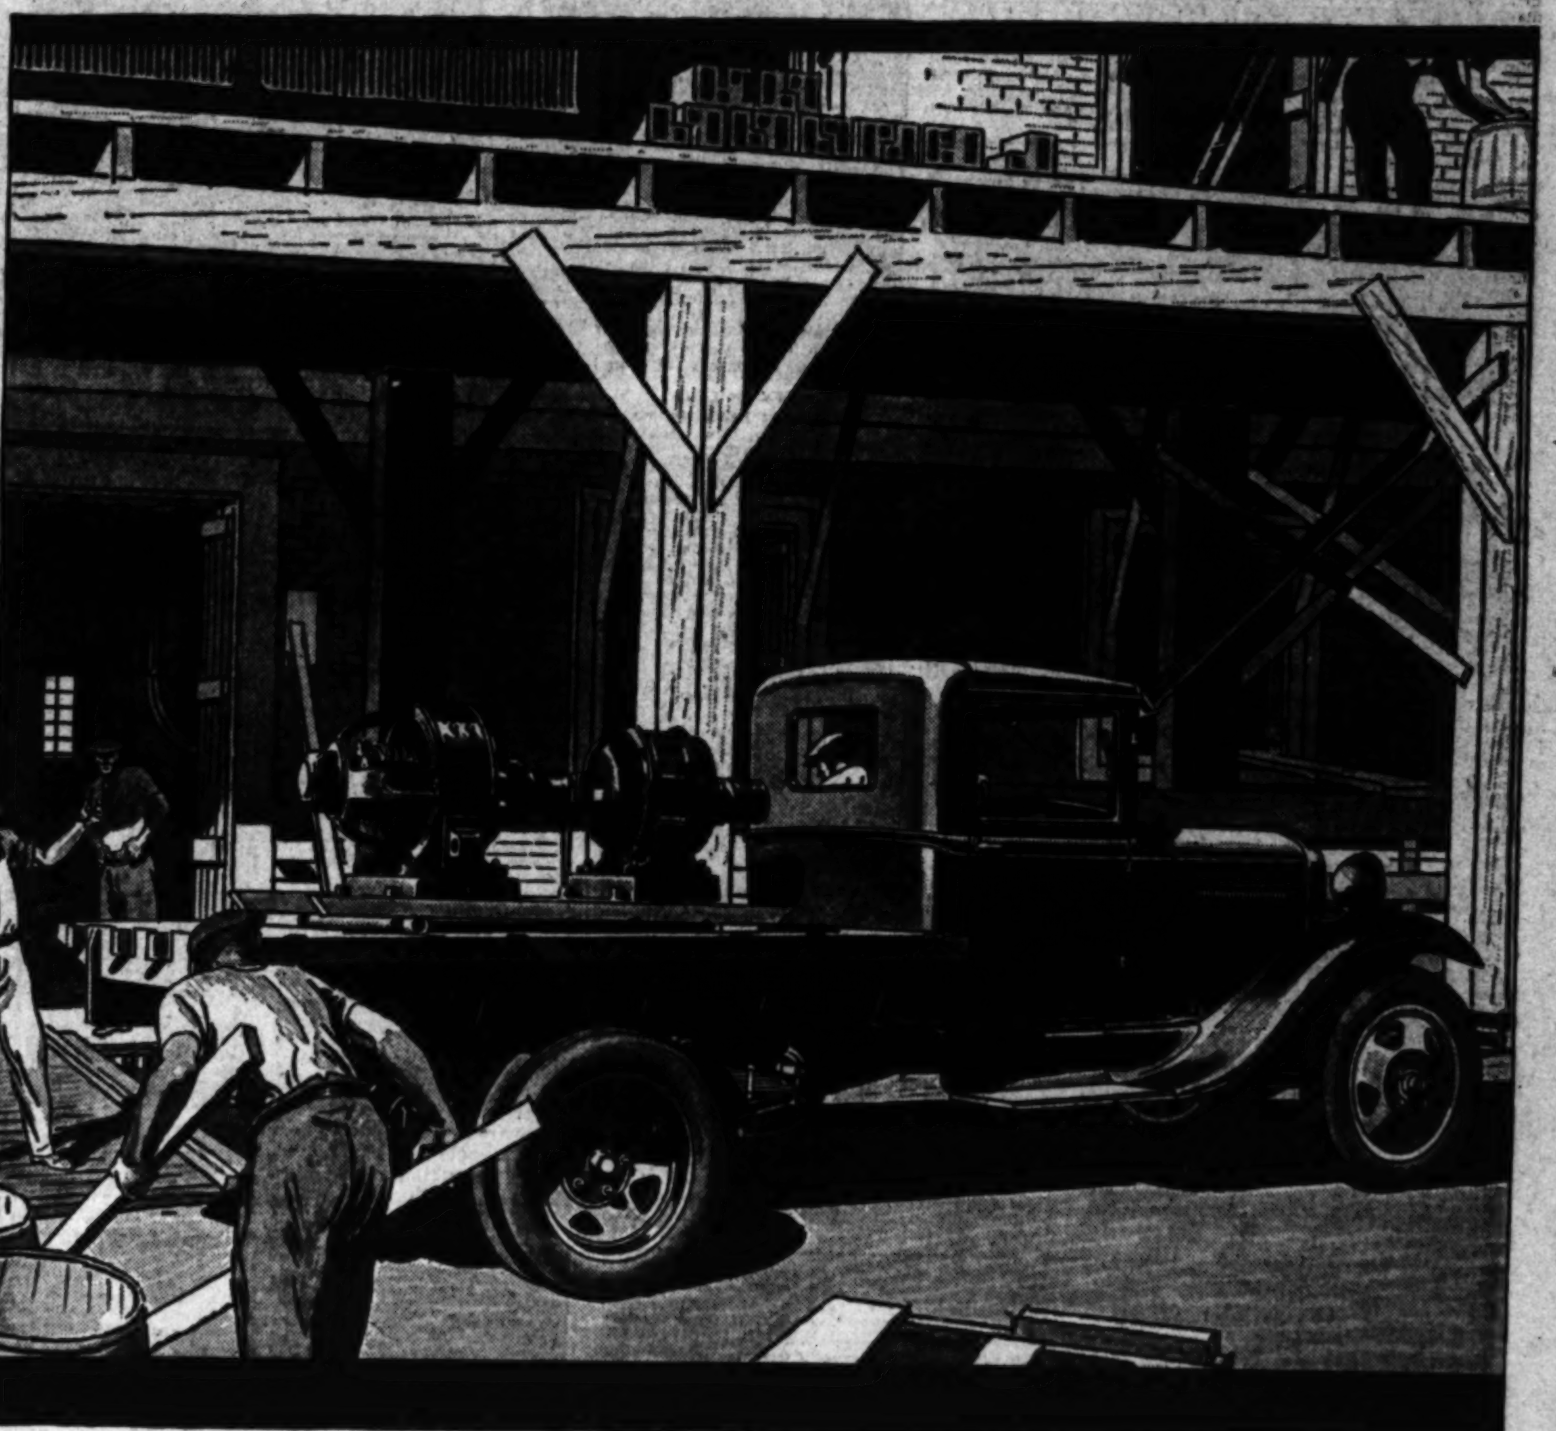
The Ford Truck hauls costs down



IN HAULING supplies on contract, where schedules must be met — or bettered — the Ford 1½-ton truck is prompt and reliable. For this, and for numberless other types of service, the Ford truck offers an additional haulage value, which is economy. It is low in first cost, and low in cost of maintenance.

The way in which fine materials have been incorporated into parts of simple and rugged design is one of the features which increase the ability of the Ford truck to move a load from here to there at a minimum of effort and expense.

Forty different kinds of steel are used, for example. There is no thought, in making the Ford truck, that one or two — or a dozen — kinds of steel will have to serve, if a larger number will give added strength, longer life, or greater reliability.

Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part, and then, through large-scale production, to give it to the public at low cost.

Other features of value are the new spiral bevel gear rear axle; the option of two gear-ratios; 4-speed transmission; provision for power take-off mounting; larger brakes; heavier front axle and spring; dual rear wheels, available at small additional cost; and a chassis of 157-inch wheelbase, for carrying light but bulky loads.

Standard bodies are the platform, stake, panel, and hand and power-operated dump types. Both open and enclosed cabs can be provided. All are equipped with Triplex shatter-proof windshields — an additional safety feature. Go to your Ford dealer and see how well this truck can serve your hauling needs.

DEEP TEST OUTPUT MOUNTS

Superior's Kettleman Hills Project Promises to Become Star Producer of Field

With its daily production mounting steadily, the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on the northeast quarter of Sec. 29, 21-17, on the north dome of the Kettleman Hills Field, will probably break all existing records for that field in point of production.

Late yesterday, Superior's Huffman No. 1 was producing approximately 9800 barrels of 45-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 8222 feet. The oil is black and is flowing into tanks that are rapidly filling. In order to handle the enormous production, Superior is preparing to construct at once a casinghead gasoline plant capable of treating at least 150,000,000 cubic feet of wet gas a day. An arrangement has been made with the Union Oil Company to build at once a seven-mile, six-inch pipe line from the Huffman No. 1 to Union's Tar Canyon station and hook in with the Associated Oil Company's main eight-inch pipe line less than two miles away. All necessary hook-ups are expected to be completed by Thursday.

That Superior's completion of Huffman No. 1 is a surprise is based on the depth it was compelled to go to reach a productive formation. It is located lower on the structure than any of the other projects on the north dome at Kettleman Hills. It penetrated approximately 1100 feet of showings and the well is believed to have proved productive a wide area, since George F. Getty's Sec. 4, on the extreme southwesterly slope of the field, now is believed to be proved. It is a little higher on the structure.

The extent of the Kettleman Hills oil field is more apparent as the proved portion now extends from the General Petroleum Corporation's Ochsner No. 2 on Sec. 26, 22-18 which is approximately ten miles due southeast of Huffman No. 1. General's Ochsner No. 2 has been on production but was shut in to conform to the State-wide oil-curtailment program.

Superior's new casinghead gasoline plant will be ready to operate within six weeks, it is believed. Similar plants now operating at Kettleman Hills include those handling wet gas from the Standard Oil Company's producers, and others treating gas from producers completed by Milham, Continental, Associated and the Petroleum Securities companies.

Capital Dredging Again Working Dredge After Reconstruction Job

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The Capital Dredging Company has reconstructed its $500,000 gold dredger near Fairoaks and is working a new deposit of auriferous gravel. The dredge has 100 eighteen-cubic-foot buckets and is working gravel at a depth of eighty-four feet. Good values are reported.

The Shasta Butte Gold Dredging Company is dismantling its gold dredger at Horsetown, near Redding, after several years of profitable operations. This was the last goldboat operating in the Shasta dredging fields, where four dredges were active a few years ago. Dredging for gold started in Shasta county thirty-five years ago.

Prospecting of a large deposit of disseminated chrome near Willows is being vigorously pressed by a group of capitalists headed by A. D. Nash of Reno, Nev. Ten drill holes have prospected the material to depth of 120 feet and exposed a large tonnage of commercial product.

New Supply of Gas for Texas Line Forecast

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—An additional supply of gas for trunk-pipe lines that run from Laredo district, is believed to be assured by the bringing in of a discovery well upon La Mestina grant of land in Brooks county, about twenty miles south of the Lassiter field in that county. The well is owned by Ed East, a ranchman of that section. The new project has a gauged flow of 23,000,000 cubic feet daily with 584 pounds rock pressure. The gas was encountered at a depth of 1109 feet.

The discovery has led to great activity on the part of major companies in securing leases for many miles around the well and several locations have been made. The United Gas Company's trunk-pipe line is accessible to the new well.

GAS GAIN IN MEXICO HITS COAL MINES

Many Properties Said to Have Closed Since Recent Introduction

MONTEREY (Mex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Introduction from Texas of natural gas for fuel by practically all of the larger industries of Monterey has caused an enormous decrease in consumption of coal, and some of the mines in the State of Coahuila, from which most of the supply of coal for Mexico is obtained, have closed down. Production of coke at several of the mines has also decreased.

Although Mexico has vast beds of coal in Coahuila and in the States of Puebla, Michoacan, Guerrero and Oaxaca, both coal and coke were imported from Wales in large quantities during the early development of manufacturing enterprises in Monterey and other cities of the country. It was not until about twenty-five years ago that the domestic supply of the fuels caused their importations to practically cease.

The Mexican government has just issued a report which shows that production of coal on a commercial scale began in this country about 1880. In 1902 a total of 782,000 tons was mined. Production reached its peak in 1910, with a total of 2,700,000 tons. Production of 731,000 tons in 1921 was increased to about 1,300,000 tons in each of the years 1924, 1925 and 1926. In 1928 production had declined to about 1,000,000 tons, and this year it will probably not exceed 500,000 tons.

The total investment in coal mining in the State of Coahuila has been estimated at $20,000,000. American investments represent about $15,000,000, but most of it is idle at this time. British nationals control one property and the National Railways of Mexico another. The average cost of production in 1927 was reported as $2.25 a ton. Total coke production in 1928 amounted to 425,000 tons, but since then has decreased. The coal used in coke ovens in 1926, 1927 and 1928 was reported as 842,000, 510,000 and 452,000 tons, respectively. Practically all of the coke is used in metallurgical operations.

Yellow Pine to Complete New Mill Shortly

TONAPAH (Nev.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The new mill of the Yellow Pine Company at Goodsprings is nearing completion and will replace the plant burned last year. It has a daily capacity of 180 tons and was specially designed to treat the low-grade lead-zinc ores of the property. The company is shipping its richer ore to a custom smelter and the product is reported in good demand because it is exceptionally well adapted to the manufacture of paint.

Installation of a powerful plant on the shaft of the Pittsburgh-Goldfield Company, near Goldfield, is nearing completion. The steel headframe has been erected, a compressor and hoist installed, and electric power extended to the camp. The new three-compartment shaft is down 150 feet and will be continued to 2000 vertical feet unless important ore bodies are tapped above that point.

Texas Utility Planning Pipe Line Extension

PALESTINE (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—More than eighty miles of new natural gas pipe line will be constructed in East Texas by the United Gas Company and surveys for the proposed line are now being made.

The new line will run from the Neches natural field in Anderson county to Huntsville and Crockett on the south and will supply fuel not only to those towns but to Elkhart, Slocum, Grapeland, Lovelandy, Groveton and Trinity.

An extension of the new line from Groveton to Corrigan, a distance of twenty miles, will be made later. At the latter point it will intersect the trunk pipe line of the company that runs from Northeast Texas to Houston. At a point near Neches it will intersect the pipe line that runs to Palestine and Anderson.

ELWOOD GUSHER OUTPUT CURBED

Barnsdall-Rio Grande Well Star Performer

Day's Test Run Shows Rate of 12,456 Barrels

Flow Beaned Down to Meet State Allotment

Having established its latest producer in the Elwood oil field as the best in the State in point of production, the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's Tideland Permit No. 88-4 now is beaning back to conform to the State-wide oil-curtailment program.

For the twenty-four-hour period that ended at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination's Tideland Permit No. 88-4 produced at the rate of 12,456 barrels of 37.5-deg. gravity oil along with 12,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. Just before the project started to bean back, company officials reported that it was yielding at the rate of 14,100 barrels daily and indications were that it would increase if allowed to.

One of the most interesting features about Barnsdall-Rio Grande's new completion is that although located at the end of a 800-foot pier, and having every opportunity of pouring into the ocean in the event of some mechanical difficulty, not a drop of oil was allowed to pollute the ocean. The entire flow of oil is piped to storage tanks located on the mainland.

Excellent producers have been completed by Pacific Western on Tideland Permit No. 92. Barnsdall-Rio Grande's recent completion offsets the Bankline Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 89-4, which is nearing completion. To enable their projects to be subjected to a thorough flow test, the companies operating at Elwood have beaned their present producing wells down to the minimum in order to build up an underage. This permits the newest producers to flow wide open during the five-day flow test.

MARIPOSA MINE DEAL REPORTED

Early Group of Claims in Sweetwater Section Passes to New Hands

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The Early Gold Mining Company, dominated by Arizona and Los Angeles capital, has acquired the Early group of gold claims in the Sweetwater district of Mariposa county and is arranging for early commencement of mining. The property has been worked to a depth of 110 feet with numerous drifts and crosscuts. Strong veins of milling ore are reported exposed.

Consolidated Copper Company is proceeding with plans for erection of a 350-ton concentrating plant on its Blue Ledge group of copper properties in Siskiyou county and may start production before the year ends. An immense tonnage of concentrating ore has been blocked out with conditions ideal for economical mining.

Eldorado Gold Mines, Ltd., reports development of strong gold deposits near the middle fork of the American River, east of Auburn. The main ledge has been prospected for several hundred feet at surface and is said to be around twenty feet wide. The quartz is almost black, with both free gold and sulphides in evidence.

University of Texas Royalty Fund Swelled

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—During August oil royalties to the total amount of $221,487.37 were paid to the University of Texas on production of wells upon lands owned by it in Reagan, Crane, Upton and Pecos counties, recording an increase of $15,376.68 over July payments.

The total sum received by the university from oil royalties and leases is now $15,306,856.23. Payments during August were as follows: Big Lake Oil Company, $69,490.30; Texon Oil and Land Company, $44,610.43; Cosden Oil Company, $18,626.41; Gulf Production Company, $14,361.10; Tidal Oil Company, $10,766.45; Shell Petroleum Company, $10,096.32; Warner-Quinlan Company, $8902.58; Simms Oil Company, $8640.66; Landreth Production Company, $8507.43; Humble Oil and Refining Company, $6455.97; Prairie Oil and Gas Company, $5868.11; Magnolia Petroleum Company, $5613.09; Atlantic Oil Producing Company, $3835.42; Burford Oil Company, $3343.86; Continental Oil Company, $1186.63; Texas Company, $933.95; West Texas Land Company, $134; Buell & Hagan, $14.84; Phillips Petroleum Company, $96.86.

Work Resumed at Test Wells

LOST HILLS, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) Two Lost Hills deep test wells are being drilled ahead again following short delays. George F. Getty, Inc., has resumed operation on Lincoln Drilling-Getty No. 1 on Sec. 12, 26-20, and is below 1900 feet in a brown shale formation.

On Sec. 32, 26-21, the Universal Oil Company's No. 49, below 3000 feet, is drilling in sand and brown shale. Dry gas has been encountered.

TEXAS PIPE-LINE CASE DEFERRED

Operator Sought Connection with Wells in Field

Continental Oil May Agree to Make Hook-up

Early Test of State's New Law Now Unlikely

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—In response to a request which came to the Railroad Commission from Young Bros. & Alexander, oil operators of Fort Worth, their complaint against the Continental Oil Company of failure to comply with their request to make common-carrier pipe-line connection with their wells in the Newcastle field of Young county, has been indefinitely postponed.

It is understood that this request was based on pending negotiations with the Continental Oil Company which may result in the desired connection being made. Much interest was manifested in the complaint, which had been set down by the Railroad Commission for a hearing the 3rd inst. because of the fact that it was looked upon as being the first possible test of the new pipe-line law under the provisions of which pipe-line companies are declared to be common carriers. The law provides that the Railroad Commission shall, upon request, require pipe-line connections to be made with producing wells where the facts and conditions warrant such action, and where such connection is in the public interest.

The Primrose Refining Company of Wichita Falls was also a party with Young Bros. & Alexander in the complaint against the Continental Oil Company, due to the fact that they are all parties to a contract for the delivery of oil from the wells of Young Bros. & Alexander in the Newcastle field to the refinery of the Primrose Refining Company at Wichita Falls.

The trunk pipe line of the Continental Refining Company leading to Wichita Falls passes within four and one-half miles of the wells in question and in their complaint Young Bros. & Alexander asserted that they offered to advance the cost of constructing the pipe line to the amount of $7500 and that this offer was refused. They are now building a pipe line from their wells to loading racks on the railroad, four miles, and the oil will be transported in tank cars, if pipe-line connection with the Continental company is not obtained.

EDISON PROJECT IN HARD SAND ZONE

EDISON, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Hard-sand formation continues to be encountered in the Petroleum Securities Company's project, Johnson-Moss No. 1, on Sec. 14, 29-29, in the Edison district east of Bakersfield. Bottom is below 2300 feet.

NEW OIL COURSES OFFERED

Four practical evening courses dealing with the oil industry are to be available at University College in the 1930 fall quarter, opening the 15th inst. in the Transportation Building, 122 East Seventh street, according to announcement of the University of Southern California.

Oil land leasing and valuation, a Monday evening course, will be in charge of John F. Dodge, and will include lectures and demonstrations dealing with appraisal of oil lands, estimation of future production and operating costs, depreciation of material, salvage, value of future profits, Federal and State taxes.

Petroleum refining, a Monday and Wednesday evening course, will be in charge of George Overstrum and will include a study of physical and chemical properties of petroleum in the refining of crude oil. Petroleum geology, a Wednesday evening course, will be in charge of Dr. A. J. Tieje and will cover the origin and nature of petroleum deposits.

Elementary oil field development practice, a Thursday evening course, will be in charge of A. E. Stevens and will cover methods of drilling oil and gas wells and the equipment used, consisting of rotary, standard and combination rigs, drilling tools, fishing tools and casing, as well as the location of wells.

NEW TEXAS PRORATION PROTESTED

Phillips Company Gets Modification of Order of State Commission

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Although the order of the Railroad Commission limiting State-wide allowable oil production for a period of ninety days to approximately 770,000 barrels daily went into effect August 28, there still remains a number of details to be arranged to apply the order to the different fields.

In the Panhandle district where the daily production was approximately 100,000 barrels the allowable was fixed at 80,000 barrels. The Phillips Petroleum Company protested against the maximum marginal well exemption being fixed at fifty barrels daily in that district, and in response the Railroad Commission reduced the exemption to twenty-five barrels daily.

J. H. Clark, representing a committee of Panhandle producers, told the commission that with 100,000 barrels daily production at the time State-wide proration went into effect there were 160 projects drilling, 131 others in oil sand and twenty-nine in gas. In addition to this large prospective increase in available production, Clark said there now is in storage 18,200,947 barrels of oil in the Panhandle district.

Fruitvale Test Gaining Depth

FRUITVALE, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) The Standard Oil Company's KCL No. 4-5 on Sec. 26, 29-27, near Fruitvale, is drilling below 5000 feet, the greatest depth attained in that particular district. Hard gray sand formation is being encountered.

On Sec. 21, 29-27, L. C. Osborne, Bakersfield operator, has started foundation for Forney No. 1.

DEEP TEXAS PROJECT IN SPOTLIGHT

Gradual Gain in Output of Big Lake's Oil Well Attracts Attention

BIG LAKE (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Many oil operators of West Texas are watching the performance of the new record-breaking deep producer of the Big Lake Oil Company, in the Big Lake oil field in Reagan county.

Big Lake's well is flowing from an oil sand encountered at a depth of 8923 feet, although the drill was continued a few feet below that depth and the production has shown a gradual increase each day since the well was completed. It is now yielding more than 160 barrels of oil daily alone with 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day and the flow is also gradually increasing.

The deep producer is paralleling the remarkable record made by the 8525-foot well of the Texon Oil and Land Company (Continental) in the same field, which began on December 1, 1928, with an initial flow of forty barrels daily. This production gradually increased until it reached nearly 3000 barrels of oil a day. Its flow is now slowly declining from the peak figures. The Big Lake Oil Company's 8230-foot well, which recently had an initial flow of thirty barrels in twenty-four hours, is being deepened in an endeavor to increase its production.

NEW OIL REFINERY STARTED IN TEXAS

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Operation of the new refinery at Thrall of the All-States Refining Company, started the 1st inst. The Williamson County Pipe Line Company now is delivering 2000 barrels of oil daily to the new plant from the adjacent Chapman field. The pipe line is also delivering approximately 2000 barrels daily to the railroad loading racks at Thrall.

NEVADA MINING AREA REVIVING

Old Silver City District on Rejuvenation Road

Camp Reported Most Active in Twenty Years

Pick-up Attributed to Entry of New Capital

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive) The old Silver City field, about four miles from Virginia City, is displaying more activity than at any time in twenty years, with a large number of leasers at work. One of the oldest camps in Nevada, Silver City has long been famous for its small but rich gold deposits.

Several small mills are operating, and ore is hoisted from numerous leases on the Silver Hills, Succor, Columbia, Specimen, Comstock Silver, Dayton and other old producers, continue largely restricted to the New capital has recently entered the camp, and rejuvenation of a number of old mines has begun.

Activities on the Comstock Lode properties in the south end of the Virginia City field, with the Sutro Tunnel Coalition, Belmont Uncle Sam and other corporations active. The Belmont Uncle Sam Company, in which California people are largely interested, reports development of an ore body on the 400-foot level ranging from six to seven feet wide. This ledge has been opened for thirty feet and shows free gold. The Sutro Tunnel Coalition is centering work on the American Flat section and endeavoring to locate an ore body believed to be the extension of the great Comstock Lode.

The new mill of the Pony Meadows Company is treating thirty-five tons of ore daily, with mill heads said by the management to average around $50 per ton in gold. The property is located in the Como district, near Virginia City, and is controlled by California interests. The ledge has been developed for 300 feet, and to a depth of 125 feet.

CORPUS CHRISTI OIL EXPORT GAIN LOOMS

CORPUS CHRISTI (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Early development of a large oil export and coastwise business at Corpus Christi is reported to be in prospect as the result of the completion of a well by the Saxet Oil Company in the Saxet gas field, five miles from here. The Humble Oil and Refining Company, already doing a large oil export business through the subport of Ingleside, situated near here, has turned its attention to establishing oil storage facilities. At its refinery, of which one still has been completed, it has erected two 80,000-barrel storage tanks.

HOBBS DOUBLES OIL POTENTIAL

Present Rating of 415,535 Barrels Shown

August Most Active Month in Field's History

Shell Gusher Features Third Proration Period

ARTESIA (N. M.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The potential production of the Hobbs pool more than doubled during the month of August, which has been the most active period ever witnessed by a New Mexico pool. Prior to August 1, the potential output of the Hobbs area was placed at 167,765 barrels daily from twenty-eight wells.

During the last proration period ending August 31, the Hobbs field was given a potential rating of 415,535 barrels daily from fifty-four wells and forty-six producing units. Oil runs into the pipe line during the last period amounted to 33,935 barrels daily or 1065 barrels under the 35,000-barrel daily outlet, agreed upon under the proration policy effective July 11.

One of the largest completions made in the Hobbs field in the closing days of the third proration period was the McKinley No. 2 of the Shell Petroleum Company in the southeast quarter of Sec. 19, 18-38. It produced at the rate of 17,042 barrels per day from a depth of 4165 feet. In the Humble group the Bowers No. 5 of the Humble Oil and Refining Company on Sec. 30, 18-38, made 718 barrels during the first hour's official test from a depth of 4218 feet and was given a potential rating of 17,132 barrels daily.

A small producer has been completed by the Landreth Petroleum Company west of the town of Hobbs. Its State No. 1-B on Sec. 33, 18-38, came in from a depth of 4140 feet at the rate of 2768 barrels of oil per day along with 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Interesting showings have been developed in the Gypsy Oil Company's State No. 1 on the northeast quarter of Sec. 24, 18-37. Oil sand showings were passed up at about 4030 feet and the project was drilled to 4165 feet and mudded back to 4085 feet where six and five-eighths-inch casing is being run for a production test.

Another producer has been added by the Midwest Refining Company. Its State No. 26, on the northwest quarter of Sec. 4, 19-38, came in for 2203 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 4190 feet.

Four new locations have been made in the Hobbs district. These include the Midwest Refining Company's State No. 28 on Sec. 4, 19-38; Texas Production Company, McKinley No. 3 on Sec. 4, 19-38; Amarada Petroleum Corporation, State No. 3-B on Sec. 29, 18-38; Amarada Petroleum Company, State No. 4-B, on Sec. 29, 18-38. Seventy-six wells are now drilling in the Hobbs area.

The Texas Company has started construction on an eight-inch pipeline extension from its line in the Eunice district to the Hobbs pool. The new line will add a carrying capacity of 20,000 barrels to the field, but will be used to transport only the production of the Texas Company, according to reports.

Progress Told of Oil Holes at Maricopa Flat

MARICOPA, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) California Western Oil Company's Havenstrite No. 6 on Sec. 17, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat, started flowing recently when the cement plug at the bottom of the seven-inch casing cemented at 3392 feet was drilled out. The project sanded up and is being cleaned out to run oil string, with bottom of hole at 4015 feet.

The Birch Oil Company, after suspension of drilling work on Maricopa No. 2, deep-test project on Sec. 7, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat, is under-reaming with bottom at 6275 feet. Nine-inch casing is set to 3634 feet.

Oil Output of Van Field Gains

VAN (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Potential production of the non-unitized part of the Van field was increased by 20,000 barrels by the bringing in of its Ruth Starr Blake No. 1 by the Humble Oil and Refining Company. This well marks a one-half mile extension of what is believed to be a new pool, situated four miles northeast of Van.

The Humble Oil and Refining Company has two other wells drilling upon the Ruth Starr Blake tract, and the Pure Oil Company is believed to be moving oil sand in a well which is drilling in the same area. The well of the Humble Oil and Refining Company was placed on a choke and is flowing only a small part of its potential.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Rare Earth Mineral

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 22.—Question: I am inclosing with this, two samples of mineral that I do not remember having ever seen before, and the locality of occurrence is near Kingman, Ariz. The owners brought it to me for identification. They state that they sent samples east and that the returns showed uranium and its kindred metals to the value of about $3000 per ton. They also stated that they sent samples to the University of Arizona and the uranium contents were verified from that source, and the analysis gave iridium and palladium as well. I wrote to you some weeks ago, inclosing a sample of what I thought was bentonite, and you were good enough to write me direct—owing to the fact that I have been a constant subscriber to The Times for over forty-three years. I am not actively engaged in mining now, but many of my old mining friends bring their troubles to me, owing to our associations in the past. Anticipating your kind courtesy in the premises. X.

Answer: The specimens are fergusonite, and bulletins of the United States Geological Survey describe the mineral as—A metacolumbate and tantalate of yttrium, with erbium, cerium, uranium, etc. The samples occur in pyramidal crystals of a brownish-yellow and black color; in thin laminae, translucent. Fractured surfaces are brilliantly vitreous and submetallic, conchoidal in fracture, and of sp. gravity 5.85. Uranium is present approximately 1.50 per cent. Fergusonite occurs in several localities of Arizona; rather sparingly; found chiefly in the pegmatites; often from placer washings, and the rare earth mineral should, easily, bring cash values of $1.50 per pound.

Sericite

FOREST, Aug. 23.—Q.: Under separate cover I am sending you a specimen of a talc-like substance found in one of the mines here. It occurs in small bug-holes partly filled with crystals. We do not consider it of any value, but are curious as to its make-up. The foreman insists that the brilliant, glossy matter obtained by rubbing it over one's fingers, is from mica. One other man is sure it is a finely grained asbestos. A mining engineer dismissed the subject by saying—"just clay!"—rather a comprehensive term. I call it high-grade talc, for the reason that it is found associated with the high-grade ore. Yours sincerely. X.

A.: The foreman is right! The specimen could be confused with rock-butter, volknerite, and other minerals. It is, however, hydrous sericite, like putty in consistency, of undulating foliations, greenish, yellow, and white, in color and of silky luster. It probably occurs on the order of gouge matter. Some mica is hydrous at its origin, and there is some pinite in the sample. The microscopic mica of the specimen is near the muscovite (potash mica) group, and surely is a very peculiar variety.

Colorado Mineral

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Q.: Please analyze the two samples, No. 1 by the fire assay method, and No. 2 by cyanide, for gold and silver. Give me returns through your In the Earth department of The Times. The specimens are from the Cripple Creek (Colorado) mining district. M.

A.: Fire assays for gold and silver, and also the two metals for test by the cyanide method, are not within the purview of this department of The Times. Sample No. 1 is specular hematite and No. 2 is greatly decomposed pegmatite.

Specular Hematite

HIGHLAND, Aug. 24.—Q.: The sample is from Clark county, Nevada. Uranium, iridium, vanadium, and tellurium suspected.

A.: The specimen is quartz carrying large flakes of micaceous iron.

Two Samples

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Q.: Sample No. 1 is of two small pieces which I take to be a low-grade carnotite; found on Mojave desert. No. 2, any platinum? This sample is from Lower California. Thanks for past favors. B.

A.: Sample No. 1 is silicon dioxide stained with limonite. No. 2 is simply a mixture of micaschist and tremolite; flake platinum not present.

Calcite

AVALON, Aug. 26.—Q.: Will you please test the specimens I am sending you for strontium. With two different tests I had the reaction for this mineral and am now wondering if I have mistaken it for calcium, which, I believe, is quite similar. X.

A.: The samples are calcite, which, before the blowpipe, give a red yellowish to orange flame color. That of strontium and lithium is of a red-crimson color.

Altered Rock

MINA (Nev.) Aug. 25.—Q.: Please classify the inclosed sample of rock. From Red Mountain, Nev. B.

A.: It is a rather odd white, altered rhyolite. Much of the rhyolite from the locality named is of reddish color.

Three Samples

RED MOUNTAIN (Cal.) Aug. 26. Q.: Please analyze sample No. 1 for tin and tungsten; it is from Red Rock Canyon. No. 2 occurs near Pilot Knob; is it bismuth ore? No. 3 was taken at a locality near Walker's Pass; any values? C.

A.: Sample No. 1 is a medium-grade pyrolusite (black oxide of manganese.) No. 2 is a good grade of pyrolusite, and No. 3 is greasy quartz slightly stained with pyrolusite; free gold not present. Tin and tungsten absent from all samples.

Strontium Indicated

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Q.: I am sending you two specimens and both of them are from the cropping of same ledge. I know nothing of baryte; does this mineral improve with depth? X.

A.: Sample No. 1 consists of silica present, with calcite a bare trace; iron traces, and is chiefly baryte; No. 2 is fair-grade baryte; iron in low percentage found. Baryte occurs with a great number of other minerals; it is frequent in gangues of silver and lead ores, and the writer obtained, many years ago, fine samples, occurring sparingly, on the 1200-foot level of Moffat and Smith's Resurrection mine, Big Evans's Gulch, seven miles from Leadville, Colo.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Q.: Am enclosing four rock samples from La Habra Mountains, Los Angeles county. Please name them and give their principal constituents. T.

A.: Your samples are of the following mixtures—No. 1 is calcite mixed with epidote. No. 2 is magnetite. No. 3 is surface rock; it is silicious rock with algae as coating, and stained with limonite. No. 4 is part of a small boulder, chiefly quartz, and stained with iron. Massive epidote present.

Altered Rock

REDLANDS, Aug. 26. Q.: What does this sample contain? It came from about thirty-five miles east of Redlands on the desert side. D.

A.: The sample contains much magnetite with more or less iron silicate. Zinc in low percentage found.

Golden Placer Operates Again at Cloverdale

TONOPAH (Nev.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Work has been resumed in the Golden placer district, near Cloverdale, two small washing plants have been installed and plenty of water for steady operations is said to be available. The gravel is credited with carrying profitable gold values. The district is one of the oldest in the State and has long been worked in a small way.

The Nevada Standard Mining Company is increasing capacity of its mill from seventy-five to 100 tons daily, and expects to have the new units in commission by the 15th inst. The company operates the old Standard property at Cherry Creek and has recently exposed rich gold ore in the Star vein. The Alto Divide operates a lease on a portion of the Standard ground and is making regular shipments to the mill.

Two New Wells Add to Output of San Joaquin

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Two oil wells recently completed in Kern county fields added 283 barrels of oil to the output from the San Joaquin Valley.

Chanslor-Canfield-Midway Oil Company completed Poso No. 1 on Sec. 6, 28-29, in the Round Mountain field for 183 barrels of oil. Bottom of the hole is at 1577 feet. The eleven and three-fourths-inch casing is set to 1551 feet. The project is pumping 13.7-deg. gravity oil cutting 2.3 per cent.

The Barnsdall Oil Company's Son-Crail No. 1, on Sec. 8, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat, with bottom at 3635 feet came in for 100 barrels of 21.3-deg. gravity oil per day.

Wheeler Ridge Test Produces

WHEELER RIDGE, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The Standard Oil Company's K.C.L. 2-36 after many efforts to develop deep production with bottom of the hole at 7154 feet, successfully plugged back to about 4350 feet and the project yesterday came in for approximately fifty barrels of 42 deg. gravity oil per day.

Standard's K.C.L. 2-36 at present is the deepest project in the Wheeler Ridge district and while it encountered a few scattered showings of oil sand considerably deeper then the usual productive zone, it failed to develop anything interesting. Its test is located on Sec. 36, 11-29, and will probably be allowed to continue producing at the present rate to determine possibilities.

Richfield Adds New Kern Well

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The Richfield Oil Company's Calivada No. 4 on Sec. 34, 33-24, in the Midway district was recently brought in for about forty barrels of 16-deg. gravity oil per day. Richfield's No. 2 on Sec. 2, 31-22, and the Rio Grande Oil Company's No. 1 on Sec. 22, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat are preparing to deepen. The North-American Oil Consolidated's No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3 on Sec. 30, 31-24, in the Midway district have been abandoned for failure to obtain production.

A decline in new development is reported in Kern county oil fields during the past week, as the Maricopa Star Oil Company's No. 9 on Sec. 32, 12-23, was the only project to start drilling operations.

MEXICO PIPE LINE EXTENSION PLANNED

MONTERREY (Mex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—An extension of the natural gas pipe line of the United Gas Company from Monterrey to Saltillo, a distance of seventy-five miles, will be made if plans which are now under consideration are adopted. A survey of the possible consumption of gas by industries and domestic users in Saltillo is now being made. The pipe line with which Monterrey is supplied with the fuel runs from the gas fields of the Laredo (Tex.) district, crossing the Rio Grande at Roma, Tex.

HOLE IN McKITTRICK AREA GAINS DEPTH

McKITTRICK, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—The Ohio Oil Company's deep test on Sec. 32, 20-22, in the McKittrick district, is drilling below 7200 feet and continues to encounter brown shale formation.

GOLD MINING ON GAIN IN NEVADA

Prospectors and Operators Unusually Active

Longstreet Company Plans for Early Activity

Large Tonnage of $11 Ore Reported Available

TONOPAH (Nev.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—With many silver districts practically abandoned and copper mining heavily curtailed throughout the State, Nevada prospectors and mining operators are centering attention on the gold deposits. Gold mining is now more attractive than at any time in twenty years, with labor, machinery and supplies costing less, and many old properties are being reopened as a result.

Longstreet Gold Mining and Milling Company understood to be controlled by Los Angeles interests, announces the improved 100-ton mill will go into commission the 15th inst. The mine is located in Longstreet Canyon, fifty-two miles northeast of Tonopah and is credited with holding a large tonnage of gold ore sampling around $11 per ton. Four veins have been uncovered, with the main ore body eight feet wide. Tunnels have developed the ore to an approximate depth of 1000 feet below croppings.

The Gold Hill district, about five miles northerly from Round Mountain, is rapidly developing into one of Nevada's premier gold producers. The Gold Hill Development Company is milling around 135 tons of profitable ore daily, and reports excellent ore exposed at several points. The main ore body is reported developed for 800 feet.

Thomas F. Cole and associates of Pasadena and Los Angeles are developing a large group of claims adjoining the Gold Hill property, and are said to have opened strong ledges. The Gold Zone Company has a shaft down eighty feet, and is arranging for vigorous lateral work from the 100-foot level. A number of other properties are active in the district.

The Gold Ace property at Carrara, scene of rich surface strikes last year, has been taken under bond by James G. Scrugham, former Governor of Nevada, and associates, with eastern and Southern California people interested. The property is said to contain a good tonnage of mill ore, and it is probable that the small plant will be improved and enlarged.

Citrus Industry Developing in Mexico District

MONTERREY (Mex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Rapid development of the citrus-growing industry is taking place in the Montemorelos district of the State of Nuevo Leon and at other points along the line of the National Railways of Mexico between Monterrey and Tampico. It is estimated that a total of more than 1200 carloads of oranges will be shipped from Montemorelos and adjacent localities during the coming season, which will open about the middle of this month. This will mean an increase of approximately 500 carloads over last season's shipments.

The bulk of the exports from Montemorelos are to Canada, where especially good prices and a ready market are had. The domestic consumption of the fruit is large, and the demand is far greater than the present supply. Many new orchards of orange, grapefruit and lemon trees have been planted during the last few years and these are now just coming into bearing.

Texas Railroad Incomes Drop

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 7 (Exclusive)—Operating income of all Texas railroads for the first half of this year fell off 51½ per cent, from $14,625,154 the first half of last year to $7,098,433 the same period this year, according to a report of the Railroad Commission.

Operating revenues dropped off 13.36 per cent, from $117,923,770 to $102,291,348, while operating expenses were being trimmed only 8.24 per cent, from $90,219,132 to $82,784,233.

This resulted in the operating ratio rising from 76.51 per cent last year to 80.93 per cent this year.

Principal items of revenues were $82,657,652 from freight haulage this year, a decrease of 12.37 per cent from last year; $10,332,267 from passenger service, a decline of 16.41 per cent; $2,210,583 from mail, a decline of 25.14 per cent; $2,733,770 from express, a drop of 11.18 per cent, and $3,757,080 from other sources, a decline of 16.38 per cent.

Railroads spent $19,907,753 on maintenance of ways and structures, $35,420,035 on transportation; $19,201,227 on maintenance of equipment; $3,303,146 on traffic expenses; $4,942,325 on general expenses.

WATERMELON CROP PAYS TEXAS TOWN

WEATHERFORD (Tex.) Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Shipments of watermelons from Weatherford during the present season up to August, aggregated approximately 1000 carloads, including truck shipments estimated at 300 carloads. Much of the early crop was moved by truck before carload shipments began and truckers continued to haul during the entire season. After carload buyers dropped out on account of the melons being too ripe to stand the long haul, trucks were moving ten and twelve cars a day.

An average price to the grower for the season is estimated at $150 a carload, or around $150,000 for the season. The shipping season began about July 10, last, and sales are still being made and truck shipments are going out daily.

INDUSTRIES STUDIED

SHANGHAI, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) Eight committees to study various phases of industry were appointed at the second meeting of the board of directors of the China Institute of Scientific Management. They will study management, personnel, finance administration, general affairs, factory conditions, consumption of products and zoning.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. R. GUERRERO

Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

"En Sevilla no se para", leemos en el sexto párrafo del artículo que estamos comentando, "y sería inútil resistir a esta corriente de diversión . . ."

"No se para" significa en este caso "no descansa, o no se da tregua, la gente", "está en continua agitación y actividad". En España, la acepción más general del verbo "parar" es cesar en el movimiento o en la acción, y el reflejo "pararse" se usa allá en el sentido de "detenerse", y no en el de "ponerse en pie", que le dan en toda América y que ya tiene la sanción académica. Diremos, de paso, que esta última es una acepción de más que tiene el verbo "parar" en América, donde se le usa asimismo en todas las que tiene en España.

Sobre el particular nos dice lo siguiente el señor Cuervo en sus notables Apuntaciones Críticas: "Párese, amigo; no esté ahí acostado"; "Párese y camine", son frases, como dice Sánchez Somoano ("Modismos, locuciones y términos mejicanos", p. 21, Madrid, 1892), de sentido contradictorio y que causan extrañeza a los españoles, porque para éstos la significación común de "pararse" es "detenerse" y no "levantarse". El uso bogotano es común a toda la América Española, lo que naturalmente ha sugerido la idea de que tenga su origen en España. El señor Batres Jáuregui ("Provincialismos de Guatemala", pp. 426-7, Guatemala, 1892) fue, a lo que entendemos, el primero que halló la explicación citando dos pasajes de "Calila y Dimna", que copiaremos más abajo, en los cuales se encuentra "parose en pie", "parado en pies"; completóla el Sr. Calcaño (El castellano en Venezuela", p. 295, Caracas, 1897) recordando que "parar" valía, y aún vale en ciertos casos, "poner", y aplicando la analogía de "hincarse" por "hincarse de rodillas". "Suum cuique". Por manera que, omitido el determinativo, "pararse" se ha hecho sinónimo de "levantarse", "enderezarse" ("pararse en la cabeza" igual a "ponerse de cabeza"), "parar" de "levantar", "enderezar" ("parar un taburete" igual a "levantarlo", "ponerlo en pie"), y "parado" de "puesto en pie", "erguido", "derecho" "cuello parado" igual a "cuello derecho").

No sabemos que en España se use hoy sino en Asturias: "La xente, si está sentao ("sic"), párase si se pon erguida" (Rato y Hevia); de esa región pudo dilatarse en América, lo mismo que "donde" usado como preposición; paralelismo tanto más patente cuanto que, lo mismo que "donde", se conserva aquí entre los judíos de Levante.

"Mandaron fazer una escalera muy grand et muy alta, et pararla arrimada a la puerta" ("Crónica general, p. 91, 37: Men. Pidal); "Mando el Cid que se llegassen todos los sus vasallos en el alcacar, et desque fueron todos ayuntados, el Cid parosse en pie, et llorando de los oios comenzo a dezir . . . Parosse el Cid en pie, et fizo su predicación muy noble" ("Ib.", p. 634, 20, 29; en la "Crónica del Cid" no se halla la frase sino en el último lugar: cap. CCLXXX, p. 297, Marburgo, 1844); "Et quando el gato vido la liebre et la gineta asomar de lueñe, parose en pie a orar" ("Calila é Dygna": C. G. Allen, p. 169); "Et la raposa fue a buscarlo, et fallóle parado en pies" ("Ib.", p. 200); "La grua que se para en un pie con miedo que se sumirá la tierra conella" ("Ib.", p. 156);; "Es tan sutil, que si se para con él a demanda y respuesta, no le podrá resistir" (Venegas, "Agonía del tránsito de la muerte", punto III, cap. IX); "Sus vestiduras se pararon blancas como la nieve" (Granada, "Oración y consideración", pte. I, cap. I, 45); "La bestia maledicta plena de travesura . . . — Parosell delante en una angostura" (Berceo, "S. Millán", copla 112); "Mandó el rey a todos tollerse los uestidos: — Pararonse en carnes quales fueron nacidos" ("Alexandre" copla 1999); "Maria quando la vio — Leuantose, en pie ant ella se paro, — Los ynogos ant ella finco" ("Santa María Egypciaca", v. 479).

"Pararse a la ventana", hace notar el señor Cuervo, es "ponerse a ella": "Llama a mi hija Clavela, que se pare a la ventana, que le quiero hablar" (Lope de Rueda, "Obras", tomo II, p. 175); en el pasaje siguiente, "parado" vale para nosotros "en pie": "Vino a la fortaleza con su gente bien armado, y habló con D. Bartolomé; debía ser por las ventanas, D. Bartolomé parado" (Fr. B. de las Casas, "Hist. de Indias", tomo II, p. 157).

En la Plática próxima terminaremos estas importantes observaciones del señor Cuervo.

MOTORIST HITS TREE AND NOW IN HOSPITAL

HANFORD, Sept. 7.—Joe Acebedo drove an automobile into a tree in the west-end of town about noon today and is at a local hospital under treatment for badly lacerated lips, various bruises, and possibly a cracked rib. Hospital attaches say he will make a speedy recovery unless some complication develops.

Many of Kern's Rural Schools to Open Today

VISALIA, Sept. 7. — Ten rural schools were opened during the past week, with all rural schools of Tulare county expected to be in operation by the third week in September, according to announcement made by County Superintendent of Schools J. E. Buckman. Several of the schools have delayed opening so that children working in the fruit harvest might finish their work. Schools with their work already under way are: Bliss, Eshom Valley, Hanby, Linder, Milo, Orange, Rural, South Tule, Springville and Thermal.

Thirty-two schools will open tomorrow morning, with a holiday, Admission Day, Tuesday, and work resumed next day. Several will open the morning of the 10th inst., while a yet larger number will defer starting until the 15th inst.

Last year's records show an average daily attendance of 13,087 children in the elementary schools of the county, a gain of 267 pupils over the attendance for 1929, which is better than the average gain throughout the State, that being 228.

Total value of the county's elementary schools for last year was placed at $3,162,227, an increase of $140,831, over the previous fiscal year. Total disbursements for the year were $1,101,270.63, a gain of something over $25,000 over the previous school year. The cost per average daily attendance also rose slightly, $76.66 being listed for 1930, and $76.06 for 1929.

Big Six

Chuck Klein's inability to hit Boston pitching broke the fairly even tenor of the Big Six batting race yesterday and the young Philadelphian dropped suddenly from a tie for second place in the standing to a rather shaky fourth. Klein made only one hit in eight trips to the plate and lost 5 points from his average, dropping to .386.

Babe Herman took second, adding 2 points to his mark with three hits in four attempts, while Lou Gehrig, who hit his thirty-ninth home run and two less-important blows in five times up, went into third with a .391 average, gaining 3 points.

Al Simmons went up 1 point to .385 with two hits in four times at bat. Bill Terry and Babe Ruth, the first and the last in the standing, lost a point apiece. Terry hit one out of four and Ruth two out of six.

FOUR-ROUND CARD ON TAP AT OCEAN PARK

The four-round days are here again. Promoter Claude Bridges has lined up a card of seven four-round bouts for the Ocean Park club Wednesday night. Jess Gabucco and Jim Barba, 134 pounders, will box the wind-up. Other bouts are: Verle Whitehead vs. Charlie Parks, 145 pounds; Jack Slager vs. Manuel Victoria, 150 pounds; Andy De Young vs. Battling Dozier, 165 pounds; Tony Cadena vs. Lorenz Navarra, 150 pounds; Bobby Garcia vs. Frisco Linda, 118 pounds; Kid Valdon vs. Tomaso Archn*egini, 160 pounds.

FREDDIE MERINO TO TAKE ON THOMPSON

Freddie Merino, Compton 136-pounder, will meet Billy Thompson in the six-round main event at Compton Friday night. Merino's knockout string was halted last Friday night when he drew with Don Smith. He had scored seventeen straight kayoes. Other bouts on the Friday night card, all four-rounders, are: John Todd vs. Danny Martin, 160 pounds; Russell Smith vs. Johnny Garnone, 125 pounds; Bert Smith vs. Jimmy Powell, 148 pounds; Paul Burke vs. Tony Flores, 128 pounds.

PORTERVILLE CARS GIVEN BRAKE-TESTING

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 7.—Of 200 cars stopped during a brake-testing drive held here during the past week, only twenty-one machines were found to have defective brakes. Drivers were given an opportunity to have the brakes adjusted, after which they will have to appear before the nearest traffic officer for another test. During a headlight drive a few nights ago, ninety-six cars were stopped, resulting in twenty-three citations being issued for defective lights.

BRYAN GOING STRONG

Ed Bryan chalked up another victory Saturday night, giving him seven wins in the last seven starts. Bryan now has an up-to-date average of seventeen wins and eight defeats. He is right up among the leading hurlers of the Coast League.

KEMP TO INSTALL TROJAN GRID SYSTEM AT WILSON

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—To Rocky Kemp, Trojan reserve quarterback for the past three years, falls the lot of introducing the Jones power system in Long Beach. As the first Southern California graduate to spread Trojan gospel in this city of middle-western mentors, Kemp's career as coach of the Wilson High eleven in the Coast League will be watched closely.

Kemp is fortunate in having an outstanding backfield star around which he can build his attack. Just as Jones had his Kaer, Drury, Williams and Saunders as key men for the past four years, so does Kemp have Jack Brande, captain and star fullback in the Bay League a year ago. Brande, 190-pound triple threat ace, will shoulder the brunt of the offense.

When noses were counted for the first time last Tuesday, eight letter men appeared ready for action. In addition to Brande, the select group included Fred Cronk, quarterback; Carl Gescheider, halfback; Johnny McNee, center; Kenneth Smith and Al Lunde, guards; Pete Long, tackle, and Mel Masterman, end.

Ernie Roberts, a Canadian transfer with two years of rugby football under his belt, is being groomed for a backfield berth also. Another husky with ball-packing hopes is Hugo Slocumbe, chunky junior from Coalinga. Bob Murray, an inside halfback reserve last year, is also considered seriously for the position.

Bear meat is not so tough around the shanks. While the center of the line presents a powerful front in Messrs. McNee, Smith and Lunde, there is a dearth of talent about the tackles and wings. Don Frampton, a Class B graduate, may become Long's running mate at tackle and there is a possibility that Masterson may be converted into a tackle. Barney O'Connell, backed by two years' experience at Redlands High, has enrolled to bid for a tackle or guard position.

Artificial Stimulation of Silver Studied

Visitors Return Today on Dollar Liner

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Artificial stimulation of the value of silver in the interests of American-Oriental trade is the pretentious aim of Los Angeles and San Francisco Chinese merchants, convening in Los Angeles last night and this morning.

Conferences got under way following the arrival of fifty-eight members of the San Francisco Chinese Chamber of Commerce aboard the Dollar liner President Jefferson yesterday noon, led by P. C. Quock, chairman.

The delegation was met at the local dock by executives of the Los Angeles Chinese Chamber of Commerce, and the latter's band and escorted uptown, where a banquet was scheduled last night.

"We believe much can be done artificially to stimulate trade between China and America," explained Lee T. Yat, executive of a San Francisco Chinese paper, adding, "and that means bolstering up the price of silver, now low and proving an adverse factor in China's trade."

The northern delegates will return home on the same liner sailing for the Orient via San Francisco at noon today. The President Jefferson disembarked seventy-five trans-Pacific passengers, and George Neil, local Dollar passenger manager, and Mrs. Neil, who have been on vacation to Alaska. Two thousand tons of oriental cargo, an increase over recent averages, are being discharged here, and the liner will pick up almost as much Southland cargo destined for the Orient.

Among the two score travelers to embark from here is Joseph Ballentine, American Consul-General to Canton, wife and three daughters; Lieutenant-Commander R. C. Saunders, U.S.N., wife and son, being transferred from San Diego to naval station at Shanghai, and many missionaries en route to China and Japan.

SANDBERG CALLED BACK TO WASHINGTON

Capt. S. S. Sandberg, Shipping Board commissioner, yesterday was summoned back to Washington, departing on the Los Angeles Limited over the Union Pacific at 6:05 p.m.

His hasty return was unexplained, other than that he had received word he was needed at once. His hurried departure cut short his visit with his family and friends here, and caused the cancellation of several civic and shipping entertainments in his honor booked for this week. Among them was a dinner by the Bilge Club, of which he is a charter member, set for tonight.

Long Beach Harbor Department is expected to issue a call this week for bids on the dredging of 500,000 cubic yards of earth and pile driving to repair breaks in the outer and inner bulkheads. It is the continuance of work begun by C. J. Kubach Company, removed from the job by that city after the breaks occurred and a dispute over the responsibility followed. San Francisco Bridge Company, holding a subcontract from the Kubach firm, withdrew its dredges from the job late last week. Maj. R. C. McGlone, Long Beach port manager, expects work to get underway in three weeks.

The body of Carl R. Hellsten, 45 years of age, first mate on the lumber steamer Noyo, was found by a store-room helper yesterday morning in the quadrant room of the ship, docked at Berth 36. He was believed crushed to death between the hull and the quadrant, when the rudder was put hard over, in docking the ship on arrival from Eureka. Native of Finland, he is understood to have no relatives in this country. The body was removed to Cleveland's undertaking parlors at San Pedro.

Selection of the Longshoremen's football team is expected this week following the turnout of forty stalwart cargo heavers at Fort MacArthur yesterday. Although many of last year's stars are out for the team, it is understood new material is crowding several veterans. Difficulty in obtaining gridirons at the harbor may cause several games to be played at Long Beach. Manuel Laranetta is head coach.

The bait boat Adventurer returned to French Sardine Company's cannery yesterday, twenty days out, with 130 tons of yellowfin, the fourth successive voyage with almost capacity loads. The craft, 108 feet long, and built two years ago at a cost of around $80,000, will be completely paid for in another successful trip or two. She is owned and skippered by Capt. August Filando.

Imminent participation of Pacific Coast yards in ship construction inspired by mail subvention, is foreseen by W. Irving Glover, second assistant Postmaster-General. "This will come when the sixty-eight new or reconditioned ships provided for are built at a cost of $275,000,000," he said in a recent statement advocating parity in merchant vessels as well as in warships. West Coast yards a week ago bid on four $4,000,000 Panama Mail liners, but the tenders still are kept secret by W. R. Grace & Co.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Establishment of three free ports in the United States was suggested by Jefferson Myers, North Pacific Coast Shipping Board Commissioner, in a survey published here today.

Myers proposed the establishment of a free port on the Pacific, the Gulf and the Atlantic as a step toward restoring world-wide business activity. The free ports would be manufacturing areas to which foreign raw material could be admitted duty free and the finished products exported.

"The importation of such raw materials which are not generally produced here should be encouraged," he said. "We could work up such materials here for re-export and thus stimulate domestic manufacturing."

TACOMA, Sept. 7.—Four freighters berthed at Tacoma docks today. The Griffco got in from Vancouver, B. C.; the Anglo Indian made dock from Torrevieja, Spain, with a cargo of salt for a local chemical plant; the Yukon arrived from Seward and the Olyment from Los Angeles.

The Yukon, Griffco and Olyment will discharge ore at the Tacoma Smelter Monday.

The Brandanger, Norwegian motorship, was due at the smelter at 1 a.m. Monday to load several hundred tons of copper for Europe. She is of the new Inter-Ocean Line and is the first of the fleet to call here.

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—The twin screw motorship Brandanger arrived on Puget Sound today from New York to inaugurate the Interocean Steamship Company's new service between the Pacific Northwest and Europe. She came from New York in ballast, having discharged her European cargo at the eastern port.

The Brandanger will load copper, doors, lumber and general cargo for Havre, Antwerp and Rotterdam. She is a Westfal-Larsen ship, chartered to the Interocean company.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7. — Arthur Farmer, secretary of the Portland Shipping Club, announced today the first meeting of the club during the present season will be held Monday night with Desiderio Garcia, Undersecretary of Commerce of Chile as the principal speaker.

Garcia will have with him Carlos De la Barra, commercial secretary of the Chilean Embassy, Washington; M. Barrueto, agronomist; F. Gonzales, attached to the Department of Commerce, Chile; F. Garcia, industrialist, and D. Barrueto, agriculturist, all members of the delegation here from Chile.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the shipping club is its successful promotion of Marine Day in Portland.

Guards Rescue Three in Surf

MANHATTAN BEACH, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Three persons narrowly escaped drowning here today, two when they were caught in a rip tide and the other when he became exhausted while swimming. County lifeguards rescued all three.

Joe Ball of Inglewood and Mrs. Ted Jackson of Gardena were carried 500 yards from shore by the rip tide before the guards overtook them and helped them ashore. They were quickly revived.

G. E. Hayward of Los Angeles signaled for help when he tired 300 yards out. Brought back, he was resuscitated only after a half-hour's work with an inhalator.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Old English." More of the charming sentimentality at which George Arliss is a past master.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"It's a Wise Child." A splendid cast enacts this modern treatment of an old theme. Recommended to those who take comedy with a grain of salt and lots of pepper.

Biltmore, Fifth and Grand—"Dishonored Lady." Opens tonight.

[illegible], Figueroa at Pico—"The Missing Witness." Hysterical courtroom highlights, all familiar. Maude Fealy.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"The Poor Nut." The campus sap becomes a hero overnight and it's worth seeing. Elliott Nugent.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Good Old Days." Talk and back talk from Kolb and Dill.

Vine Street, 1615 N. Vine—"A Cup of Sugar." The delightful comedienne, Dorothy Mackaye, returns in a farce about husbands and various wives.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT FOR MAIN STREET

A double main event of two six-round bouts will top the boxing card at the Main-street club Saturday night. Carlo Curtis plans to use Joe Guerrero, Mexican lightweight champion, in one of the features.

Guerrero made his first ring appearance in seven months when he boxed Johnny Chrismas at the downtown club last Saturday night. It was a hard-fought bout from start to finish with Guerrero having the edge.

Baby Sal Sorio boxed on the same card and stopped Johnny White in the first round. It was Sorio's seventh straight knockout.

Guerrero and Sorio proved the biggest drawing cards to appear at the Main-street in months. The club was packed and several hundred fans were turned away.

WASHINGTON NOW BASEBALL-MINDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Washington is baseball minded just now and even the trans-Atlantic aviators from France went by a crowd in front of a scoreboard on Pennsylvania avenue unnoticed this afternoon.

A few moments after the aviation heroes, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, had passed, two runs were posted on the scoreboard for Washington and the gathering shouted lustily as an indication they have not given up pennant hopes despite the six and a half games by which Washington is trailing Philadelphia.

BERMUDA YACHTSMEN WIN

LARCHMONT (N. Y.) Sept. 7. (AP) The Royal Bermuda Yacht Club won a special two-race six-meter yacht team contest with the United States, 11 1-4 points to 9 1-4. The Bermuda team outscored the Americans, 6 1-4 points to 4 in the morning race, but trailed in the afternoon, 5 1-4 to 5, thus winning the series by only 2 points.

SEALS HAVE 1000 RUNS

Prince Oana stole home in the fifth inning of Saturday night's contest to score San Francisco's 1000th run of the season. Oana's two-bagger was the Seals 1807th safe hit of the season. That would make the average one run scored for every 1.8 safe hits.

NORTHERN TEAM IN FINE SHAPE

Washington Squad to Start Season with Vim

Phelan's Outfit Reported Ready for Season

Idaho Vandals Have Eleven Games Lined Up

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON (Seattle, Wash.) Sept. 7.—Every kind of work on the laboring calendar — from piling bricks, to juggling cement, grading roads and catching salmon — has been on the bill of fare of University of Washington athletes this summer in preparation for the stiff dose of intercollegiate football they will face when the 1930 season opens the 15th inst.

JIMMY PHELAN

Virtually every potential position-holder on the Husky squad has spent the summer doing stiff manual labor. A few recovering from or undergoing minor operations to remedy slight ailments have been having things relatively easy, but the majority have been engaged in shoulder and back work that has put them in the pink of condition for opening the season.

Al Heinies, the varsity captain, has been leading the list of beef and muscle developers by juggling bricks and pottery products at a local clay works and brick factory.

Jack Patrick, last year's quarterback, has been spending the summer driving a Rainier Park Company bus, while Larry Westerweller, one of Phelan's best prospects for a wing berth, has also been vacationing over a truck wheel.

Merle Hufford, flashy halfback around whom Phelan will build a great deal in shaping his 1930 offensive, has spent the summer working on the new turf field the Huskies have been installing, and as a result is in the best shape of his career. He is burnt nearly black through his outdoor life and is hardened to splendid trim.

Gob Wentworth, the big tackle who is expected to show mighty well this season, has been driving a truck and working on a construction crew with a local outdoor advertising concern, and is reported as hard and as fit as the nails he has been hammering all summer.

The farthest - away - from - home Washington man this year is Lee Shelton, letter-man guard, who early in the spring packed his duffle aboard an Alaska troller, and has spent the summer somewhere off the coast of Alaska in the fisheries business. He will be back in time for the opening workout, according to latest reports.

IDAHO VANDALS HAVE ELEVEN GAMES

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO (Moscow) Sept. 7.—Eleven games, four with Pacific Coast Conference teams, is the schedule Idaho's Vandals will start preparing for when Coach Leo Calland holds his first practice of the 1930 season on the 15th inst.

Leading off with the Montana State game at Moscow on the 27th inst., the Vandals will play on six successive week-ends, four of them out-of-town games. November 15 is an open date, followed by games with Montana and U.C.L.A., the Vandals traveling in each case. A breathing spell of two weeks and Calland will take his Vandals to the Hawaiian Islands for games on Christmas and New Year's Day, against the University of Hawaii and the Honolulu All-Stars.

Calland is not underestimating the strength of Montana State this year. Last fall Idaho won handily from the Bobcats, but later during the season the Montana State eleven gathered strength unexpectedly and defeated several strong teams. College of Idaho at Boise on October 4 is Idaho's only appearance in the southern part of the State. Both games Calland expects his team to win, leaving the Vandals a clean slate when they play Washington at Seattle on October 11.

Whitman again journeys to Moscow on October 18. The following week-end the Vandals entrain for Eugene to meet Oregon on October 25, one of the toughest games on Idaho's schedule. Gonzaga University and Idaho tangle at Spokane on November 1. Washington State comes to Moscow this year for Idaho's home-coming game, always a battle.

Serenader is Big Winner at Border Track

AGUA CALIENTE (Baja California, Mex.) Sept. 7.—The gallant Serenader, 11 years of age, an English gelding by Bachelors Double out of Golden Harp, was the most frequent winner of the 600 horses which competed in Agua Caliente summer racing.

In the purple silks of Hamilton H. Cotton's La Brea stable, the veteran seven times reached the winner's circle. His best performance was on August 31, when he equaled the track record for seven furlongs by winning in 1:24 2-5. On August 11 he won at six furlongs in 1:11 flat, a figure that was subsequently lowered when Dr. Higbee ran in 1:10 3-5 under the light weight allowed by the Owners' Handicap conditions. Serenader also ran five and a half furlongs in the brilliant time of 1:05 3-5.

Wheeler will Play Football with Firemen

Royce Wheeler, the 190-pound Texan, who proved such a great end with the fire department football team in 1928 and '29 is back with Coach Bill Blewett's aggregation for the 1930 season. Blewett rates Wheeler as one of the greatest wingmen of the Pacific Coast and was considerably elated when the big boy reported for work.

Along with Wheeler came Ed Stevers, 215-pound guard from the California Aggies, who proved one of the leading linesmen of Northern California last season. Stevers can play either guard or center equally well, but Blewett will, no doubt, put him at one of the guard posts, leaving ex-Captain Larry Casey at center.

The Smoke-Eaters open their season two weeks from tonight at Wrigley Field, meeting the team from the Oneonta Military Academy. Blewett was tickled pink with his men after last week's scrimmage against the U.S.S. Mississippi team. Moses, Byers and Nolan proved unstoppable.

Bell Shatters Borotra Hopes

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 7 (AP) Jean Borotra's dream of winning the American national men's singles tennis championship, the only major title that has escaped his grasp, is ended. Apparently forever.

The famous "Bounding Basque," 32 years old and approaching the end of his international competitive career, was eliminated in the first round of the current championships yesterday by slender Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex., who was not even given the honor of being seeded in the draw. Bell, after dropping the first set at 6-3, won the next three in a row, 6-2, 12-10, 7-5.

Other favorites advanced according to prediction but Cliff Sutter of New Orleans, just barely squeezed through to a 5-7, 6-4, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1 victory over Arthur W. MacPherson of New York, a comparative unknown.

Principal matches tomorrow will pit Bryant Grant of Atlanta against David N. Jones of New York; George Lott of Chicago against Richard N. Williams II of Philadelphia; H. G. N. Lee, England, against C. Alphonse Smith, Jr., Baltimore; Wilbur F. Coen, Jr.; Kansas City, against J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., and John Doeg, Santa Monica, against W. Barry Wood, Jr., of Boston.

Bill Tilden, seeking his eighth championship, won his first-round match in easy fashion, defeating C. Lincoln Halberstadt of New York, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4.

SPONSOR TURNS SPOT ON SELF

Plays Own Name, Leaving Artists Anonymous

Reception to French Flyers on Air at 9:30 a.m.

Jamboree Hour Tonight to Honor Teachers

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m., Stuart Buchanan and Mary Duckett in eighteenth century playlet. World-wide News at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

"This is a fine program featuring a very famous male quartet and a large orchestra . . . The sponsor prefers to hook up his own name to their talent rather than have them appear under the name which they made famous," is an explanation of why one program on tonight's radio dial might read "Kelly's Kan Company," which—to radio fans, dialing for the best on the air—means exactly nothing. A like parallel would be a program featuring President Hoover, but reading "Slippery Soap Company Half Hour."

When the sponsor realizes that the listener-in is primarily interested in what he is going to hear—not who is sponsoring it—he will agree with Shakespeare that "the play's the thing." Nobody cares two crab apples whether it is a mortuary, a gas foundry or Santy Claus sponsoring the program. First, they want to know what they are going to hear, who is going to sing, speak, or bid for their audience.

And if the sponsor would turn to the radio dial for his own pleasure—he would demand the same denouement.

THEY TELL US THAT—

KFI at 9:30 this morning offers thirty minutes of the reception tendered the gallant French aviators, Cos and Bellonte, by President Hoover at Washington.

KFWB at 9:30 tonight finds Tom Breneman with his Radio Periscope tearing leaves out of the history of Ponce de Leon, the Fountain of Youth to be converted into a fountain of laughs.

Stanford University gets a break today. KHJ at 3 p.m. points to Guy Lombardo and his orchestra over C.B.S., dedicating its half hour to the Cardinals. A male quartet promises to present a medley of Stanford's favorite songs.

"Oh, tee-chur." Believe it or not, KHJ's Blue Monday Jamboree at 8 p.m. laughs, cries, cracks and sings in honor of "School-teachers." The old village schoolhouse will be torn apart. The bad boy and the teacher's pet will cavort—and what they call "other things in a schoolmarm's life" will be celebrated in song and comedy. What an opportunity for real humor.

Music lovers may dial KFI at 6—the Rochester Civic Orchestra; the "Prize Song" from Wagner's opera; the overture to Beethoven's drama "Egmont," and Delibes "La Source, Ballet Suite No. 14," sound like a real treat.

KECA's "Half Hour in the Nation's Capitol" at 4 offers Gen. James G. Harbord. His subject, "Practical Democracy in New York City."

PLAYS ON AIR

KNX today at 3:30 and each Monday hereafter—the Civic Repertory Theater, Ltd., of Hollywood. Today Leslie Palmer in two scenes from the "Merchant of Venice," assisted by Gordon Donald.

Again at 8:30—KNX presents a playlet, "The Runyons," a comedy.

KTM at 9 p.m., another "Charmer of History," Belle Starr, famous southern beauty of Civil War time She turns bandit, cutthroat and everything.

KMTR at 8 p.m. points to Rube Wolf and his Fanchon and Marco artists. "Screen Mirror Frolic" is the title. This cast of players will bid for your dial every Monday night from now on.

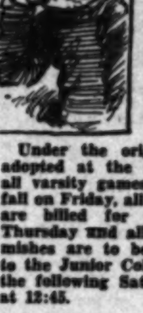
If you like torture, agony, snarls and blood-curdling yodelings, "The Emperor of Crime" will hold your dial. If not—it will be decidedly distasteful.

ANNOUNCE COAST SCHEDULE

Official Football Card for Revised Prep League Given, Nine Elevens to Compete

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Official and complete football schedules for the revised Coast Preparatory League were announced yesterday by Pat O'Mara of Pasadena, president of the conference.

There will be nine teams in the varsity division, eight in Class B and only six in Class C. San Diego is not entering the Class B or Class C races, while Pasadena and Compton will join the Hilltoppers as absentees in the Class C circuit. Long Beach Poly, Santa Ana, Alhambra, Fullerton, Glendale and Woodrow Wilson of Long Beach each will be represented by all three classes.



Under the original schedule adopted at the spring session, all varsity games are slated to fall on Friday, all Class C games are billed for the preceding Thursday and all Class B skirmishes are to be preliminaries to the Junior College games on the following Saturday to start at 12:45.

Yet, a majority of the Friday varsity tilts are to be waged on Saturday, instead. These shifts are left to the mutual consent of the schools concerned. Long Beach Poly plans to play only one game on Friday, that with Compton on October 10. Wilson High, on the other hand, will play all games on Friday except its engagements at San Diego and Fullerton.

Following is the schedule of games, as originally adopted with Friday dates. The probable Saturday changes will not affect the order of games nor the Class C games on Thursday and Saturday, respectively. The schedule:

OCTOBER 10
Santa Ana at Woodrow Wilson.
Glendale at Fullerton.
Pasadena at San Diego.
Compton at Long Beach Poly.
Alhambra, bye.

OCTOBER 17
Fullerton at Pasadena.
Santa Ana at Compton.
Alhambra at Glendale.
Woodrow Wilson at San Diego.
Long Beach Poly, bye.

OCTOBER 24

MISS COTTON WEDS LIONEL E. OGDEN

Mrs. Victoria Reyes Cotton Ogden

With Mgr. Clifford, who also officiated at the marriage of the bride's father and mother, performing the ceremony, Miss Victoria Reyes Cotton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cotton, became the bride of Lionel E. Ogden this week-end at the parents' San Clemente estate.

The ceremony took place in the patio in the presence of 250 friends Saturday afternoon and the couple left immediately for a motor honeymoon trip through the northern part of the State. They plan to be gone several weeks.

The patio was decked with yellow and white chrysanthemums and dahlias, as was also the altar before which the couple took their vows. The bride wore a brown velvet suit trimmed with fox fur. Her mother was attired in an apricot ensemble with ermine trimming. Orchids and lilies of the valley were used in the table decorations.

The groom is a graduate of Stanford University and his bride was educated at an exclusive school in the East. Both are well known in Los Angeles society.

STREET BIDS TO BE READ WEDNESDAY

Works Board will Open Tenders for Broadway and Moneta Avenue District

The Board of Public Works on Wednesday will receive and open bids for the paving and improving of streets in the Broadway and Moneta avenue improvement district. This project, which means the opening of Broadway as a major traffic artery from Pico street to Forty-first street, where it connects with the present Broadway, formerly Moneta avenue, will cost an estimated $525,000.

The city has allocated $348,050, the remainder to be raised by assessment district.

The project includes nearly two and one-half miles of concrete paving, with Warrenite wearing surface. There also will be more than a mile of storm drains, four miles of sewers, curbs, gutters, sidewalks and an ornamental lighting system.

The roadway will range between fifty-six and sixty feet wide. An entirely new street has been cut between Pico street and Santa Barbara avenue.

Last Wednesday the board opened bids for the construction of a pedestrian subway between Twenty-eighth and Thirtieth streets in conjunction with the Broadway project. The low bid was $5057. This expense will be borne by the Board of Education.

COST MAP APPROVED

CROP OUTLOOK GROWS BETTER

Southland Returns Expected to Exceed 1929 Income

Prospects Brighten as Farm Year Nears Close

Citrus Fruits Especially in Strong Position

With the agricultural year at the three-quarter mark, Southern California's crop return prospects are brighter than earlier indications promised, according to Southern California Crops, monthly market and field report of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Expectations are that the total return will equal or exceed that of 1929 when the total value of crops in the ten southern counties alone was $268,651,000.

A continued high level on citrus fruits, the principal crop in this area, has been largely responsible for the maintenance of Southern California's record, the chamber's report declares and, although prices for Southland crops harvested earlier in the year were not entirely satisfactory, a strong marketing season for the remainder of the year is anticipated.

VALENCIA PRICE GOOD

Valencia orange prices are still on a very satisfactory level and the market is expected to be particularly active during the remainder of the season with less than 5000 carloads yet to be marketed, the report states, giving as reasons the declining competition from summer fruits, the smaller volume of citrus shipments and the better condition of fruit than is generally noticeable during September.

Reports from orchards indicate that the coming crop of oranges will be one of the largest in the history of the industry.

The avocado harvest during August was the lightest of the year, but an increasing volume is expected during this month. Satisfactory prices continue for this year. The new season, which begins about October 15, is expected to usher in the harvest of an extremely large crop of the tropical fruit, according to avocado growers.

CANNERIES ACTIVE

The California deciduous fruit season is just passing its peak with the exception of grapes. While dry yards have about completed their activity, the canning of peaches still continues. The dried fruit market is still very quiet and a disappointment to growers in general. There is more activity in the canned fruit line, however.

Present indications are that, with the exception of apricots, deciduous fruit crops exceeded in yield those of last year. The almond harvest is under way in the north, with a promise of a 12,500-ton yield.

Both agriculturists and financial interests of the State are watching the progress of the Grape Control Board in its effort to administer the sale and distribution of this year's large crop of grapes. Although the carrying out of the Federal Farm Board plan is conceded to be a gigantic task, leaders in the grape industry are optimistic over the progress that has been made so far.

WALNUT CROP LESS

The second season's estimate of the coming California walnut crop indicates a total State tonnage for 1930 of less than 70 per cent of last year's output. The average size of the nuts is varying, according to the California Walnut Growers' Association, and it is expected that the quality will be excellent, although the harvest will be late.

California's field crops, too, are in generally good condition with yields above those of last year with the exception of cotton and potatoes. It is conceded that the most favorable outlook in California agriculture, taking the State as a whole, is in field crops. The demands on California agriculture, coming as a result of the drought and the fact that in time of depression people lean most heavily on staple articles, confirms the opinion that foodstuffs and staples will move readily during the coming several months at fair prices.

COTTON OUTLOOK ROSY

Field conditions in the cotton areas are reported as being extremely satisfactory with the crop progressing normally. Ginning is under way in the desert areas and the first bale has been taken in the San Joaquin section. The quality of cotton this year is above aver-

SUNDAY FIRE BRINGS LOSS OF $75,000

Wood-Carving Factory and Equipment Destroyed; Other Buildings Ignited

A mechanical wood-carving factory with equipment of intricate machinery and stock of finished carved furniture parts was destroyed by a fire of underdetermined origin late yesterday afternoon together with two adjoining residences. Sparks from the three blazing buildings in turn fired the roofs of two additional buildings more than a block away and for a time threatened destruction to scores of nearby homes.

The blaze started in the factory of the S. J. Gansel Manufacturing Company, 1378 East Fifteenth street, makers of machine-carved furniture, and quickly spread to adjoining structures, one at 1386 East Fifteenth street; a rooming-house which was partially destroyed, and the other on the same street at 1384, a residence, which was totally burned. Firemen estimated the damage of the tripple blaze to be approximately $75,000.

An underground gasoline storage tank was directly under the flaming wreckage of the factory and its presence caused police and firemen to warn away the crowds which thronged the vicinity. The firemen were successful in subduing the blaze from the inflammable liquid.

During the fight to control the flames in the wood-carving factory, two additional alarms from 1421 and 1419 Newton street were received by the firemen. Roof blazes on both structures were quickly subdued with nominal damage.

G.O.P. WILL ORGANIZE WEDNESDAY

County Committee to Meet at City Hall for Election of Officers

Members of the new Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee will meet for organization purposes Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Board of Supervisors' room in the Hall of Records. As soon as the meeting is called to order an adjournment will be taken to the Council chamber at the City Hall, where there will be sufficient room for the 303 members of the committee.

The law says that the committee must meet at the Courthouse. However, there is no room either in the Hall of Records or the Courthouse to accommodate the meeting, hence the adjournment to the Council chamber.

The Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Department Thirteen, eighth floor of the Hall of Records. The Prohibitionists will gather Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Department Twelve, Hall of Records. The Socialists have not announced their meeting date as yet, it was stated at the Courthouse Saturday.

Registration of U.S.C. Freshmen to Start Today

Freshmen students of the University of Southern California are scheduled to start their scholastic life at the university at 1:30 p.m. today with the formation of registration lines. Registration of the new students will open a four-day period which has been named "Freshmen Week" by university officials.

Registration opening will be preceded by a meeting in Bovard Auditorium at 10 a.m. at which short addresses of welcome will be given, and by a luncheon.

Tomorrow noon the freshmen will be the guests at a luncheon sponsored by various student organizations and Wednesday afternoon will be devoted to conferences with faculty advisers and enrollment procedure.

Upper classmen returning to the university will complete their registrations Friday and Saturday.

PLAY ENVOYS UNNAMED

Because of the condition of playground funds representatives of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department this year may not be sent to attend the National Recreation Congress nor the western division congress on playgrounds. There is in the playground budget provision for $1300 to send two representatives to the national session, but the Playground and Recreation Commission has deferred the matter of selecting delegates.

BABY LEFT ON CHURCH FLOOR

Note of Young Mother Pleads for Care

Abandoned infant in arms of Nurse Marie Nilson of Children's Home-Finding Society.

MRS. MARY PETTERMAN of 1110 West Thirty-sixth street stepped inside the door of St. Agnes Church at Vermont avenue and Adams street yesterday morning and discovered one of life's little tragedies. On the floor at her feet lay a small bundle of humanity, a 3-month-old baby boy wrapped neatly and cleanly in a pink blanket.

Pinned to the blanket was the following note addressed to the pastor: "Dear father: I kept my baby for three months, but I cannot keep it any longer because I have no job, so please keep my baby until I am able to come and get him. I am only 17 years of age, and you know how hard it is to get a job for a girl who cannot read very well.

"I have no father or mother to help me. Dear father, you must know how broken-hearted I am to leave my baby like this, but it is the only way I can do. Will you please be so kind as to baptize my baby and name him John Louis and pray that I can get a job and come for my baby again. I will write before I come."

A postscript added: "Please turn my baby over to the Catholic Welfare Bureau."

Mrs. Petterman notified the church officials, who at once communicated with police juvenile authorities. Pending arrangements to find a home for the infant through the Catholic Welfare Bureau today he was placed temporarily in the care of the Children's Home-Finding Society at 919 East Twenty-fifth street.

In accordance with the wish of the young mother the baby will be baptized as soon as arrangements are made.

Eight Hundred Federal Cases to be Scheduled

More than 800 cases in the Federal term trial calendar are scheduled to go before United States District Judges McCormick, James and Cosgrave today to be set for trial. It is one of the largest calendars the three Federal courts have had to face.

Judge McCormick is to call the case of Juan A. Ramos, formerly a military official of Mexico and once a representative of that country in England, who is accused of embezzling funds of a local bank.

BRIDGE ACTION DELAYED

Pending completion of flood-control work in the Tujunga Wash, the City Council has delayed acting upon requests for a new bridge at San Fernando Road and a new viaduct over the Southern Pacific tracks at Tunnel Station.

REPORT ON SCOFIELD DUE SOON

Council Committee will Submit Its Conclusions at Session Thursday

The Water and Power Committee, according to Councilman Jacobson, chairman, is scheduled to submit to the City Council Thursday a report on Mayor Porter's proposal to remove Commissioner Scofield from the Water and Power Department.

The substance of the report is not known, and it probably will not be drafted until late. The other members of the committee are Councilmen Cooke and Williams. At the public hearing last Tuesday, when Scofield's friends were in the majority, in fact, packed the Council chamber, Williams was cheered and Cooke was jeered, when each expressed his views on the matter.

Scofield filed a letter with the Council contending that there is a "plot" against the Bureau of Power and Light. Mayor Porter, while not officially submitting to the Council any reasons for his action, recently issued a public statement indicating that Scofield stands in the way of a proper reorganization of the Department of Water and Power, designed to bring in business management and eliminate the "everlasting political mindedness" of this division of the city government.

In order to effect Commissioner Scofield's removal, the Mayor's order must have the approval of a majority, or 8 votes, in the Council.

GROUP TO DISCUSS SCOFIELD OUSTER MOVE

Mayor Porter's attempt to remove Commissioner Scofield from the Board of Water and Power Commissioners will be discussed by three speakers at a mass meeting Wednesday evening in the auditorium of Polytechnic High School by the Affiliated Improvement Associations of the city and county of Los Angeles. Commissioner Scofield will be one of the speakers. The others will be Harlan G. Palmer, formerly a member of the Water and Power Board, and Councilman Williams. J. E. Lambert, president of the organization, will preside.

BROOKSIDE PARK SEES RED RIOT

Officials in Pasadena Tear Down Soviet Sign

Communists Voice Threats During Commotion

Hundred Radicals Unite in Shouting Anger

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 7. — A small riot occurred in Brookside Park this afternoon when city officials tore down a ten-foot Communist propaganda sign urging the defense of the soviet union and support of the Chinese Communist revolutionaries. There was no bloodshed, but police and members of the local American Legion baseball team were kept on hand to quell further disturbance.

More than 300 members of the Young Communists' Society held an all-day picnic in the park today. They made no reservations for tables and scattered about the park in small groups.

Notified by Acting Caretaker Carl Bloomfield that a large sign attached to an automobile truck in which twenty of the Communists had come from Los Angeles was attracting considerable comment, Park Superintendent Gilbert Skutt hurried to the park to avert possible trouble.

TROUBLE STARTS

The excitement started when Skutt and Bloomfield, armed with hammers, began knocking down the sign which had been nailed to the truck body. Skutt asserted that his action in removing the sign was based on a city ordinance which forbids advertising in the park and his belief that inscriptions on the sign were against the interests of good government.

With the first hammer blow, scores of young Communists ran toward the truck, shouting and shaking their fists. Skutt and Bloomfield continued their work despite a mob of at least 100 young men and women which surrounded the truck.

ANGRY CRIES HEARD

Angry cries of "You won't get away with that!" and "If anyone takes that sign down, it'll be us!" disturbed other picnic groups, including an organization of former United States Navy officers.

As he stepped from the truck after removing the sign, Skutt was forced to display his special police badge before the crowd gave way and allowed him to leave the scene unarmed.

The Communists were told that if they observed the regulations against propaganda—speeches and display of signs, they would not be molested in using the park facilities not reserved for local residents.

SENATORS WILL START TRADE QUIZ

Los Angeles Sessions of Chinese Commerce Survey Open Here Tomorrow

The first Los Angeles session of the United States Senate committee to inquire into trade relations and conditions between the United States and China will convene tomorrow morning at the Chamber of Commerce, members of the committee announced yesterday.

Twelve Los Angeles bankers, importers and exporters will be called to appear before the committee, which includes Senators Pittman, Shipstead and Swanson, now here as its members. The business men will testify as to their knowledge of the working of commercial treaties, practices and conditions which affect the flow of trade, and will give suggestions as to how these conditions may be improved.

PETITION APPROVED

On recommendation of the Public Works Committee, the City Council has approved the petition for the improvement of streets in the Dudley Drive and Cato-street district and has instructed the City Engineer to draw up the necessary ordinances and specifications.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

WHAT is needed in the business world is a general massacre of the encore boys. You know whom I mean by the encore boys.

They finish their interview; go out; then while you are trying to get your business done, they poke their heads back into the office and say: "Excuse me, but I just wanted to say that if there is anything I can do for you let me know."

Two seconds later, they poke the bean back again to say: "I just gave your stenographer my number in case you wanted anything."

Two seconds later: "I just wanted to say that I was going to San Francisco by boat tomorrow in case you—"

At which point I add the mental note: "And I hope the boat sinks."

I don't know if in these college business courses, they teach the young business man the most valuable thing that could be taught: how to make a good exit—without encores . . . riding out on the crest of the wave.

I WANT HIS BLOOD

Being in a belligerent mood anyhow, I wish to announce that I yearn for the blood of one Earl Derr Biggers. He wrote this mystery story about Charley Chan, the Chinese detective, and I spend all the time between installments trying to figure out if the murderer was Capt. Keane of Mr. Tait. My fingers are gnawed to the bone. Of all the shoals of fiction detectives who have sleuthed through this avalanche of murder novels, Charley Chan is the most interesting and fascinating character.

GENIUS IS ECCENTRIC

Ann Nichols says that her favorite play is not "Abie's Irish Rose"—but another one that nobody but herself ever heard of.

When "Lightnin'" was ending its fourth year to "standing room only," Frank Bacon confided in me that he didn't think so much of the play. "Used to play a character just like Old Bill in a play called 'Gen. Grant's Picture,'" he said. "That was a real good play. Never could see why folks took so much stock in this one."

I guess the mother always loves the runt best.

THE END OF THE FRAY

Just as soon as I have another four or five millions, I think I shall start a newspaper of my own. I shall build up an enormous circulation by promising the cash customers that there will never be any stories about the various rounds of the fight between Aimee and Ma.

DETECTIVES

Guilt in the double murder at Ensenada has pretty well simmered down to a maniac; but it doesn't say much for the detectives of two continents that they can't find a homicidal maniac with a face full of gold teeth.

FIGHT CLUBS

You would think by reading the sporting columns that the fight producers sat up nights trying to plan fiascos. Jack Doyle is a very rich young man; is in the fight game for the sole purpose of holding up a maligned sport to a certain ethical standard; and he has made a good job of it. However queer the managers may be, it is assured that the fight clubs in Los Angeles—the American Legion and Doyle's are above stain.

SIGNS ORDERED

The City Council has directed that arterial stop signs be established at the intersection of Union Pacific avenue and Mirasol street.

GAS OFFICIALS ASSEMBLING

Coast Utility Corporation Heads will Discuss Problems of Industry at Pasadena Meeting

More than $300,000,000 of invested capital of some twenty-five gas utility companies from British Columbia to San Diego is represented by executives and department heads who will attend the thirty-seventh annual convention of the Pacific Coast Gas Association which will begin tomorrow at Hotel Huntington in Pasadena and continue through Friday. In addition, many representatives of appliance manufacturing companies and other trades allied with the gas industry will be present. Figures of national prominence in the industry are also scheduled, among them being Alexander Forward of New York, managing director of the American Gas Association.

The association is devoted to study of every phase of gas production and distribution problems. The annual convention is the culmination of the year's activities at which the leaders of the industry meet to discuss their various problems.

In the Pacific Coast section gas utility companies employ some 13,000 persons with a yearly pay roll of more than $21,000,000 and supply service through more than 23,000 miles of transmission and distributing mains. Their more than $300,000,000 invested capital plays an important part in the life of hundreds of communities.

The work of the convention is divided into general sessions and section meetings. The former handle topics of general interest to the industry, while the section groups discuss matters particularly related to the accounting, commercial, technical and public relations ends of the business.

Features of the convention are three-minute speaking contests for men and women, and a "stunts" contest—all on topics directly related to the gas industry — with prizes for the winners. These competitions will be participated in by representatives of the various utility companies who have been selected by elimination contests within their own organizations. A display of gas company advertising also will be featured, while an exhibition of the latest practice in gas distribution methods and equip-

AUTOIST ELECTROCUTED WHEN CAR HITS POLE

Death came instantly to Charles Sutton of 141 Napoleon avenue, Del Rey, early yesterday morning, when a high tension wire, broken from its fastenings when Sutton's automobile collided with a light pole, fell on the machine and electrocuted him.

The accident occurred near the intersection of Jefferson and Lincoln boulevards. R. L. Davis of 259 West Forty-second Place was the first witness at the scene. He notified police, who communicated with Southern California Edison officials. Employees of the company cut off the circuit and Sutton's body was removed to the County Morgue.

Officers who investigated stated Sutton had apparently lost control of his car due to faulty steering apparatus or obscured vision.

An automobile was considered as a deadly weapon by police with the arrest Saturday night of Kenneth S. Browning, 32 years of age, an aviator of 2518 Wellington Road, following an accident in which Mrs. Catherine Hammond of 1225 Irolo street was injured probably fatally.

Browning's car, according to officers Stromwell and Swindell, struck Mrs. Hammond at Pico and Irolo streets. She suffered a broken leg and arm, and a possible skull fracture. Browning, identified by several witnesses as the driver of the machine which struck the woman, was arrested by the officers when they arrived in response to a telephone call. Mrs. Hammond was rushed to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Her condition is regarded as critical.

Browning was examined by police surgeons and found not intoxicated, but having an alcoholic breath. He was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. He declared that he was not driving fast and that the woman stepped un-

CHILD CRIME CURE SOUGHT

Playground Board Leads in Work of Conducting Juvenile-Delinquency Survey

To reduce what is said to be an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency in Los Angeles a study of all available records of the geographical distribution of delinquents in the city is to be made by playground, welfare and sociological officials and organizations.

At a preliminary conference of several agencies interested in the problem, the nucleus of a more or less permanent organization to study the situation, with the object of making recommendations for a remedy was formed. A committee composed of Prof. M. H. Newmeyer of the University of Southern California, Supt. H. E. Hoyt and Supervisor J. C. Henderson of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department has been appointed to assemble data.

Agencies interested include the attendance and physical education division of the Los Angeles Board of Education, the police department, juvenile hall, county probation department, county playground department, Sheriff's office, sociology department of the University of Southern California and the research and statistics department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

According to the crime-prevention division of the police department, the ratio of juvenile crime is increasing more rapidly than the population. The playground department, holding there is a very definite relationship between juvenile delinquency and public provision for play, is taking the lead in efforts to organize a campaign toward a remedy.

Supt. Hoyt of the playground department said that as the result of the recent conference it was discovered that various agencies already have made a considerable study of the situation and that the police department is compiling exhaustive records on the subject. He said another meeting will be held shortly by the various agencies when the data obtained will be submitted.

"Whatever is recommended will not be allowed to drop without attention," said Hoyt. "We plan to carry the matter to the proper au-

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT FOR MAIN STREET

A double main event of two six-round bouts will top the boxing card at the Main-street club Saturday night. Carlo Curtis plans to use Joe Guerrero, Mexican lightweight champion, in one of the features.

Guerrero made his first ring appearance in seven months when he boxed Johnny Chrismas at the downtown club last Saturday night. It was a hard-fought bout from start to finish with Guerrero having the edge.

Baby Sal Sorio boxed on the same card and stopped Johnny White in the first round. It was Sorio's seventh straight knockout.

Guerrero and Sorio proved the biggest drawing cards to appear at the Main-street in months. The club was packed and several hundred fans were turned away.

WASHINGTON NOW BASEBALL-MINDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—Washington is baseball minded just now and even the trans-Atlantic aviators from France went by a crowd in front of a scoreboard on Pennsylvania avenue unnoticed this afternoon.

A few moments after the aviation heroes, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, had passed, two runs were posted on the scoreboard for Washington and the gathering shouted lustily as an indication they have not given up pennant hopes despite the six and a half games by which Washington is trailing Philadelphia.

BERMUDA YACHTSMEN WIN

LARCHMONT (N. Y.) Sept. 7. (AP) The Royal Bermuda Yacht Club won a special two-race six-meter yacht team contest with the United States, 11 1-4 points to 9 1-4. The Bermuda team outscored the Americans, 6 1-4 points to 4 in the morning race, but trailed in the afternoon, 5 1-4 to 5, thus winning the series by only 2 points.

SEALS HAVE 1000 RUNS

Prince Oana stole home in the fifth inning of Saturday night's contest to score San Francisco's 1000th run of the season. Oana's two-bagger was the Seals 1807th safe hit of the season. That would make the average one run scored for every 1.8 safe hits.

Idaho Vandals Have Eleven Games Lined Up

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON (Seattle, Wash.) Sept. 7.—Every kind of work on the laboring calendar — from piling bricks, to juggling cement, grading roads and catching salmon — has been on the bill of fare of University of Washington athletes this summer in preparation for the stiff dose of intercollegiate football they will face when the 1930 season opens the 15th inst.

JIMMY PHELAN

Virtually every potential position-holder on the Husky squad has spent the summer doing stiff manual labor. A few recovering from or undergoing minor operations to remedy slight ailments have been having things relatively easy, but the majority have been engaged in shoulder and back work that has put them in the pink of condition for opening the season.

Al Holmes, the varsity captain, has been leading the list of beef and muscle developers by juggling bricks and pottery products at a local clay works and brick factory.

Jack Patrick, last year's quarterback, has been spending the summer driving a Rainier Park Company bus, while Larry Westerweller, one of Phelan's best prospects for a wing berth, has also been vacationing over a truck wheel.

Merle Hufford, flashy halfback around whom Phelan will build a great deal in shaping his 1930 offensive, has spent the summer working on the new turf field the Huskies have been installing, and as a result is in the best shape of his career. He is burnt nearly black through his outdoor life and is hardened to splendid trim.

Gob Wentworth, the big tackle who is expected to show mighty well this season, has been driving a truck and working on a construction crew with a local outdoor advertising concern, and is reported as hard and as fit as the nails he has been hammering all summer.

The farthest-away-from-home Washington man this year is Lee Shelton, letter-man guard, who early in the spring packed his duffle aboard an Alaska troller, and has spent the summer somewhere off the coast of Alaska in the fisheries business. He will be back in time for the opening workout, according to latest reports.

IDAHO VANDALS HAVE ELEVEN GAMES

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO (Moscow) Sept. 7.—Eleven games, four with Pacific Coast Conference teams, is the schedule Idaho's Vandals will start preparing for when Coach Leo Calland holds his first practice of the 1930 season on the 15th inst.

Leading off with the Montana State game at Moscow on the 27th inst., the Vandals will play on six successive week-ends, four of them out-of-town games. November 15 is an open date, followed by games with Montana and U.C.L.A., the Vandals traveling in each case. A breathing spell of two weeks and Calland will take his Vandals to the Hawaiian Islands for games on Christmas and New Year's Day, against the University of Hawaii and the Honolulu All-Stars.

Calland is not underestimating the strength of Montana State this year. Last fall Idaho won handily from the Bobcats, but later during the season the Montana State eleven gathered strength unexpectedly and defeated several strong teams. College of Idaho at Boise on October 4 is Idaho's only appearance in the southern part of the State. Both games Calland expects his team to win, leaving the Vandals a clean slate when they play Washington at Seattle on October 11.

Whitman again journeys to Moscow on October 18. The following week-end the Vandals entrain for Eugene to meet Oregon on October 25, one of the toughest games on Idaho's schedule. Gonzaga University and Idaho tangle at Spokane on November 1. Washington State comes to Moscow this year for Idaho's home-coming game, always a battle.

Serenader is Big Winner at Border Track

AGUA CALIENTE (Baja California, Mex.) Sept. 7.—The gallant Serenader, 11 years of age, an English gelding by Bachelors Double out of Golden Harp, was the most frequent winner of the 600 horses which competed in Agua Caliente summer racing.

In the purple silks of Hamilton H. Cotton's La Brea stable, the veteran seven times reached the winner's circle. His best performance was on August 21, when he equaled the track record for seven furlongs by winning in 1:24 2-5. On August 11 he won at six furlongs in 1:11 flat, a figure that was subsequently lowered when Dr. Higbee ran in 1:10 3-5 under the light weight allowed by the Owners' Handicap conditions. Serenader also ran five and a half furlongs in the brilliant time of 1:05 3-5.

Wheeler will Play Football with Firemen

Royce Wheeler, the 190-pound Texan, who proved such a great end with the fire department football team in 1928 and '29 is back with Coach Bill Blewett's aggregation for the 1930 season. Blewett rates Wheeler as one of the greatest wingmen of the Pacific Coast and was considerably elated when the big boy reported for work.

Along with Wheeler came Ed Stevers, 215-pound guard from the California Aggies, who proved one of the leading linemen of Northern California last season. Stevers can play either guard or center equally well, but Blewett will, no doubt, put him at one of the guard posts, leaving ex-Captain Larry Casey at center.

The Smoke-Eaters open their season two weeks from tonight at Wrigley Field, meeting the team from the Oneonta Military Academy. Blewett was tickled pink with his men after last week's scrimmage against the U.S.S. Mississippi team. Moses, Byers and Nolan proved unstoppable.

Bell Shatters Borotra Hopes

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Sept. 7 (AP) Jean Borotra's dream of winning the American national men's singles tennis championship, the only major title that has escaped his grasp, is ended. Apparently forever.

The famous "Bounding Basque," 32 years old and approaching the end of his international competitive career, was eliminated in the first round of the current championships yesterday by slender Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex., who was not even given the honor of being seeded in the draw. Bell, after dropping the first set at 6-3, won the next three in a row, 6-2, 12-10, 7-5.

Other favorites advanced according to prediction but Cliff Sutter of New Orleans, just barely squeezed through to a 5-7, 6-4, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1 victory over Arthur W. MacPherson of New York, a comparative unknown.

Principal matches tomorrow will pit Bryant Grant of Atlanta against David N. Jones of New York; George Lott of Chicago against Richard N. Williams II of Philadelphia; H. G. N. Lee, England, against C. Alphonse Smith, Jr., Baltimore; Wilbur F. Coen, Jr., Kansas City, against J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., and John Doeg, Santa Monica, against W. Barry Wood, Jr., of Boston.

Bill Tilden, seeking his eighth championship, won his first-round match in easy fashion, defeating C. Lincoln Halberstadt of New York, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4.

SPONSOR TURNS SPOT ON SELF

Plays Own Name, Leaving Artists Anonymous

Reception to French Flyers on Air at 9:30 a.m.

Jamboree Hour Tonight to Honor Teachers

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m., Stuart Buchanan and Mary Duckett in eighteenth century playlet. World-wide News at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

"This is a fine program featuring a very famous male quartet and a large orchestra . . . The sponsor prefers to hook up his own name to their talent rather than have them appear under the name which they made famous," is an explanation of why one program on tonight's radio dial might read "Kelly's Kan Company," which—to radio fans, dialing for the best on the air—means exactly nothing. A like parallel would be a program featuring President Hoover, but reading "Slippery Soap Company Half Hour."

When the sponsor realizes that the listener-in is primarily interested in what he is going to hear—not who is sponsoring it—he will agree with Shakespeare that "the play's the thing." Nobody cares two crab apples whether it is a mortuary, a gas foundry or Santy Claus sponsoring the program. First, they want to know what they are going to hear, who is going to sing, speak, or bid for their audience.

And if the sponsor would turn to the radio dial for his own pleasure—he would demand the same denouement.

THEY TELL US THAT—

KFI at 9:30 this morning offers thirty minutes of the reception tendered the gallant French aviators, Coste and Bellonte, by President Hoover at Washington.

KFWB at 9:30 tonight finds Tom Breneman with his Radio Periscope tearing leaves out of the history of Ponce de Leon, the Fountain of Youth to be converted into a fountain of laughs.

Stanford University gets a break today. KHJ at 3 p.m. points to Guy Lombardo and his orchestra over C.B.S., dedicating its half hour to the Cardinals. A male quartet promises to present a medley of Stanford's favorite songs.

"Oh, tee-chur." Believe it or not, KHJ's Blue Monday Jamboree at 8 p.m. laughs, cries, cracks and sings in honor of "School-teachers." The old village schoolhouse will be torn apart. The bad boy and the teacher's pet will cavort—and what they call "other things in a school-marm's life" will be celebrated in song and comedy. What an opportunity for real humor.

Music lovers may dial KFI at 6—the Rochester Civic Orchestra; the "Prize Song" from Wagner's opera; the overture to Beethoven's drama "Egmont," and Delibes "La Source, Ballet Suite No. 14," sound like a real treat.

KECA's "Half Hour in the Nation's Capitol" at 4 offers Gen. James G. Harbord. His subject, "Practical Democracy in New York City."

PLAYS ON AIR

KNX today at 3:30 and each Monday hereafter—the Civic Repertory Theater, Ltd., of Hollywood. Today Leslie Palmer in two scenes from the "Merchant of Venice," assisted by Gordon Donald.

Again at 8:30—KNX presents a playlet, "The Runyons," a comedy.

KTM at 9 p.m. another "Charmer of History." Belle Starr, famous southern beauty of Civil War time. She turns bandit, cutthroat and everything.

KMTR at 8 p.m. points to Rube Wolf and his Fanchon and Marco artists. "Screen Mirror Frolic" is the title. This cast of players will bid for your dial every Monday night from now on.

If you like torture, agony, snarls and blood-curdling yodelings, "The Emperor of Crime" will hold your dial. If not—it will be decidedly distasteful.

ANNOUNCE COAST SCHEDULE

Official Football Card for Revised Prep League Given, Nine Elevens to Compete

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7. (Exclusive)—Official and complete football schedules for the revised Coast Preparatory League were announced yesterday by Pat O'Mara of Pasadena, president of the conference.

There will be nine teams in the varsity division, eight in Class B and only six in Class C. San Diego is not entering the Class B or Class C races, while Pasadena and Compton will join the Hilltoppers as absentees in the Class C circuit. Long Beach Poly, Santa Ana, Alhambra, Fullerton, Glendale and Woodrow Wilson of Long Beach each will be represented by all three classes.

Under the original schedule adopted at the spring session, all varsity games are slated to fall on Friday, all Class C games are billed for the preceding Thursday and all Class B skirmishes are to be preliminaries to the Junior College games on the following Saturday to start at 12:45.

Yet, a majority of the Friday varsity tilts are to be waged on Saturday, instead. These shifts are left to the mutual consent of the schools concerned. Long Beach Poly plans to play only one game on Friday, that with Compton on October 10. Wilson High, on the other hand, will play all games on Friday except its engagements at San Diego and Fullerton.

Following is the schedule of games, as originally adopted with Friday dates. The probable Saturday changes will not affect the order of games nor the Class C games on Thursday and Saturday, respectively. The schedule:

Santa Ana at Woodrow Wilson.
Glendale at Fullerton.
Pasadena at San Diego.
Compton at Long Beach Poly.
Alhambra, bye.

OCTOBER 17

MISS COTTON WEDS LIONEL E. OGDEN

Mrs. Victoria Reyes Cotton Ogden

With Mgr. Clifford, who also officiated at the marriage of the bride's father and mother, performing the ceremony, Miss Victoria Reyes Cotton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cotton, became the bride of Lionel E. Ogden this week-end at the parents' San Clemente estate.

The ceremony took place in the patio in the presence of 250 friends Saturday afternoon and the couple left immediately for a motor honeymoon trip through the northern part of the State. They plan to be gone several weeks.

The patio was decked with yellow and white crysanthemums and dahlias, as was also the altar before which the couple took their vows. The bride wore a brown velvet suit trimmed with fox fur. Her mother was attired in an apricot ensemble with ermine trimming. Orchids and lilies of the valley were used in the table decorations.

The groom is a graduate of Stanford University and his bride was educated at an exclusive school in the East. Both are well known in Los Angeles society.

STREET BIDS TO BE READ WEDNESDAY

Works Board will Open Tenders for Broadway and Moneta Avenue District

The Board of Public Works on Wednesday will receive and open bids for the paving and improving of streets in the Broadway and Moneta avenue improvement district. This project, which means the opening of Broadway as a major traffic artery from Pico street to Forty-first street, where it connects with the present Broadway, formerly Moneta avenue, will cost an estimated $525,000.

The city has allocated $248,050, the remainder to be raised by assessment district.

The project includes nearly two and one-half miles of concrete paving, with Warrenite wearing surface. There also will be more than a mile of storm drains, four miles of sewers, curbs, gutters, sidewalks and an ornamental lighting system.

The roadway will range between fifty-six and sixty feet wide. An entirely new street has been cut between Pico street and Santa Barbara avenue.

Last Wednesday the board opened bids for the construction of a pedestrian subway between Twenty-eighth and Thirtieth streets in conjunction with the Broadway project. The low bid was $5057. This expense will be borne by the Board of Education.

COST MAP APPROVED

CROP OUTLOOK GROWS BETTER

Southland Returns Expected to Exceed 1929 Income

Prospects Brighten as Farm Year Nears Close

Citrus Fruits Especially in Strong Position

With the agricultural year at the three-quarter mark, Southern California's crop return prospects are brighter than earlier indications promised, according to Southern California Crops, monthly market and field report of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Expectations are that the total return will equal or exceed that of 1929 when the total value of crops in the ten southern counties alone was $268,651,000.

A continued high level on citrus fruits, the principal crop in this area, has been largely responsible for the maintenance of Southern California's record, the chamber's report declares and, although prices for Southland crops harvested earlier in the year were not entirely satisfactory, a strong marketing season for the remainder of the year is anticipated.

VALENCIA PRICE GOOD

Valencia orange prices are still on a very satisfactory level and the market is expected to be particularly active during the remainder of the season with less than 5000 carloads yet to be marketed, the report states, giving as reasons the declining competition from summer fruits, the smaller volume of citrus shipments and the better condition of fruit than is generally noticeable during September.

Reports from orchards indicate that the coming crop of oranges will be one of the largest in the history of the industry.

The avocado harvest during August was the lightest of the year, but an increasing volume is expected during this month. Satisfactory prices continue for this year. The new season, which begins about October 15, is expected to usher in the harvest of an extremely large crop of the tropical fruit, according to avocado growers.

CANNERIES ACTIVE

The California deciduous fruit season is just passing its peak with the exception of grapes. While dry yards have about completed their activity, the canning of peaches still continues. The dried fruit market is still very quiet and a disappointment to growers in general. There si more activity in the canned fruit line, however.

Present indications are that, with the exception of apricots, deciduous fruit crops exceeded in yield those of last year. The almond harvest is under way in the north, with a promise of a 12,500-ton yield.

Both agriculturists and financial interests of the State are watching the progress of the Grape Control Board in its effort to administer the sale and distribution of this year's large crop of grapes. Although the carrying out of the Federal Farm Board plan is conceded to be a gigantic task, leaders in the grape industry are optimistic over the progress that has been made so far.

WALNUT CROP LESS

The second season's estimate of the coming California walnut crop indicates a total State tonnage for 1930 of less than 70 per cent of last year's output. The average size of the nuts is varying, according to the California Walnut Growers' Association, and it is expected that the quality will be excellent, although the harvest will be late.

California's field crops, too, are in generally good condition with yields above those of last year with the exception of cotton and potatoes. It is conceded that the most favorable outlook in California agriculture, taking the State as a whole, is in field crops. The demands on California agriculture, coming as a result of the drought and the fact that in time of depression people lean most heavily on staple articles, confirms the opinion that foodstuffs and staples will move readily during the coming several months at fair prices.

COTTON OUTLOOK ROSY

Field conditions in the cotton areas are reported as being extremely satisfactory with the crop progressing normally. Ginning is under way in the desert areas and the first bale has been taken in the San Joaquin section. The quality of cotton this year is above aver-

GAS OFFICIALS ASSEMBLING

Coast Utility Corporation Heads will Discuss Problems of Industry at Pasadena Meeting

More than $300,000,000 of invested capital of some twenty-five gas utility companies from British Columbia to San Diego is represented by executives and department heads who will attend the thirty-seventh annual convention of the Pacific Coast Gas Association which will begin tomorrow at Hotel Huntington in Pasadena and continue through Friday. In addition, many representatives of appliance manufacturing companies and other trades allied with the gas industry will be present. Figures of national prominence in the industry are also scheduled, among them being Alexander Forward of New York, managing director of the American Gas Association.

The association is devoted to study of every phase of gas production and distribution problems. The annual convention is the culmination of the year's activities at which the leaders of the industry meet to discuss their various problems.

In the Pacific Coast section gas utility companies employ some 13,000 persons with a yearly pay roll of more than $21,000,000 and supply service through more than 23,000 miles of transmission and distributing mains. Their more than $300,000,000 invested capital plays an important part in the life of hundreds of communities.

The work of the convention is divided into general sessions and section meetings. The former handle topics of general interest to the industry, while the section groups discuss matters particularly related to the accounting, commercial, technical and public relations ends of the business.

Features of the convention are three-minute speaking contests for men and women, and a "stunts" contest—all on topics directly related to the gas industry — with prizes for the winners. These competitions will be participated in by representatives of the various utility companies who have been selected by elimination contests within their own organizations. A display of gas company advertising also will be featured, while an exhibition of the latest practice in gas distribution methods and equip-

SUNDAY FIRE BRINGS LOSS OF $75,000

Wood-Carving Factory and Equipment Destroyed; Other Buildings Ignited

A mechanical wood-carving factory with equipment of intricate machinery and stock of finished carved furniture parts was destroyed by a fire of undertermined origin late yesterday afternoon together with two adjoining residences. Sparks from the three blazing buildings in turn fired the roofs of two additional buildings more than a block away and for a time threatened destruction to scores of nearby homes.

The blaze started in the factory of the S. J. Gansel Manufacturing Company, 1378 East Fifteenth street, makers of machine-carved furniture, and quickly spread to adjoining structures, one at 1366 East Fifteenth street; a rooming-house which was partially destroyed, and the other on the same street at 1384, a residence, which was totally burned. Firemen estimated the damage of the tripple blaze to be approximately $75,000.

An underground gasoline storage tank was directly under the flaming wreckage of the factory and its presence caused police and firemen to warn away the crowds which thronged the vicinity. The firemen were successful in subduing the blaze from the inflammable liquid.

During the fight to control the flames in the wood-carving factory, two additional alarms from 1421 and 1419 Newton street were received by the firemen. Roof blazes on both structures were quickly subdued with nominal damage.

G.O.P. WILL ORGANIZE WEDNESDAY

County Committee to Meet at City Hall for Election of Officers

Members of the new Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee will meet for organization purposes Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Board of Supervisors' room in the Hall of Records. As soon as the meeting is called to order an adjournment will be taken to the Council chamber at the City Hall, where there will be sufficient room for the 303 members of the committee.

The law says that the committee must meet at the Courthouse. However, there is no room either in the Hall of Records or the Courthouse to accommodate the meeting, hence the adjournment to the Council chamber.

The Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Department Thirteen, eighth floor of the Hall of Records. The Prohibitionists will gather Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Department Twelve, Hall of Records. The Socialists have not announced their meeting date as yet, it was stated at the Courthouse Saturday.

Registration of U.S.C. Freshmen to Start Today

Freshmen students of the University of Southern California are scheduled to start their scholastic life at the university at 1:30 p.m. today with the formation of registration lines. Registration of the new students will open a four-day period which has been named "Freshmen Week" by university officials.

Registration opening will be preceded by a meeting in Bovard Auditorium at 10 a.m. at which short addresses of welcome will be given, and by a luncheon.

Tomorrow noon the freshmen will be the guests at a luncheon sponsored by various student organizations and Wednesday afternoon will be devoted to conferences with faculty advisers and enrollment procedure.

Upper classmen returning to the university will complete their registrations Friday and Saturday.

PLAY ENVOYS UNNAMED

Because of the condition of playground funds representatives of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department this year may not be sent to attend the National Recreation Congress nor the western division congress on playgrounds. There is in the playground budget provision for $1300 to send two representatives to the national session, but the Playground and Recreation Commission has deferred the matter of selecting delegates.

BABY LEFT ON CHURCH FLOOR

Note of Young Mother Pleads for Care

Abandoned infant in arms of Nurse Marie Nilson of Children's Home-Finding Society.

MRS. MARY PETTERMAN of 1110 West Thirty-sixth street stepped inside the door of St. Agnes Church at Vermont avenue and Adams street yesterday morning and discovered one of life's little tragedies. On the floor at her feet lay a small bundle of humanity, a 3-month-old baby boy wrapped neatly and cleanly in a pink blanket.

Pinned to the blanket was the following note addressed to the pastor: "Dear father: I kept my baby for three months, but I cannot keep it any longer because I have no job, so please keep my baby until I am able to come and get him. I am only 17 years of age, and you know how hard it is to get a job for a girl who cannot read very well.

"I have no father or mother to help me. Dear father, you must know how broken-hearted I am to leave my baby like this, but it is the only way I can do. Will you please be so kind as to baptize my baby and name him John Louis and pray that I can get a job and come for my baby again. I will write before I come."

A postscript added: "Please turn my baby over to the Catholic Welfare Bureau."

Mrs. Petterman notified the church officials, who at once communicated with police juvenile authorities. Pending arrangements to find a home for the infant through the Catholic Welfare Bureau today he was placed temporarily in the care of the Children's Home-Finding Society at 919 East Twenty-fifth street.

In accordance with the wish of the young mother the baby will be baptized as soon as arrangements are made.

Eight Hundred Federal Cases to be Scheduled

More than 800 cases in the Federal term trial calendar are scheduled to go before United States District Judges McCormick, James and Cosgrave today to be set for trial. It is one of the largest calendars the three Federal courts have had to face.

Judge McCormick is to call the case of Juan A. Ramos, formerly a military official of Mexico and once a representative of that country in England, who is accused of embezzling funds of a local bank.

BRIDGE ACTION DELAYED

Pending completion of flood-control work in the Tujunga Wash, the City Council has delayed acting upon requests for a new bridge at San Fernando Road and a new viaduct over the Southern Pacific tracks at Tunnel Station.

AUTOIST ELECTROCUTED WHEN CAR HITS POLE

Death came instantly to Charles Sutton of 141 Napoleon avenue, Del Rey, early yesterday morning, when a high tension wire, broken from its fastenings when Sutton's automobile collided with a light pole, fell on the machine and electrocuted him.

The accident occurred near the intersection of Jefferson and Lincoln boulevards. R. L. Davis of 259 West Forty-second Place was the first witness at the scene. He notified police, who communicated with Southern California Edison officials. Employees of the company cut off the circuit and Sutton's body was removed to the County Morgue.

Officers who investigated stated Sutton had apparently lost control of his car due to faulty steering apparatus or obscured vision.

An automobile was considered as a deadly weapon by police with the arrest Saturday night of Kenneth S. Browning, 32 years of age, an aviator of 2518 Wellington Road, following an accident in which Mrs. Catherine Hammond of 1225 Irolo street was injured probably fatally.

Browning's car, according to officers Stromwell and Swindell, struck Mrs. Hammond at Pico and Irolo streets. She suffered a broken leg and arm, and a possible skull fracture. Browning, identified by several witnesses as the driver of the machine which struck the woman, was arrested by the officers when they arrived in response to a telephone call. Mrs. Hammond was rushed to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Her condition is regarded as critical.

Browning was examined by police surgeons and found not intoxicated, but having an alcoholic breath. He was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. He declared that he was not driving fast and that the woman stepped un-

REPORT ON SCOFIELD DUE SOON

Council Committee will Submit Its Conclusions at Session Thursday

The Water and Power Committee, according to Councilman Jacobson, chairman, is scheduled to submit to the City Council Thursday a report on Mayor Porter's proposal to remove Commissioner Scofield from the Water and Power Department.

The substance of the report is not known, and it probably will not be drafted until late. The other members of the committee are Councilmen Cooke and Williams. At the public hearing last Tuesday, when Scofield's friends were in the majority, in fact, packed the Council chamber, Williams was cheered and Cooke was jeered, when each expressed his views on the matter.

Scofield filed a letter with the Council contending that there is a "plot" against the Bureau of Power and Light. Mayor Porter, while not officially submitting to the Council any reasons for his action, recently issued a public statement indicating that Scofield stands in the way of a proper reorganization of the Department of Water and Power, designed to bring in business management and eliminate the "everlasting political mindedness" of this division of the city government.

In order to effect Commissioner Scofield's removal, the Mayor's order must have the approval of a majority, or 8 votes, in the Council.

GROUP TO DISCUSS SCOFIELD OUSTER MOVE

Mayor Porter's attempt to remove Commissioner Scofield from the Board of Water and Power Commissioners will be discussed by three speakers at a mass meeting Wednesday evening in the auditorium of Polytechnic High School by the Affiliated Improvement Associations of the city and county of Los Angeles. Commissioner Scofield will be one of the speakers. The others will be Harlan G. Palmer, formerly a member of the Water and Power Board, and Councilman Williams. J. E. Lambert, president of the organization, will preside.

BROOKSIDE PARK SEES RED RIOT

Officials in Pasadena Tear Down Soviet Sign

Communists Voice Threats During Commotion

Hundred Radicals Unite in Shouting Anger

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 7.— A small riot occurred in Brookside Park this afternoon when city officials tore down a ten-foot Communist propaganda sign urging the defense of the soviet union and support of the Chinese Communist revolutionaries. There was no bloodshed, but police and members of the local American Legion baseball team were kept on hand to quell further disturbance.

More than 200 members of the Young Communists' Society held an all-day picnic in the park today. They made no reservations for tables and scattered about the park in small groups.

Notified by Acting Caretaker Carl Bloomfield that a large sign attached to an automobile truck in which twenty of the Communists had come from Los Angeles was attracting considerable comment, Park Superintendent Gilbert Skutt hurried to the park to avert possible trouble.

TROUBLE STARTS

The excitement started when Skutt and Bloomfield, armed with hammers, began knocking down the sign which had been nailed to the truck body. Skutt asserted that his action in removing the sign was based on a city ordinance which forbids advertising in the park and his belief that inscriptions on the sign were against the interests of good government.

With the first hammer blow, scores of young Communists ran toward the truck, shouting and shaking their fists. Skutt and Bloomfield continued their work despite a mob of at least 100 young men and women which surrounded the truck.

ANGRY CRIES HEARD

Angry cries of "You won't get away with that!" and "If anyone takes that sign down, it'll be us!" disturbed other picnic groups, including an organization of former United States Navy officers.

As he stepped from the truck after removing the sign, Skutt was forced to display his special police badge before the crowd gave way and allowed him to leave the scene unarmed.

The Communists were told that if they observed the regulations against propaganda—speeches and display of signs, they would not be molested in using the park facilities not reserved for local residents.

SENATORS WILL START TRADE QUIZ

Los Angeles Sessions of Chinese Commerce Survey Open Here Tomorrow

The first Los Angeles session of the United States Senate committee to inquire into trade relations and conditions between the United States and China will convene tomorrow morning at the Chamber of Commerce, members of the committee announced yesterday.

Twelve Los Angeles bankers, importers and exporters will be called to appear before the committee, which includes Senators Pittman, Shipstead and Swanson, now here as its members. The business men will testify as to their knowledge of the working of commercial treaties, practices and conditions which affect the flow of trade, and will give suggestions as to how these conditions may be improved.

PETITION APPROVED

On recommendation of the Public Works Committee, the City Council has approved the petition for the improvement of streets in the Dudley Drive and Cato-street district and has instructed the City Engineer to draw up the necessary ordinances and specifications.

CHILD CRIME CURE SOUGHT

Playground Board Leads in Work of Conducting Juvenile-Delinquency Survey

To reduce what is said to be an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency in Los Angeles a study of all available records of the geographical distribution of delinquents in the city is to be made by playground, welfare and sociological officials and organizations.

At a preliminary conference of several agencies interested in the problem, the nucleus of a more or less permanent organization to study the situation, with the object of making recommendations for a remedy was formed. A committee composed of Prof. M. H. Newmeyer of the University of Southern California, Supt. H. E. Hoyt and Supervisor J. C. Henderson of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department has been appointed to assemble data.

Agencies interested include the attendance and physical education division of the Los Angeles Board of Education, the police department, juvenile hall, county probation department, county playground department, Sheriff's office, sociology department of the University of Southern California and the research and statistics department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

According to the crime-prevention division of the police department, the ratio of juvenile crime is increasing more rapidly than the population. The playground department, holding there is a very definite relationship between juvenile delinquency and public provision for play, is taking the lead in efforts to organize a campaign toward a remedy.

Supt. Hoyt of the playground department said that as the result of the recent conference it was discovered that various agencies already have made a considerable study of the situation and that the police department is compiling exhaustive records on the subject. He said another meeting will be held shortly by the various agencies when the data obtained will be submitted.

"Whatever is recommended will not be allowed to drop without attention," said Hoyt. "We plan to carry the matter to the proper au-

The Lancer

WHAT is needed in the business world is a general massacre of the encore boys. You know whom I mean by the encore boys.

They finish their interview; go out; then while you are trying to get your business done, they poke their heads back into the office and say: "Excuse me, but I just wanted to say that if there is anything I can do for you let me know."

Two seconds later, they poke the bean back again to say: "I just gave your stenographer my number in case you wanted anything."

Two seconds later: "I just wanted to say that I was going to San Francisco by boat tomorrow in case you—"

At which point I add the mental note: "And I hope the boat sinks."

I don't know if in these college business courses, they teach the young business man the most valuable thing that could be taught: how to make a good exit—without encores . . . riding out on the crest of the wave.

I WANT HIS BLOOD.

Being in a belligerent mood anyhow, I wish to announce that I yearn for the blood of one Earl Derr Biggers. He wrote this mystery story about Charley Chan, the Chinese detective, and I spend all the time between installments trying to figure out if the murderer was Capt. Keane or Mr. Tait. My fingers are gnawed to the bone. Of all the shoals of fiction detectives who have sleuthed through this avalanche of murder novels, Charley Chan is the most interesting and fascinating character.

GENIUS IS ECCENTRIC

Ann Nichols says that her favorite play is not "Abie's Irish Rose"—but another one that nobody but herself ever heard of.

When "Lightnin'" was ending its fourth year to "standing room only," Frank Bacon confided in me that he didn't think so much of the play. "Used to play a character just like Old Bill in a play called 'Gen. Grant's Picture,'" he said. "That was a real good play. Never could see why folks took so much stock in this one."

I guess the mother always loves the runt best.

THE END OF THE FRAY

Just as soon as I have another four or five millions, I think I shall start a newspaper of my own. I shall build up an enormous circulation by promising the cash customers that there will never be any stories about the various rounds of the fight between Aimee and Ma.

DETECTIVES

Guilt in the double murder at Ensenada has pretty well simmered down to a maniac; but it doesn't say much for the detectives of two continents that they can't find a homicidal maniac with a face full of gold teeth.

FIGHT CLUBS

You would think by reading the sporting columns that the fight producers sat up nights trying to plan fiascos. Jack Doyle is a very rich young man; is in the fight game for the sole purpose of holding up a maligned sport to a certain ethical standard; and he has made a good job of it. However queer the managers may be, it is assured that the fight clubs in Los Angeles—the American Legion and Doyle's are above stain.

SIGNS ORDERED

The City Council has directed that arterial stop signs be established at the intersection of Union Pacific avenue and Mirasol street.

BANDITS CALL ON SEVENTEEN

Daylight Robber Invades Merchant's Home

Couple Forced to Reveal Hiding Place of $400

Two Men and Women Seized as Hold-up Suspects

Commanding them to reveal the hiding place of a money sack containing $400 under pain of instant death by gunfire, a bandit yesterday held up Emmanuel Leskowitz and his wife in their home at 254 South Detroit street and made a successful escape with the cash. The robbery was perpetrated at noon as neighbors of the victims passed the house on their way home from church. It was the outstanding occurrence in a list of seven hold-ups and ten burglaries reported over the week-end.

Leskowitz is proprietor of a stand in Grand Central Market. As he locked it up Saturday, having been unable to reach the bank before closing time, he found it necessary to carry home the day's receipts. Police believe he was trailed.

ROBBER ENTERS HOME

Yesterday noon the merchant and his wife were having dinner when the bandit rang the doorbell. Leskowitz opened the door to find himself facing a revolver. The robber backed him into the house, slamming the door and at once ordering him to lead the way to the money sack. As Leskowitz demurred, the gunman jabbed him in the ribs with the weapon. Then Leskowitz, receiving a nod from his wife, obeyed, pointing out the sackful of cash on a closet shelf. The bandit seized it, pocketed his gun and departed.

Another daylight robbery was reported by Ed Peters, grocer, of 4128 Chevy Chase Drive. Driving up in an automobile, a bandit leaped out, held him up at the point of a gun and took $30 and sped away.

Identified by a handkerchief as having committed similar hold-ups another bandit robbed H. J. Preston in a service station at 1832 West Seventh street. He obtained $10, which he wrapped in the handkerchief as he fled. Police say they are familiar with his operations.

SUSPECTS SEIZED

Robert H. Biggins, 826 South Hope street, was victimized by two auto bandits in front of 685 South Westmoreland avenue. He yielded $30. The same pair of hold-ups, police suspect, figured in the robbery of Thomas Addington, 2112 Ridgely Drive. Addington was accosted at Thirty-eighth and Hope streets by two men who robbed him of $2.

At Venice late Saturday night a bandit held up Ed Lewerke, proprietor of an auto park, while he was on his way home. As Lewerke was about to hand over his cash, Patrolman Maxwell rounded a corner, and the robber fled. Shortly afterward, Maxwell stopped at a parked automobile to question a man and woman and as he did so another man who failed to see the officer rushed up to the car and shouted to its occupants: "Cheese it, the cop." Maxwell collared him and booked him on suspicion of robbery. He gave his name as George Davis, and his address as 548 South Figueroa street. At the station, another officer, Patrolman Kanatcher identified Davis as having attempted to hold him up near the Speedway earlier in the evening.

The man and woman in the automobile investigated by Patrolman Maxwell were held for questioning. They identified themselves as Charles Stokes and Ruth Nickliby. Their car, according to the police report, is registered to Harold Nickliby of 1829 West Sixtieth street.

Hawthorne Folk Ask Board to Stifle Crowing and Barking at Dawn

Some of the residents in the vicinity of Hawthorne are disturbed by roosters crowing and dogs barking and want the Board of Supervisors to do something about it. In a letter, which will be considered this morning, a request is made by six of the residents for an ordinance or something to abate the nuisance.

It is signed by E. A. Johnson, Walter Harder, M. E. Hudson, O. B. McGonigal, Florence Deavault and Anna D. Fruchey.

thorities until a remedy is effected, instead of starting something and allowing it to fall by the wayside, as in so many instances."

Hoyt said that the conference, in addition to obtaining records of the geographical distribution in the city of juvenile delinquency, will study the age, sex, offense and similar factors. Data will be obtained on the leisure time activities of delinquents, with a view to determining whether they are lacking in opportunities for play.

An attempt will be made to determine whether there is any correlation between the provision for play space and the absence of delinquency in Los Angeles. Also an attempt will be made to discover if there are any considerable number of delinquents who are in the neighborhood of playgrounds, and who have apparently not been reached by the play program.

CANADIANS ASK TO USE PATRIOTIC HALL FREE

A request from the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, British veterans' organization, for free use of Patriotic Hall for its meetings, will be considered by the Board of Supervisors today. The letter follows action of the board several weeks ago in lifting the rental fee for soldiers' organizations meeting at the hall.

TUJUNGA FLOOD DAM PROGRESSES

Concrete Poured in First Unit Totals 5000 Yards

Water to be Conserved

Picture shows work already done at Big Tujunga Dam No. 1 being built in Tujunga Canyon, the first of four dams being built in the canyon by the Flood-Control District.

FIVE thousand of the estimated 70,000 cubic yards of concrete used in the construction of the dam now being built in Tujunga Canyon by the Los Angeles Flood Control District, have been poured, bringing the foundation of the new structure up twenty-five feet above the stream bed, according to Chief Engineer Eaton.

Ninety men working in two shifts are engaged on the dam which is to cost $1,000,000, and is the first of four to be built in the canyon to control the flood waters of the Big Tujunga River. Concrete is being poured from 4:30 p.m. to midnight each day.

"At the rate we are now going we expect to have the dam completed by September or October in 1931," Eaton said.

"The work we have done is not high enough as yet to do much good in the way of flood control, but sufficient concrete has been poured to make a protection for the work that is under way."

The new dam will be 240 feet high, 500 feet across the crest with a seventy-foot base and twenty feet wide at the top. It is being built eight miles north of Sunland. However, material is being hauled from Roscoe, sixteen miles distant.

The structure will impound 7500 acre feet of water. When the other three dams are constructed all of them will impound 45,000 acre feet of water, giving full flood control and conservation in the canyon.

Las Vegas, as the gateway to Boulder Dam, is providing a general entertainment program with boat trips down the Colorado River to the dam site, at the entrance to Black Canyon. Special trains will be operated by the Union Pacific from Los Angeles.

BIDS ON ROAD SOUGHT

Under the $10,660,000 appropriation now available from Congress, $2,500,000 is for rail facilities. Of this $900,000 is estimated as the cost of the twenty-two-mile Union Pacific branch line and $1,600,000 for the 7.17 miles of government-built and operated line to the dam site. The Union Pacific branch extends in a southeasterly direction from its main line to a junction with the government line at Summit.

R. L. Adamson, chief engineer of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad, western unit of the Union Pacific, is now canvassing bids submitted for the grading and trestle and culvert construction by nineteen contractors. The award will be made this week and the successful contractor will be at work the 17th inst. Construction of the line will be completed within four months.

Under the Reclamation Service schedule for the eight-year Boulder Dam program the first job is the building of the Union Pacific branch line and the government railroad. Then the $825,000 model city to house 5000 workmen and their families will be built. First work at the dam site will be the boring of $18,000,000 tunnels of fifty feet in diameter to divert the river's flow while the dam is being built.

STORY OF SPANKING WINS WIFE DECREE

Spanking her was her husband's way of proving he was master in his own house, testified Mrs. Marjorie Brown in winning a divorce from John Willis Brown. Superior Judge Guerin granted her a decree, with custody of her daughter, Mary Ruth, 18 months of age, and $7.50 a week for the child's support.

COURT ENJOINS ICEMEN

Trio Who Quit Company Held Not Entitled to Solicit Old Customers' Business

Icemen cannot take their customers' trade with them away from an employer, but the courts will not enjoin a former employee from receiving his old customers' unsolicited patronage. This is the gist of a decision just filed by Superior Judge Yankwich in granting an injunction to California Consumers Company, an ice concern, against J. H. Palmer, Herbert Stoner and Mitchell Greenwood, former employees, who were accused of soliciting company customers.

The three icemen got jobs with the company by turning over to it routes they previously built up, the trial developed. Each obligated himself not to sell ice in the territory within two years after leaving the company. Evidence showed they quit the company and sold to old customers. Attorney William Jennings Bryan, Jr., for the ice drivers, contended that, the routes having belonged to them, they had the right to solicit their old customers after leaving the company's employ.

"That would be the rule in the absence of an agreement," ruled Judge Yankwich. "If the route is owned by a driver, and he takes it with him to the owner, without any agreement whereby title to it passes, he is entitled to take it with him when he leaves the employ. But here, the driver turned over his route in consideration of employment. It became the company's property. If customers desire, without solicitation, to give their custom to the employee, he should have the right to receive it. To prevent him from selling under such circumstances, is to allow restraint of trade."

California is the only State wherein such injunctions are issued, the judge noted in his opinion.

GAS OFFICIALS WILL ASSEMBLE

ment will be made for the delegates at the Pasadena holder station of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

Some diversion from the serious business of the gathering will be found in the annual golf tournament, which will be staged at the Annandale Country Club Thursday afternoon; by a ham-and-egg breakfast, with entertainment, Friday morning; by the convention ball Wednesday evening; by a trip to the beach and by the annual banquet on Friday night with James W. Foley as speaker.

For the entertainment of women in attendance plans have been worked out which include shopping and sight-seeing tours; bridge-luncheons and a women's golf tournament at the Pasadena Country Club.

Among those who will address the gathering during its four-day session are such leaders of the industry as F. H. Bivens, vice-president of Southern Counties Gas Company and president of the Pacific Coast Gas Association; Manager Alexander Forward of the association; C. O. G. Miller, president of Pacific Lighting Corporation; John A. Laing, vice-president Portland Gas and Coke Company; J. Charles Jordan, assistant manager Pacific Gas and Electric Company; A. A. Smith, secretary Eastern Oregon Light and Power Company; Addison B. Day, president and general manager, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation; R. E. Fisher, vice-president Pacific Gas and Electric Company; H. L. Masser, vice-president Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation; George L. Myers, Portland Gas and Coke Company; R. E. Aitchison, executive vice-president Natural Gas Properties, Inc., and Claude C. Brown, gas and electric engineer, California Railroad Commission.

expectedly from the sidewalk in front of him.

With little hope held by police surgeons for his recovery Roderick W. McDonald, 70, of 3879 Percy street, was treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital last night for a possible skull fracture and brain concussion received when he was struck by an "S" street car while standing in a safety zone at the corner of Seventh and Los Angeles streets.

Police who investigated the accident were unable late last night to learn the identity of the crew of the street car which continued on its way after the accident. Police say they believed neither the motorman nor the conductor was aware that the aged man had been injured.

GLENDALE PIONEER SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

GLENDALE, Sept. 7. (Exclusive) J. H. Heisser, 86-year-old father of Edwin F. Heisser, postmaster at Glendale, died today at the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital from injuries received when he was struck by an automobile Saturday afternoon, driven by James T. Cox, 807 South Glendale avenue.

Mr. Heisser was knocked to the pavement on South Orange street near the Masonic Temple and received a fractured skull and internal injuries. He had been a resident of Glendale for many years and was widely known here.

CROP OUTLOOK GROWS BETTER

age, largely due to a better selection of land, favorable weather conditions and a plentiful supply of water for irrigation. The California crop is estimated at 224,000 bales while the production of the entire Southwest irrigated area is 536,000 bales which may be compared with 575,000 bales in the same area in 1929. The market situation has not shown any improvement.

Every indication points to a good market for California lima beans this year. Production in the chief producing sections was materially reduced by drought and storage stocks of several varieties used in California are low. Inquiry in the East is increasing and it is expected that during the next two or three weeks there will be a very heavy volume of business in California beans. It is not expected that the lima-bean crop will be any larger than last year, while field conditions of other types of beans declined materially during August.

Playground Job Move Approved

Creation of the position of assistant superintendent of the Playground Department as one step in proposed reorganization plans aimed to effect a saving has been approved by the Playground and Recreation Commission, on recommendation of Supt. Hoyt.

The position, suggested by former Supt. Hjelte, will be for the purpose of co-ordinating operating and promotional divisions. The Civil Service Commission will be asked to exempt it from civil service. By having the position exempt from civil service, Hoyt pointed out, it may be terminated at any time desired by the board.

ENDURANCE FLIGHT SET FOR SUNDAY

Mendell and Reinhart Postpone Take-off of Spirit of Hollywood

Instead of taking off tomorrow from Grand Central Air Terminal on their proposed attempt to regain the world's air refueling endurance record, Loren W. Mendell and R. B. (Pete) Reinhart announced yesterday they will wait until next Sunday to make the start.

Mendell also changed the date for his wedding to Sadie Hays. He had planned to make Miss Hays his bride just before hopping off on the endurance grind, but stated he and his fiancee plan to be married Wednesday.

The endurance ship—to be christened the Spirit of Hollywood—was undergoing finishing touches last night in the Pickwick hangar at Grand Central and will be ready for its first test flight Wednesday.

R. V. (Doc) Howard, Western Air Express radio expert, who will go aloft on the endurance flight as radio operator, completed installation of $5000 worth of radio sending and receiving equipment. Broadcasts of the flight will be made from a specially constructed, soundproof room built in the ship's fuselage.

Roman Warren, now flying from a Riverside field, was named tentatively yesterday by Mendell, as the pilot for the Carrier Pigeon refueling plane. A Ryan monoplane will be held in reserve for refueling in case anything goes wrong with the Carrier Pigeon. C. Hjalmar Holdson will handle the refueling hose and manage the ground crew.

Plaza Fountain Plan Sanctioned

The Municipal Art Commission has sanctioned the proposal of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to erect a memorial fountain in the Plaza, it is announced by President Laughlin. The chamber will construct the fountain at an estimated cost of $15,000.

During the first eight months of the year the commission approved plans for structures aggregating $7,150,942 in value. During August the commission sanctioned designs for the Roscoe bathhouse, pool and community building, five pedestrian subways under Wilshire Boulevard and twenty ornamental lighting systems.

Census Case will be Set

Ralph Crossman, a county employee, accused of having failed to make proper answers to a Federal census enumerator, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge McCormick to have his case set for trial.

The case of Crossman was one of the first to be filed here for failure to answer census enumerators.

Leap from Car Blamed on Dispute

BUSTER WEST

Virginia Cherrill

HOW one of Hollywood's most promising young motion-picture actresses, Virginia Cherrill, leading lady for Charles Chaplin, tumbled unceremoniously from the automobile of her ex-fiance, Buster West, comedian, at a busy Hollywood intersection recently and suffered painful bruises, was explained by Miss Cherrill last night.

Following the incident there were reports in Hollywood that the tumble came as the result of resistance on the part of Miss Cherrill to an attempt by West to abduct her, rush to Tia Juana and marry her, but this version of the affair was denied.

However, it was admitted by the actress, who has played the leading part in a life Cinderella-like story of being boosted to stardom practically overnight, that an argument between West and herself caused her to alight suddenly on the pavement at La Brea avenue and Third street.

"Yes, we had an argument," Miss Cherrill stated last night. "But there was no abduction to it—Mr. West and I are the best of friends.

"You see we were riding along, and at the height of a disagreement I wanted to get out of Mr. West's car. He could not see things my way and attempted to drive on.

"I took a tumble and went to a near-by drug store. Outside of requiring a bit of courtplaster I was all right. The argument was over something very personal and that's all there is to it."

"But isn't it true that it was over West's desire to marry you?" she was asked. The actress refused to answer.

On the day of the argument Miss Cherrill met West at a local airport on his return by plane from the East.

"During Mr. West's absence," she said, "I had been taking care of his dog and his automobile.

"There is othing to the story around Hollywood that I received any of the bruises during an argument with him that day. All the ones received came from the little scuffle in the car and when I struck the pavement."

West, who became engaged to Miss Cherrill in October, 1929, could not be reached last night to give his version of the automobile incident. Four months after they announced their engagement the young film couple said it had been broken by mutual agreement.

The actress when asked last night if she and West were considering patching up their broken romance said her career comes first.

Miss Cherrill suddenly found herself launched on a motion-picture career when she came here in October, 1928, to visit her school chum, Sue Carol.

Charles Chaplin saw her when she attended a night event in Hollywood Stadium, offered her a screen test and signed her as his leading lady in the picture he now has under production.

M'ADAMS FIGHT TO GO ON

Hearing on Will Contest Involving Angelus Temple Enters Sixth Day Today

Hearing on the contest of Catherine M. McAdams's will, which names Angelus Temple organizations as beneficiaries of most of the estate, will continue today before Superior Judge Allen. Originally scheduled for three court days, the trial today reaches its sixth day, with every step bitterly contested.

The contestants are James E. McKeand of Beloit, Wis., an uncle and Mrs. Marion E. McCabe, a cousin of Mrs. McAdams. Rev. Joseph W. Arthur of the temple elders, is named executor.

The contestants are attempting to prove that Arthur used undue influence on Mrs. McAdams in the drawing of her will, and also that she was of unsound mind at the time. Arthur testified that Mrs. McAdams deeded six houses to Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson, and that he took a notary to the woman's home for that transaction.

Henry J. Klahn, director of a music school, whose wife's sister was a sister-in-law of Mrs. McAdams, testified that Mrs. McAdams always insisted on his acting as her manicure. Mrs. Mary Walker testified that Mrs. McAdams wore odd hats and threw her money around the house. The witness said that Mrs. McAdams once took her piano apart when called to the Walker home to give piano lessons.

POTENTIAL FUR SCARF WANDERS INTO WATTS

Answering the lure of backyard chicken pens, a full-grown silver black fox yesterday invaded Watts to send terror into the hearts of the pullets of that city and to start a crew of neighborhood small boys on an old-time fox hunt.

B'rer Fox slipped through the snares set for him all of yesterday since first seen early in the morning until late last night, when in a weak moment he darted into the garage of Harry Horowitz, 1817 East One Hundredth street, and found a solid pair of doors blocking his escape.

Mr. Horowitz last night canvassed a number of small animal dealers endeavoring to find the owner of the stray, but without success. Several dealers and veterinarians declared they knew of no fox farms nearer than Lake Arrowhead and suggested the possibility the animal had escaped in the mountains and was making its way to the seashore for the summer.

Mrs. Horowitz in the meantime is preparing to feed the potential fur neckpiece until its owner appears to claim it.

Lyman to Head Publicity Unit of Chest Drive

J. A. H. Kerr, Community Chest campaign chairman, announces that Clarence A. Lyman, in charge of newspaper and magazine advertising for the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, will serve as chairman of the Chest campaign publicity committee.

Lyman has served on the committee during the past six years.

Lyman, on accepting his appointment, stated that "it will be the function of the publicity committee to give every citizen a clear picture of the work of the Chest. We intend to show how the 124 member agencies, operating in the closest harmony, care for the sick and the needy, the orphaned, the child, and the aged man and woman. Last year 215,301 individuals contributed to the annual campaign for funds."

A group of men and women have accepted service in the publicity committee this year. It includes, also, Bruce Fowler, motion picture; E. A. Young, outdoor publicity; Carl Bundy, special features; J. Gustav White, industrial; Rev. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, Catholic publicity; Aaron Riche, Jewish publicity; Dr. John Snape, speakers' bureau; W. C. Conrad, school co-operation; members at large: I. Irving Lipsitch, E. B. DeGroot, Miss Sidney Maguire, Seward C. Simons and Noel Baker.

State Firemen in Session Here

Fire department executives from every section of California, representing the executive committee of the California State Firemen's Association, met yesterday at 1279 Temple street, the Temple-Edgewood Road firehouse, and outlined plans for legislative campaigns to further fire prevention measures and to establish uniform laws protecting life and property. Capt. W. A. Myers, president of the association, presided.

Chief among the scheduled activities of the association will be obtaining of State legislation for a State-wide two-platoon system, together with laws for protection of life and property from fire.

Rabbi Leibert Inaugurated at Temple Service

Temple Emanu-El, Wilshire at Manhattan Road, last night installed the new rabbi, Julius A. Leibert, who was called to the congregation in June, and who since has served as pastor. Rabbis Edgar F. Mangin, of Temple B'nai B'rith, and Isadore Isaacson, of Temple Israel, Hollywood, conducted the ceremony of induction. Other rabbis to have part were Maxwell Dubin, B'nai B'rith, and Harvey B. Franklin, Temple Israel, Long Beach. Rev. R. P. Ryland, secretary of the church federation, brought greetings.

Rabbi Magnin in his address welcoming Rabbi Leibert, who was a college mate of his, stated that "the rabbi is the repository of Hebrew learning, which is stored away for the edification of those who are willing to come for it."

Likening the Torah to the old coat of Marco Polo which was found filled with precious jewels, Rabbi Magnin urged a complete support of the new rabbi, "who as one of the best Hebrew scholars, is prepared to give of his learning to the people of Los Angeles." The sermon was preached by Rabbi Leibert on "The God of Our Children."

LIEUT. TREMAINE PROMOTED

Lieut. Harry Raymond Tremaine, Field Artillery Reserve, United States Army, who resides at 441 North Mansfield avenue has been promoted to captain, according to information received from Maj.-Gen. Hines's headquarters at the Presidio, San Francisco, yesterday.

ANGELENO'S DAM IDEAS EXPLOITED

Jakobsen Theory Applied to Calculating Stresses Featured in Pamphlet

The recently developed theory of B. F. Jakobsen of LaRue & Jakobsen, consulting engineers of Los Angeles, for the calculation of stresses in gravity dams, appears as the major paper in the September proceedings of the American Society of Civil Engineers. The theory, it is stated, has been supported by tests made at California Institute of Technology, by tests made by Dr. Voght on model dams for the United States Reclamation Service, and by work of Prof. William Cain of the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Jakobsen, who has twice won the Norman gold medal, highest award of the American Society of Civil Engineers, for work on dams, considers the development of this theory his most important work. It is founded on the principle that nature performs with the least expenditure of energy. He developed the new idea in dam design while checking the original plan for Boulder Dam proposed by the Reclamation Service, and rejected the design as inadequate—an opinion which was shared by the Sibert Commission appointed by President Coolidge. The commission ordered a new and safer design prepared.

In discussion of the paper Prof. Cain declares a belief in the "complete scientific accuracy" of Mr. Jakobsen's mathematical analysis and says that while engineers have long had doubts of the previous theory, it remained for Mr. Jakobsen to prove theoretically that it is untenable. The question assumed greater importance, it is said, in high dams, where the consequences of any error in theory are aggravated.

The "Principle of Least Work" is not a new one in general physical and mathematical theory, having been discussed since 1747, but its application to gravity dam stresses is new, and if further experimental work, which Mr. Jakobsen advises, proves it worthy of acceptance the application will have a fundamental influence on future design of dams of this character.

APPROVAL OF MUSICAL FILMS GIVEN

Hammerstein II Foresees Success for Operettas Under New Program

There is still a place on the screen for musical pictures, but the reason the public has shied away from them is because there have been too many of them, a greater proportion being awkwardly made.

Oscar Hammerstein II made this statement yesterday when he left Hollywood for New York on the liner Pennsylvania from Los Angeles Harbor via the Panama Canal.

Hammerstein was very optimistic about the future of musical pictures.

"Music," he said, "has a place on the screen as surely as it has a place on the stage. There is a definite technique to writing a play with music and not until the past year have the people who know been engaged to write them.

"Screen operetta has passed through the experimental stage and definite screen technique for musicals evolved. I predict that musical plays are going to be one of the most popular forms of entertainment in the future if studios stick to their new policy of only producing a dozen or so a year."

Hammerstein, who just completed, in conjunction with Sigmund Romberg, his second operetta, "Children of Dreams," was accompanied by Mrs. Hammerstein. He expects to return in December to supervise the editing of the picture and to prepare his third.

Pomona College Globe-trotters Nearing Home

The group of Pomona College boys who left Los Angeles a year ago on an "international friendship" tour of the world, will arrive at Wilmington on the Tatsuta Maru next Monday, it was announced yesterday.

The party, each member of which undertook a special line of research work, has contacted educational leaders and college students in various countries, including Hawaii, Japan and China. The young men also rendered assitance to John E. Baker, who was sent by President Hoover to dispense the famine relief fund in China.

Upon their return to Pomona, the students will show motion pictures of their trip and give lectures in the interest of international friendship. Those in the party are Warren Scott of Beverly Hills; Carroll Lorbeer of Santa Monica; Robert Armacost of Sawtelle; Bruce Smith of Pasadena; Rolwan Morin of Glendale; Stanley Avery of Butte, Mont.; George Campbell of Willows; Oliver Haskell of Bulgaria; Don Dreher of Claremont and Sik Leong Suey of Honolulu.

Italian Fete Aids Fund for Quake Victims

The grounds of the Breakfast Club on Riverside Drive were the scene all day yesterday of a colorful picnic and fiesta conducted by the Order of the Sons of Italy. The proceeds went to the Italian Red Cross for the benefit of sufferers in Italy's recent earthquake disaster.

During the afternoon a lengthy concert was given, followed by addresses by leaders in the local Italian colony. They included Domenico Jannarone, Grand Venerable of the Order of the Sons of Italy in California; Alberto Cav. Millino Ponce de Leon, Italian Vice-Consul in Los Angeles, and Dr. A. Bissiri.

The concert and speaking program were followed by an Italian barbecue and the evening was devoted to dancing.

COMPTON ASKS LAND FOR NEW CITY PARK

A request from the city of Compton that the county deed to it, at a nominal sum, an acre of ground wanted for park purposes will be considered today at the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors. The property needed, according to a communication from Asa Cromwell Cooney, City Attorney for Compton, is an acre lying east of the Southern Pacific railway tracks, south of Palmer avenue, adjacent to three other acres of ground Compton plans to buy for a park. The county ground is now being used as a station for the road department.

Foreigners Seized the Gum Habit

MISS VARIEL'S RITES PLANNED FOR TODAY

Funeral services for Miss Florence Variel, pioneer employee of the County Recorder's office, who died in Hollywood Hospital Friday, will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today at Bresee Brothers' chapel, 855 South Figueroa street. Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery. Miss Variel was a native Californian. She was 70 years of age. Her parents came here by ox-team in 1852. She leaves a brother, William J. Variel, attorney, and a sister, Mrs. Mary E. Barstow, widow of Judge Barstow.

LEGAL FRATERNITY TO CONVENE HERE

Further swelling the number of visitors that will be in Los Angeles during the Olympic Games, word has been received from Harry Main, convention manager of the Chamber of Commerce, now in the East, that the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity will hold its 1932 convention here. The group will have an attendance of 500 visitors. The decision to meet here was reached at Milwaukee. Local officers of the fraternity are F. M. Ludwick, Supreme Secretary of the national organization, and J. Lamar Butler, local secretary.

Today's Bible Text

God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ, who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with Him.—I Thess. v, 9-10.

SHIRTS

Booth Tarkington says that by 1960 men will have discarded shirts entirely. Does he suspect another panic for that year?

FISHY

Fish have a highly developed sense of hearing, says the Bureau of Fisheries. This is a great relief; what if they had a highly developed power of speech?

ALIMONY

An Oregon man borrowed funds from his second wife to pay alimony to his first wife. A great financier is certainly going to waste up among the lodge pole pines.

COMMON CLAY

George Bernard Shaw says that 90 per cent of him is like everybody else. This is fine of the English dramatist. But now we begin to understand why the Britishers sing with so much abandon, "God Save the King!"

COMMANDMENTS

The Louisville Times, from the land of good Bourbon of ancient history, feels that prohibition is as great a success as the Ten Commandments. Evidently the mint julep has soured. There are doubtless people even in California who would vote to repeal the writings on the Tables of Stone.

PINS DROP

"When Pins Drop in Hollywood," says the Literary Digest. That is one of the acoustic qualities of the Bowl—you can hear a pin drop. However, that is not what the folks go there in throngs to hear. When the music strikes up the sensitive cannot even hear the stock market drop. Nor do the most fastidious bother about the dew drop.

PESTS

Thousands of blackbirds and crows recently descended in clouds upon an invading host of caterpillars up in the Shasta country not long ago and made way with them in short order. All nature wants is a chance and she will preserve the balance among pests. Thus the fool drivers and the jaywalkers mutually dispose of each other.

VICIOUS COFFEE

If you could trace the estrangement of most couples whose marriages go onto the rocks, you would find it began over the morning coffee in the fatal hour between 7:45 and 8:45, says Dorothy Dix. We have become suspicious of base designs in some of the coffee we have been compelled to drink at lunch counters also.

ROBOT POLICE

A new traffic device, consisting of the standard three-color signal and controlled by actual traffic movement at an intersection by means of sound waves from auto horns, speeds up traffic and protects both pedestrians and motorists. While this is quite a contract to fill; yet the possibilities seem to justify the claim.

Until a driver desires to cross the intersection from a side road, a green light is displayed at all times to the main thoroughfare. When a car approaches on the cross street the horn is sounded and the blast is picked up by a microphone, which is the ear of the automatic policeman. This robot officer changes the main highway indications from green to amber to red. The red remains for a sufficient interval to clear the road and then reverts to the original colors.

As a guard against the side vehicles absorbing all right of way, nobody can horn in again until a certain lapse of time for the main traffic to flow along the greater artery.

The pedestrian gets his rights by simply punching a button conveniently located on the standard that operates the signals. The lights are turned for him that he may pass in safety.

This system is peculiarly valuable in that until a car desires the opportunity of crossing, the normal heavy traffic is allowed to continue without interruption on the through boulevard. And when travel is heavy in all directions, a balance is preserved automatically as long as there is any call for it.

IS THE FRUIT FLY BEATEN?

The statement of N. H. Sloane, general manager of the California State Chamber of Commerce, that the Mediterranean fruit fly has been eradicated from Florida and is nowhere to be found now in the continental United States, together with the recent revision of the fruit-fly quarantine regulations by the United States Department of Agriculture to permit the shipment of most fruits and vegetables without sterilization, is not only excellent news for Florida growers, but for fruit and vegetable growers everywhere—provided it is true. There seems little reason to doubt it, yet this most destructive insect pest has never before been beaten anywhere and this fact justifies the retention of continued precautions until absolute certainty is established.

Late in February a similar report was put out to be followed by the discovery of fresh larvae. This discovery was made while a Congressional investigating committee was present, the chairman of which had gone south with the fixed idea that there never was any fruit fly in Florida and that the campaign against it was a waste of Federal money. This infestation, say reports, has now been cleaned up, together with a similar minor one discovered in July.

The new regulations permit shipment of unsterilized fruits to the northwest and of unsterilized vegetables, except peppers, everywhere. Fruit, except limes, shipped into citrus-producing States, requires sterilization.

According to Current Science, Florida's victory over the fruit fly was achieved by spraying about a pint of lead arsenate, molasses, sugar and water into the foliage of each citrus tree, the poisonous mixture proving irresistibly attractive to the adult flies, so that they died instead of laying eggs in the fruit. This is a method that obviously can be applied without uprooting orchards—the "clean cultivation" which has heretofore been considered a necessity in the extermination campaign—and if, indeed, it has been successful in Florida the discovery is of immense importance.

The history of the Mediterranean fruit fly, however, makes that "if" very large. Success, further, is not a reason for letting down, but for continuing the general war against destructive parasites, since it will be proof that victory is possible and that the necessary expense will be rewarded.

Also, the fact that there are no more flies in Florida is not certainly that there are no more elsewhere. Some may have escaped the quarantine and be located in adjacent States, or there may be a few in warehouses and other yet unsuspected places. The country will not be safe until the last insect has been destroyed.

High praise is due to Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chief of the Federal plant quarantine and control administration, and Dr. A. T. Baker of the United States Bureau of Entomology, for the manner in which they have conducted the extermination campaign. The Florida growers, also, are entitled to a meed of praise for the manner in which they have, in general, co-operated with the insect fighters. Many such campaigns have been defeated because growers, conscious only of immediate loss, have evaded regulations of which they could not be made to understand the necessity. In the Florida case, the indemnities paid by the Federal and State governments for destroyed fruit made up the immediate loss in part—and in the long run, of course, the losses will be recouped many times over. There was a maximum of aid and a minimum of opposition to the antifly campaign in Florida, from all reports, which indicates a high degree of intelligence and public spirit among Florida citizens, which helped to make it possible for President Hoover to cut the required appropriation for continuance of the work from $15,000,000 to $6,000,000.

This, incidentally, is the first time in the world's history that real progress has been made against the Mediterranean fruit fly. New South Wales waged a vigorous campaign against it and thought it had it beaten, but there was a recurrence, or a new infestation, and the fight was abandoned. A desultory war was waged against it in Hawaii, with poor success. In most places it was permitted to capture the trees and fields with little opposition. The new method may hearten an eradication campaign in these infested spots, if it is shown that "clean cultivation" is not necessary. With so versatile an insect as the Mediterranean fruit fly, complete destruction of everything that might serve as a host is almost an impossible task.

THE BIG SQUEEZE

The bigger and better movement seems to be spreading to vehicles on the highway—to the dismay of the motorist. The "better" may be approved; but the "bigger" needs to get both a check and double check.

The reducing idea needs to be taken to heart by vans and trucks. Some of them are so fat that it is an engineering feat of the highest order to pass them with success and safety. They occupy all the space with their huge bulk and if any other attempts to escape them, they throw out such a smoke screen of dust as to make travel impossible.

Yet other vehicles are being stretched out into trains that absorb the curves and hold up traffic. The rumble and grumble of their engines neutralize signals and they operate on the rule that might is right.

Ohio has just passed a law limiting the length of vehicles to thirty feet. Similar legislation is due in other States. In California, where motor travel is more prolific than elsewhere, immediate relief must be given.

Passenger busses are not only becoming thicker on the big roads, but are also bulging out thicker and thicker in body. If they be within the legal width, then the legal width needs to be reduced, or the roads widened. They serve the public; but serving a small part of the public at not only the expense, but great inconvenience and peril, of the greater number, is hardly reasonable or just.

AND TO OTHERS

A New York specialist, Dr. Frederick Tilney, says that most people use but 25 per cent of their brains. This would seem to be quite a concession to fool drivers.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

THE bear being California's emblem, we Californians naturally know all about bears.

Most of us know that in California there are four kinds of bears, grizzlies, black bears, brown bears and cinnamon bears.

Which is okeh except that the grizzlies are extinct and all the rest are American black bears. Some of the black bears are brown and some are cinnamon, but they are just the blonds of the Black Bear family. They're all the same kind of bears.

Bear Facts

Yesterday we took a hike with a ranger and he told us all about bears. These rangers in our national parks are pretty scientific fellows. You may take a hike with one who tells you all about botany or with another who tells you about geology or with another who is a naturalist. At least, that's the way it is here in Sequoia Park. Every day there is a half-day hike or an all-day hike or a horseback trip to Alta Peak, from which one gets a glorious view of Mt. Whitney, or a pack-burro trip to Lost Lake or some other more distant spot, and if you get lazy and let the children go alone with the ranger while you stick around camp and elevate your mind with bridge they'll come home so much better informed than you are that you'll feel apologetic all the rest of your life. For an educational vacation, you can hardly beat a national park, where the guides don't expect tips every time they turn around.

"If the Pilgrim Fathers had landed on the west coast instead of on the east coast," he said, "the family name of our bears probably would be Brown instead of Black, as one sees a great many brown or cinnamon-colored bears here. But they are the same kind of bears the early settlers of America found on the east coast, where they met only brunette members of the family, so they named them Black.

"Grizzlies are extinct, and outside the national parks the others are practically extinct, because the law holds that bears are predatory animals which may be shot on sight. That is too bad, as they never have been a menace to human beings. Any really wild bear would run from you much faster than you could run from it. The only bears which will approach a human being, even a child, are those which have learned that we are friends, from whom they may expect food."

Tip to Literary Ladies

Continuing our adventures in Gasarabia, we coasted out of Sequoia Park yesterday and stopped at Three Rivers to visit Monica Shannon, who used to be one of the Los Angeles literati but now is the merry milkmaid of Three Rivers, where her husband, Elbert Wing, owns 160 acres of oranges and scenery, a small model dairy and a beautiful, tree-shaded plunge which is part of the Kaweah River. Every now and then some literary lady in Los Angeles asks us what she ought to do, and now we know what to tell them. The best thing they can do is go to Three Rivers and marry Elbert Wing. The Wings have a homey house situated about as beautifully as a house can be situated, with their own trees and cows and scenery smiling on them from every side. Every way they look they see something in which they take pride and find pleasure. In their living-porch they have built, with their own hands, the most artistic fireplace we ever saw, each stone in which is a thing of beauty and some are as lovely as jewels. Each stone has, for them, its history and its memories of expeditions into the mountains. In that living-porch Monica writes when she feels like it but doesn't have to when she doesn't feel like it. They have no children but have adopted a hedgehog.

Where the Evil Days Come Not

Nearly everyone in Three Rivers is a native son of a native son. When Visalia was a wild, tough frontier town, Three Rivers was a hiding-out place for bad men. Then a gold rush to the mountains behind it brought in settlers who stayed and have been letting the rest of the world go by ever since. In speech and manner they are more the Californians of fifty years ago than the Californians of today. In that happy valley they don't know what a realtor is and speak of "perfumigating" an orchard. When they hear echoes of a Wall Street panic they ask: "What is a panic, anyway?" Hard times and booms are both unknown in Three Rivers, where prosperity comes from the soil and one's labor rather than from paper profits, happiness from health and friendships rather than from purchased pleasures and the interests of life from our own neighbors.

GENERAL STORE

A comparative newcomer, speaking of a man he'd known only ten years or so, remarked: "That's one man you never hear any scandal about." "There ain't none to speak of," drawled an old-timer, "less'n, o' course, you count that time twenty years ago when he shot a man and had to go to the pen a while."

The Land of Simple Plenty

But Gas Arabs cannot linger long, not even in Three Rivers, so we sped on through country beautiful with deciduous fruit orchards and vineyards. Near Visalia we stopped in a fig orchard to buy a quarter's worth of figs. We didn't have time to wait for the young man to pick us a whole quarter's worth, though—when he got about fifteen pounds in the bag we sneaked out on him without waiting for our change. An hour later we stopped under a noble oak and ate figs and milk—the Wings had filled our thermos bucket with rich, creamy milk—till we could hold no more. It was the first time we ever fed seven people for 25 cents and had enough left over for supper.

We sped on for Paso Robles, via Hanford and Coalinga. Near Coalinga we passed a school which proudly flaunted the name, Oil King School, showing that there are communities which are proud of their derricks. In the town, too, we found two modern wonders—two big drug stores without soda fountains. In Hanford we were tempted by an interesting-looking Chinatown but did not stop.

From Coalinga we pushed on toward the Devil's Den and Lost Hills country, lost our way on a detour road and for many hours drove through the most desolate, verdureless flats we ever saw, with plenty of dust and heat. But we saw a mirage, a river so genuine-looking that the boys asked to be allowed to swim in it when we got to it. But though we drove toward it at 5 m.p.h. for two hours we never got any nearer.

TRACK TO FAME

An all-American track team has been chosen and as usual the Pacific Coast cops six of the fifteen first places. It is almost ceasing to be news the way the boys bring home the bacon. We have enough now in cold storage to last several seasons. This is a great country! And the climate—but what's the use?

PUZZLING PROPOSITION

By James J. Montague

The gunman is a moron,
  Devoid of sense or wit,
Whom you and I would classify
  As mentally unfit.
His brow is low and narrow;
  His nose is short and flat,
In him we find no trace of mind,
  But while he has his "gat,"
He daily does his evil bit
And calmly gets away with it.

The gangster is a low-brow;
  One never can detect
In his grim face the slightest trace
  Of active intellect.
But more and more his quarrels
  Disturb the public peace,
And every day in every way
  His warlike ranks increase.
While brainy folk like me and you
Cry: "What's this country coming to?"

Our parents and our teachers
  Have taught us from our birth
That thought with strength and power is fraught
  And brains must rule the earth.
But gunmen, crooks and gangsters
  Their stern vocation ply.
They shoot and fight by day and night
  While bullets sing and fly.
If brains are bulwarks of the strong
There must be somewhere something wrong!

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

THE PERSHING MEMOIRS

(From the New York World)

Gen. Pershing, it appears, is writing his memoirs. Certainly they will be interesting memoirs, and one hopes that he lays aside the traditional army reticence and tells all essential facts about the part that he played in the war, particularly his relations with foreign commanders. It is still somewhat shrouded in mystery, the story of how the final drive was decided on, the tremendous offensive that began on September 26, 1918, and ended on November 11, with complete victory. The prevalent belief in the American Army at the time was that Pershing insisted on the offensive in the face of the reluctance of the Allied commanders, who doubted that the American troops had had enough training to be of use. But the initiative has also been ascribed to Foch and to the British commanders. The deliberations that preceded it are all known to Pershing, for he sat in them; one hopes he will tell about them in full. He owes it to himself to do so. One of the greatest soldiers that the United States has produced, he lacks popular acclaim commensurate with his deeds and skill. Part of this is because he belongs to an era which venerates the common soldier rather than the general but part of it is because of his own reticence, his impulse to keep his secrets to himself. But they are, he might remember, important secrets. The country, as well as his own reputation, is entitled to benefit by their being published.

PROHIBITION BUNGLING

(From the Portland Express)

There is apt to be indifference to real values. Thus it may very well be questioned whether it is worth while to cause such damage as often results from the wholesale holding up of cars just for the sake of making a small seizure of liquor. Enforcement of the law is important, of course, but so are the comfort and security of decent citizens. The cost of a seizure in danger and discomfort to innocent citizens should always be reckoned. On this basis it might prove that much of the work done by inefficient or overzealous officers is costing the public far too much.

Hence it is that perhaps if enforcement work were better planned and executed there would be no need for uniforms or other glaring identification marks and law-abiding citizens would not be interfered with at all. Then there would be little indiscriminate shooting and officers themselves might be much safer than they are now.

THE WASHINGTON WASH

BY STRICKLAND GILLILAN

That garrulous ex—, Calvin the Terse, took a fall into or out of the primaries recently. He administered to the system a dose that had it been as big as it was poisonous, would have proved lethal. Nobody believes nowadays that the primaries, particularly as they pertain to the United States Senatorship, are worth the price they cost.

The popular election of United States Senators has hardly a friend today except those below-the-average Senators who'd never get that way without the popular vote. The old laddybucks who erected the Constitution in the first place knew their vegetables and did all they could to keep that branch of the Congress as free from the direct polling places as was (and is; but for how long?) the Supreme Court.

When, last year, Nick Longworth was colicking about the rabid behavior of that wildest of all Senates, one of his newspaper friends who knows Nick well enough to be audacious with him, said, "Well, I suppose you can thank your sainted father-in-law for the condition you are howling about." After a moment's thought the Speaker is said to have said gravely, "I guess you're right." For President Roosevelt was very instrumental in securing the enactment of the law providing for that foolish thing from which we all suffer. It is becoming a well-established belief around here that the Constitution was quite some document in its day and that every time it has been touched it has been "worsened."

Just to show what a peaceable and kindly race of people Americans, regardless of racial origin (or habitat prior to having entered the melting pot,) are: I was told that a few years ago when Grand Imperial Wizard Evans of the Ku Klux Klan, avowed though heavily sheeted foe of Jews, Catholics and Negroes, was brought to a Washington hospital to have some knife work done on one of the few legs he wore, he was assisted into the hospital by a colored orderly, operated on by a Jewish surgeon and attended (and anesthetized) by a Catholic nurse. What a glorious chance they all had to do the Wizard in! But he was given the most perfect possible attention and came out a well man. And yet they say prejudice cuts some ice in this country!

George Christian, former private secretary to President Harding, now a loved sage of Washington and a too-seldom frequenter of the Press Club, was warmly approving the much-debated article by Gerard, naming the sixty-or-so biggest men in the country.

"Gerard was exactly right," said George. "Anybody who has had business experience coupled with responsibility knows that the biggest man in any community is the one who has to meet a pay roll every Saturday or at any other stated interval, and always have the cash regardless of circumstances. The chap who can do that is a man, I tell you!" Every person who scratches his head weekly or fortnightly over where the manilla-envelope stuffing is to come from, will shout a loud amen, no doubt.

It begins to look very much, to this one man up this particular tree, as if Washington were once again to welcome Thomas P. Gore, former Senator from Oklahoma. My grapevine telegraph tells me he is running like a scared coyote. Gore is a remarkable fellow and Washington will by no means grieve if he returns. He knows more than anybody else you ever saw. His wife reads everything of current happenings to him and he remembers it all. Neither does he ever forget a person he has met. Always, when we used to meet on the hustings among the brown chautauqua tents, he would hail me with:

"Hel-lo! The last time I saw you was at St. Joe," or some place else—always emphasizing where he had seen me. I never knew a man with physical sight so to stress the seeing part of it.

Then it looks, also, to a number of scouts who return thence, as if South Carolina were going to hand Coley Blease the air. The leading candidate against him can read and write and everything—in fact, he is quite a scholarly and gentlemanly fellow, representing the better class of South Carolinians. Some express the belief that Jim Byrnes would live in Washington years and years and never once quarrel with a street-car conductor who carried him past his hotel through the passenger's own mistake, as Coley did. We may be going to get a real break in that direction. By the time you read this the "run-off" will be over.

Little Frankie Kent did a super-slick thing in giving Charley Michelson (Raskob's paid destroying angel) a flattering bawling out in Scribner's. It was done so cleverly Charley doesn't know whether to thank Frank or shoot him. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays he is grateful to Kent for praising him, and Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays he hates him for a spoil-sport. Sundays he is neutral. Seldom has a larger or more destructive monkey wrench been dropped into any set of well-oiled works. Frank is embarrassed by the fact that though a Democrat he approves the President. He couldn't well take up the cudgel frankly in behalf of the chief, so he just took the Hoover-panning machine apart in our presence and showed how much of Raskob's money it takes to make it tick. He pretended great innocence about it, too. He pretends not to know he was scuttling the pirate ship owned by Raskob and sailed by Michelson. Now the public can know (as the thinking portion of it knew beforehand) that the crashes of thunder are made by a stage hand with a sheet of tin.

A lot of us boys like to write, and also we need money. But most of us would be insulted if told "Ruin that man—pay no attention to his merits. Put every good thing he does or experiences in the light which will make it arouse toward him the hate of his people; blame every calamity that occurs on him. He is your President and my President—the country's welfare depends upon his success—but ruin him if you can! We want our party to win, no matter how."

A lot of us are Americans first and partisans last, and want, for everybody's sake, the man in that office with the superhuman obligations, to succeed. Yeah, a lot of us are silly, I suppose, but some of us wouldn't accept any pay check that involved what would seem to us treason to our country's head and our own best impulses. This has kept some of us poor, but we can look ourselves in the face without wincing and could continue to do so, no matter what might happen.

Recently, the details not being essential, I had an hour and a half close contact with President Hoover. I cannot say what was said, but let me say this: I left with the impression of a man supremely anxious. Anxious for what? Anxious to fulfill his every duty as a servant of the people in the manner that would satisfy and benefit those people in the greatest number of ways and in the largest degree. It is not—this anxiety—lest he go into political oblivion, but lest he fail in some duty whose nonperformance would make him deserve such oblivion. I never saw a man on whose conscience had been imposed so heavy or so sacred a burden as he has imposed upon his and which he will keep there until his term of office shall end. This superconscientiousness, this humble earnestness, is equaled by but one other thing—the tremendous amount of information the man has acquired from his ceaseless study of everything pertaining to the welfare of this precious people of his, which includes you and me.

Primary Needs Expanding

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An analysis of the recent primary reveals the fact that Mr. Rolph polled only 37 per cent of the Republican vote, while Fitts and Young polled a combined percentage of 62. Rolph, therefore, can hardly be said to be the choice of a majority of his party. Here we have a wet who owes his "victory" to the fact that the dry majority was hopelessly divided.

A similar situation recently occurred in Texas when "Ma" Ferguson led a field of eleven candidates in the race for Governor. Had California's primary law been in force in Texas, that State would now be facing two more years of Ferguson misrule. But happily Texas has a run-off primary and it was at this second election that the majority of the Democrats there had a chance to free themselves of an unpopular candidate.

Now why should we not have the same law in California? We have seen its value in Texas. If we had it here, the drys could easily dispose of Rolph. If the extra election is too expensive, the "first and second choice" system may be substituted, whereby the voter may indicate at the primary which candidate he prefers in the event of his own favorite being eliminated.

A. W. HAYNES.

Symphonies by Radio

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A resident of California for several years, I have taken keenest pleasure in the cultural growth of our lovely city. Los Angeles owes a debt of deep gratitude to the promoters of the Hollywood Bowl concerts. It has been a nine-years course in appreciation and understanding of the world's musical masters.

To sit in this Bowl, rimmed in by the mountains and canopied by the stars, and listen in an almost soundless silence to the beautiful programs offered is not only a delight to the ear but a spiritual exaltation.

This summer for the past eight Saturday nights I have sat in my home and in fellowship with thousands of other unseen listeners-in, have joined with the other thousands in heartfelt acclaim.

Situated so it is impossible for me to go often to the Bowl, I wish to thank the Union Oil Company for bringing the Bowl to me and for these eight Saturday nights for lifting me into a world of beautiful melody.

Cocos Treasure Sought

Capt. Malcolm Campbell, the racing autoist, is to again seek the $60,000,000 worth of gold and jewels said to have been hidden by pirates in the Cocos Islands in the Pacific. He started his search in 1925, but had to abandon it temporarily. "The Cocos Islands are 700 miles from the nearest other land," Campbell said, "just the spot pirates would choose. I did not go there entirely 'on spec,' and I know what I am after."

HABEAS CORPUS WARNING GIVEN

Writ Held Not Available as Trial of Fact

Neither Can it be Used as Appeal Court

Wright Act Prisoner Must Stay in Custody

Lawyers are admonished not to try to use habeas corpus proceedings as trials of fact or as appeal courts, in an opinion just filed by Superior Judge Shaw. His opinion denied a writ applied for by Robert Jackson, who was ordered remanded to custody.

Jackson had been convicted of sale and possession of liquor in violation of the Wright Act. To obtain his release on habeas corpus, he sought to take advantage of the rule that, where liquor possession is purely incidental to a sale, a defendant cannot be convicted of sale and also of possession. Jackson's only attempt at the writ hearing to prove that this rule applies was by his own testimony before Judge Shaw that the possession was incidental to the sale, the judge held. He ruled:

"This cannot be done. The proceeding in habeas corpus is in the nature of a collateral attack on the judgments and goes only to the jurisdiction of the court. It cannot be used either to review mere errors of the trial court, not going to its jurisdiction, or to obtain a new trial of issues involved in the original charge. This court on such a writ can go no further than to examine the record of the trial court, including the evidence there given when necessary to determine the question of jurisdiction."

Judge Shaw's ruling is interpreted as warning to many persons convicted on the double sale-and-possession charges not to seek freedom in writs of habeas corpus.

MORE FOLKS IN EAST VIEW FAIR EXHIBIT

Los Angeles Display on Midwest Circuit Profits by Attendance Gain

Heavier attendance this year at the various eastern fairs in which Los Angeles county exhibits have been shown with an attendant increased interest in the entry from this section is reported by Secretary-Manager Arnoll of the Chamber of Commerce.

Prepared and managed by the exposition department staff of the chamber, Los Angeles county exhibits are this year appearing in thirteen eastern and Middle West State fairs, as well as the Canadian National Exposition at Toronto. Several of the fairs have been held in the past few weeks.

In a survey of the completed fairs the increased attendance this year is disclosed. The total attendance at the fairs in which this section's entries were placed reached 600,000 persons, a record breaker. Touring the fairs at Indianapolis, Ind., Springfield, Ill., Milwaukee and Des Moines, Iowa, Secretary Bayer found that all reported heavier attendance. Toronto, Can., alone showed a slight falling off, due to bad weather.

Fair officials expressed the opinion that the attendance figures of the shows are a definite indication of improved conditions in the farm areas, farmers now having a prospect of better crop prices than they anticipated while many say that drought conditions are not so serious as at first reported.

DR. ALBIN PETERSON HEADS GOOD TEMPLARS

Dr. Albin Peterson, elected Grand Chief Templar of the California Lodge International Order of Good Templars at the annual convention recently held at Oakland, is busy following his return to Los Angeles mapping out plans for the conduct of his office for the next twelve months. Other officers elected at the Oakland convention are Mrs. B. Schmack, Pasadena, Grand Vice-Templar, and L. A. Swan, Los Angeles, Grand Superintendent of Educational Work.

ARMY HEAD HERE ON FAREWELL TOUR

Gen. Charles P. Summerall

STAFF CHIEF ON TOUR OF INSPECTION

Gen. Summerall and Aides will be Guests Tonight of Organized Reserve Officers

On a farewell inspection tour of all the military and Coast defense posts and fortifications of the West, Gen. Charles P. Summerall, Chief of Staff of the United States Army, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with his aides and for the next two days will meet with military officials of this section and look over the harbor defense of Los Angeles.

Gen. Summerall will retire from active service on November 19, and before that time comes he will have been in every post and station connected with the defense of the country. Yesterday afternoon, following his arrival at Riverside from Salt Lake City, he inspected March Field.

Tonight there will be a great gathering of the military at the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry Armory at Exposition Park, when all the organized reserve officers of Southern California are invited to attend the reception and meet Gen. Summerall. More than 500 officers are expected to be present. Following the reception, the commanding officer of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, Col. Hervey, will tender the Chief of Staff a review of the regiment.

Tomorrow morning Gen. Summerall will inspect the harbor defenses of Los Angeles. There will be a review of the military and coast defense forces at Fort MacArthur. At 1 o'clock a luncheon will be given him at the University Club with Col. Perry W. Weidner as host.

He will leave at 8:10 p.m. Tuesday for Monterey. From there he will go to San Francisco and then to the Puget Sound Coast defense fortifications before returning to Washington. He is staying at the Alexandria.

GENERAL WILL MEET FIRST DIVISION COMRADES

Gen. Summerall will visit for a short time with his old comrades of the First Division, A.E.F., tomorrow evening.

C. B. Symes, president of the Southern California Sector, society of the First Division, announced the receipt of word from the general to the effect that he will be glad to meet his overseas comrades at the Central Station at 7:45 p.m., before his departure for the north.

"Owing to the busy schedule of his inspection trip over the country it is impossible for the general to spend the whole evening with his comrades as he would have liked to, so, as many former members of this fighting First Division that can, are urged to be present at the Central Station Tuesday evening," Symes declared.

Father of Eight Commits Suicide

Leaving a note declaring no one responsible, but failing to give a reason for his act, Augustine Martinez, 41 years of age, father of eight living children, committed suicide yesterday by swallowing poison in his home at 318 West Fourth street, San Pedro.

He was found unconscious on the kitchen floor by his wife and died on the way to San Pedro General Hospital.

STYLES EVENT AUGURS GAINS

Public Shows Interest in Coming Modes Display

Merchants Voice Confidence in Business Conditions

City to Maintain Place as Fashion's Dictator

Essential soundness of business conditions in Los Angeles is reflected by the increasing interest on the part of the public in the forthcoming "Modes of Autumn" celebration, according to statements obtained over the week-end from downtown merchants participating in the event. The display is to begin Wednesday evening with the unveiling of store windows in the metropolitan district.

"Modes of Autumn" this year is actuated by another motive in addition to expression of the city's leadership in style; namely, reaffirmation of merchants' confidence in the economic situation. So declares T. C. Palmer, vice-president of Walker's, and head of the group sponsoring the festival.

"Few cities of the country evince a deeper interest than does Los Angeles in the style trend and the offerings of each new season," Palmer said. "The downtown streets Wednesday night will attest the eagerness of the public to be apace with the changing modes."

FAITH DEMONSTRATION

John G. Bullock, president of Bullock's, believes the fall season will demonstrate amply the faith of the people in their business institutions. "We are happy to give this style event," he said. "It will combine the enterprise of our local designers and manufacturers with the products of other great style centers. I am impressed with the interest being shown by all concerned. It is a good sign."

According to Tom May of the May Company, style scouts from practically every large city in the country are focusing their attention on the event. "They realize perhaps, better than we do, what a tremendous influence Los Angeles exerts in the world of fashion," he declared. "The leadership we have built during the past few years is contributing to our continued prosperity and growth. We expect the celebration to be a guarantee of good business during the fall season."

VIEWPOINT CHANGED

Malcolm McNaghten, president of the Broadway Department Store, says the widespread interest is a clear indication that the public viewpoint of business conditions has undergone a definite change for the better, adding: "The people of Los Angeles are aware of the city's leadership in the realm of style and they propose to maintain it without surrender."

Style is playing an important part in the creation of new furniture and new home-decoration ideas, in the opinion of C. H. Barker, president of Barker Brothers.

"We must not lose sight of the fact that the city's style leadership extends to other fields than that of wearing apparel," said Barker. "Our local furniture manufacturers are building a great industry here. Our home-furnishings stores are co-operating in carrying the message of leadership to the rest of the world. We have developed a style and type of home furnishings already gaining favor throughout the entire country."

Three to Face Screen Script Theft Plot Quiz

Charged with conspiracy to commit grand theft and burglary as a result of their asserted attempt to obtain a studio script of the "Dawn Patrol," a Warner Brothers picture, Joseph Marsh, who says he is a writer for the Caddo Company; Forrest J. Easley, said to be a detective employed by the same company, and Miss Edith Higgins, former employee of Warner Brothers, are to appear before Municipal Judge Stafford today for preliminary hearing.

The asserted offense, according to Investigator Cavett of the District-Attorney's office, who arrested the trio, grew out of a Federal suit filed by the Caddo Company against Warner Brothers, charging copyright infringement on "Hell's Angels." The defendants were trapped at the home of Carmelita Sweeney, Warner Brothers' employee, at 1403 North Formosa avenue, whom they persuaded to sell them the script, Cavett said.

Fanta Funeral will be Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Amalia Fanta, pioneer resident of Los Angeles, who died Friday while spending a vacation at Hermosa Beach, will be conducted privately at 11 a.m. today at the W. A. Brown funeral chapel. She was born in Bohemia, but had lived in this city for forty-eight years.

Mrs. Fanta and her husband Bernard celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1922. He died two years later. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. W. S. Sultan and Miss Julia Fanta, both of Los Angeles, and Mrs. E. J. Franklin of Salt Lake City, and one grandchild, Mrs. Dale Harvey of this city.

MAP SANCTIONED

The City Council has sanctioned the assessment district maps for the improvement of Shelley street at Lowell avenue and for the improvement of streets in the Crescent Heights Boulevard and Hollywood Boulevard district.

W. W. TRITT BURIED TODAY

Masonic burial rites will be conducted at 10 a.m. today for W. W. Tritt, assistant superintendent of schools and widely known Los Angeles educator, who died Friday following an attack of acute indigestion.

He was a member of South Gate Masonic Lodge, brother members of which will take charge of the body following Christian Science services in Hollywood Cemetery Chapel.

The active pall-bearers will be Harold Jepson, Harry Bowker, Frank Bowker, Arthur Bridge, Reginald Coles and Wilbur Sargent, while a dozen or more former associates and friends will act as honorary pallbearers.

Berlin Romance will Climax in Wedding Here

The culmination of a romance which started in early childhood in Berlin will come to a close in Los Angeles Monday when Kurt Von Ludwig, 26 years of age, an employee of The Times' composing room, will be married to Miss Charlotte Opitz, 22, who arrived in California the 3rd inst., from Germany.

While he was attending school relatives in Los Angeles sent Von Ludwig a month's subscription to The Times. He then determined to come to America, to Los Angeles if possible, and above all things, to get a job on the paper. He proposed to his sweetheart and was accepted and started for America five years ago. He saved enough to make one trip back to Germany where he hoped to claim his bride, but the immigration laws compelled him to return without her.

He has waited patiently three years and when the steamer Donau arrived with his bride-to-be on board, he set the date for the marriage as quickly as possible. After their marriage they will leave on a honeymoon trip to San Francisco.

WIFE DIVORCES MATE FOR SECOND TIME

Married, divorced and remarried, William B. Wood and Maud Wood yesterday were redivorced, the decree being granted the wife by Superior Judge Jamison, on grounds that the husband had deserted September 15, 1925. Records reveal that the Woods married originally in 1893 at Pipestone, Minn., and that when they were first divorced in 1909, they had five children. Three years later, they remarried in St. Paul, Minn.

Of Interest to Women

Society

A charming wedding of interest to many residents of Imperial Valley took place recently at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, when Laura Carolyn Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Lee, former residents of Brawley and El Centro, became the bride of Hubert Smith Goss, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Goss of El Centro.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in an exquisite ivory satin and princess lace wedding dress which was worn by her mother as a bride more than twenty years ago. Her veil was of tulle and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Esther [illegible], dressed in a pale pink chiffon, was maid of honor. Mrs. Eugene Blankenship, sister of the groom, and Miss Margaret Tondro, wearing gowns in pastel shades of blue and lavender, also attended the bride.

Fred Sones attended the groom as best man. Jerome Lee and Charles Smith were ushers. Little Charles Lee, Jr., was ring bearer.

An informal reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Highland avenue.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Goss are students of the University of California at Los Angeles, where they will continue their studies after a brief honeymoon. They will reside at Santa Monica, where they will be at home to their friends at 49 Princeton street.

Honored Guest

Mrs. Edward G. Wormhoudt entertained recently with a luncheon at her home on Manhattan place in honor of Mrs. Richard [illegible]ambrook, who is leaving for her home in San Mateo soon. The decorations were a profusion of autumn flowers.

Among the guests were: Mmes. Le Bel, Sidney Hook, Kenneth Wil[illegible], P. Ford, Seymour Tally, J. M. Lockyer, L. H. Ried, Max Hebgen, McCarthy Rounds, Daniel Fer[illegible], Edwin Addicot, W. L. Miles, James Roberts, Mark Finley, L. [illegible], Gabriel Duque, Raymond [illegible]untsberger, Loren Babcock, [illegible]manuel Quilici, Carl Wittenberg and Misses Marian Mabee and Katherine Pauly.

John Duey School Reception

Tomorrow evening 100 guests interested in the work of the John Duey School have been bidden to a delightful informal reception at the home of Mrs. Gerald C. Young, 1 North Hudson. Dr. Charles Waddell will speak about the traits, attitudes, abilities and power that are developed in a progressive school. Dr. Meredith Smith, director of the school, will talk about some of the specific ways in which the work of John Duey School furthers the development of the child.

The sponsors of the school are Mmes. James McBride Cockins, Frank A. Gibson, Myron Hunt, William G. Kerckoff, Gurdon W. Wattles. The advisory committee: Mmes. Webster Holmes, Madison Keeney, Van Rensselaer, Kelsey, Charles Longley, Wayland Morrison, Helen G. Russell, Gerald C. Young.

College Student Returns

Friends of Miss Alice Cohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cohn of 270 South Windsor Boulevard, will be interested to know that she has returned to the Anna Head School for Girls in Berkeley. Miss Cohn accompanied her family recently on a tour around the world.

Returned Home

After a most delightful week-end at Long Beach and Malibu, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey David Thornburg have returned to their home at 8545 West Knoll Drive, West Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg were guests the 7th inst. of Dr. Shepherd Ivory Franz at the dedication services of the new organ in the auditorium of the university at Westwood, and a lovely tea given at the Franz home, 10634 Wellworth avenue, Westwood.

Women's Athletic Club

"Moonlight on the Willow Well," a Chinese play, will be presented on the beautiful roof garden of the Women's Athletic Club the 13th inst. Miss Pauline Curran, who is a popular member of the club, is author of the play. Many dinner parties are being arranged for that evening and among those entertaining are: Mmes. C. E. Gorham, Henry T. Wright, Kate R. Miller, C. H. Hartke, Caroline E. Pierson, Francis McManus, Samuel Glover and the Misses Serena P. Christenson, Emma C. Bumiller, Edith E. Spencer and Miss Pauline Curran.

Return From Lake Tahoe

Mrs. Edward Russell Young and two children, Gloria May Young and Barbara Belle, have just returned from Lake Tahoe after spending the summer months there. The children have resumed their school studies, while Mrs. Young is looking forward to grand opera this month.

Smart Luncheon

Miss Kay Hance of 4415 Berryman avenue entertained recently with a smart luncheon and bridge at her home. Covers were laid for Mmes. Jack Gerety, B. P. Hance, J. B. Peterson, the Misses Margaret Mills, Dona Pruett, Peggy Kolb and Dorothy Simpson.

Motor-bus competition has caused the closing of twenty-six railway stations of one road in England for lack of use.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

ANTISCORBUTIC LEMONS AND LIMES

When Europeans first began to explore the lands across the ocean it was not unusual for their boats to return to the home port with from 40 to 90 per cent of the crew disabled with scurvy. In many of these old vessels a lemon or lime would have been worth its weight in gold, as these fruits are a positive preventive of this disease. When the fact became known, all of the British vessels were required to take lime juice along on long voyages to prevent the sailors from contracting the dreadful scurvy. For this reason many British seamen are still known as "limies."

Neither the early Greeks nor the Romans were acquainted with lemons for they were not introduced into Europe until the twelfth century, when the Arabs introduced lemons to Spain.

Lemon trees are very prolific. One tree has been known to produce as many as 3000 lemons in the year. Although about 7,500,000 boxes of lemons a year are used on the North American continent, it is quite likely that the lemon will continue to become more popular as its health value becomes better known.

The chemical composition of limes and lemons closely resemble each other. Both of them contain large amounts of vitamin C, and are valuable for anyone who is deprived of fresh vegetables over a length of time. The fruits form the basis of many healthful summer drinks, but they should also be used during the winter months when fresh vegetables and other fresh fruits are not as plentiful. The best way to use them is mixed with water as a drink between meals. If you prefer the beverage sweetened you may add a little honey or brown sugar.

The principal minerals found in lemons and limes are lime, magnesium, potash and phosphoric acid. For this reason, even though the fruits are acid to the taste, their final action on the blood stream is to make it more alkaline.

Those who are on a milk diet and have a tendency to biliousness often find it a good plan to take a teaspoonful of lemon juice just before drinking the milk.

It is often a good plan to substitute lemonade or limeade for a meal when you are not hungry. Many people find that a glassful of the ade taken the first thing in the morning after rising gives a pleasant taste to the mouth and stimulates the appetite for breakfast. Lemons make an excellent dentifrice to use on bleeding gums. The juice may be squeezed on the toothbrush and a little salt sprinkled on. Used in this way it has a remarkable effect in toning up the gums and improving circulation and cleanliness of the mouth.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

All Sorted

As you iron, stack your clothes into piles according to the rooms in which they will be put away. Then when you are finished the clothes are sorted and need not be handled twice.

For Patching

Save all leftover pieces of wallpaper for patches in case of accident. When the room is newly papered we do not think of patches, but many times a patch of paper will save having the entire room or ceiling done over.

The Borrowed Book

If you have accidentally spilled grease on the pages of a borrowed book first sponge the spots with benzine, then place the page between two blotters and press with a hot iron. What grease is not removed by the benzine will come out with the heat and blotters.

When Steaming Materials

The iron is often very hard to handle when steaming materials, but this can be overcome if you slip the handle of the iron into the space between the top and bottom of the sleeve board when it is resting on its side. This will enable you to turn the iron upside down with a good safe rest to hold it.

BURIED ALIVE SEVEN DAYS

The "coffin-lying" championship is claimed by Capt. Jack Evans, Atlantic City, N. J., who remained buried under six feet of earth for seven days, with a pipe to the surface for air. He was buried in an amusement park which charged a quarter to see him unearthed. Evans's share of the receipts was $47.10. He was brought forth a sorry sight. His cheeks were sunken and he had a week's growth of whiskers. With shaking fingers he grabbed a glass of water and then collapsed. What won't men do for money?

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

MONOTONOUS ACTIVITY IMPOSSIBLE FOR HEALTHY CHILD

What parents expect of their children often appalls us. It is so natural for them to say, "Now be quiet," and then become annoyed to the point of chastisement when the child can't carry out the command.

Unless sick or asleep, children cannot be quiet—really motionless—for much more than two or three minutes at a time. They jump from one game to another, piling blocks at one moment, pouring sand through a sieve at the next and rushing down the street with their wagons piled high with junk at another. The concentration on any one activity which their mothers desire is impossible before school days and sometimes after that. The wrigglings and scufflings of feet that one hears in every schoolroom are the children's means of getting the itch of inactivity out of their legs. The wise teacher changes occupations and positions when it becomes pronounced.

CRUEL TREATMENT

Parents who understand children know that it is nothing short of cruelty to take a small child to church and expect him to sit still through the droning sermon, not one word of which is intelligible to him; or to a movie where he can neither move nor speak, since every word of the actors must be audible; to put a child in any penned-up place and say, "Now play and be a good girl," unaware that to be good in any restricted place is as impossible for her as to grow wings and fly.

A mother who reads this column sent in the following episode illustrative of what children are punished for by thoughtless parents.

"You are such a friend of the children, Mrs. Eldred, that I wondered what you would think of the following:

INACTIVITY IMPOSSIBLE

"My husband and I drove out to the golf links and I sat there in the car while he played. A man and his wife drove up with two small children, the boy about 3 years of age, the girl somewhat older. The father and mother took their golf sticks and went out on the links, leaving the children to play in the car. It takes a long time to play a game of golf (time would have hung heavily on my hands had I not been supplied with plenty of reading material) and finally the boy climbed out of the automobile and played about as any normal child would.

"When the mother came back she was furious and she hit his bare legs with a stick and took him in the car and spanked him hard. She also said to him: 'When your father gets you home he's going to spank you, too.' Now how could children of this age sit still all during the afternoon and why be punished because they couldn't and didn't?"

There is no answer to that question. Parents who understand children and their capabilities couldn't do it, for they would never set an impossible task to a child too young to carry it through. Sitting still is one thing which no adult has a right to expect of a young child. Moving about is as necessary as breathing.

A Bedtime Story

IMPY FALLS IN LOVE

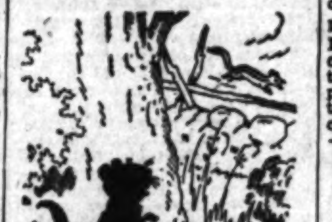
In anger there is seldom gain,
But often not a little pain.
—Old Mother Nature.

Impy the black Chipmunk didn't know what was the matter with him. Something was wrong, but he didn't know what. He lost his appetite. He had more dreams than usual; and, curiously enough, these dreams were all about Miss Frisky, the pretty little Chipmunk whose acquaintance he had recently made. Impy would start out to get something to eat and the first thing he knew he would be looking for little Miss Frisky instead of for something to eat. Whenever he found her, he would be supremely happy. When he failed to find her, everything seemed wrong.

Now, little Miss Frisky was very shy. She was timid. Impy wasn't the least bit bashful, but little Miss Frisky was bashfulness itself. She never would let Impy come very near her. The instant he attempted to approach her, she would run away. Then Impy would fly into a terrible rage; that is, he would sometimes. He would become very, very angry. Other times he would be most forlorn and slowly go back home, looking as if he had lost his last friend.

Now, all such things have a meaning. Perhaps you know what that meaning is. In Impy's case it meant that he was in love with little Miss Frisky. He didn't know he was in love, but he was. If she came over near him and sat long enough to talk to him a few minutes, he was supremely happy. If she just flirted that pretty little tail of hers in a saucy manner and ran away, the day was spoiled for him. He looked for her the first thing in the morning and he looked for her the last thing before going to bed at night.

A great idea occurred to Impy. Yes, sir, a great idea occurred to Impy. He would invite little Miss Frisky to see his new home, of which he was so proud. So the next time Miss Frisky had courage enough to let him talk to her, he invited her to come to visit his new home. "It's a very fine home," said Impy. "I don't believe you've ever seen a nicer one. I made it all myself. I had no help at all. It's got a bedroom and two storerooms; and I don't believe you ever would find the doorway. You see, it's beautifully hidden."



The instant he attempted to approach her she would run away

"Yes, I know it is," said little Miss Frisky. "It is very nicely hidden. I couldn't have hidden it better myself."

Impy opened his eyes wide. "What do you know about it?" he demanded.

"Oh, I found it long ago," replied little Miss Frisky in a most demure way.

You should have seen the look on Impy's face. "I don't believe it," said he.

Now, that wasn't at all polite on Impy's part. Little Miss Frisky looked offended. "I don't ask you to believe it," said she. "Facts are facts, whether you believe them or not. Those ferns over there could tell you whether or not I know where the entrance to your home is. I don't like people who don't believe what I tell them." With this she whirled and started away. Impy started after her.

"Please don't go!" he begged. "Please don't!"

Little Miss Frisky didn't so much as turn her head. She ran as only she could run and she disappeared as only she could disappear. When she disappeared, it was just as if jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun had hidden behind the clouds, as far as Impy was concerned. All the joy had gone out of the day. You see, Impy was in love. He was very much in love.

School Bureau Finds Vacation Tasks for 300

In the school vacation period just closed, more than 300 boys and girls in great need were placed in employment by the Junior Employment Service, according to Guy Marsh Hoyt, head co-ordinator of attendance and employment of minors for the Board of Education. In no instance did the boys and girls replace a man or woman in industry, he said.

"The work of the service is not an attempt to displace adult workers or to do charity or welfare work," Mr. Hoyt said. "During the seven years the service has been under the Federal government and the board, 18,000 young people have found placement at an average wage of $17 a week. In connection with this service we also have a division that provides employment for the handicapped.

"While the department is intended to provide for juveniles, we found it necessary to render our aid to handicapped men and women who have come to us and asked for help. In this we have been aided by a committee from the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, for this is a work in which we must have help from employers."

Streeter Tax Evasion Case Set for Today

Clarence Streeter, wealthy broker of Los Angeles, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge McCormick on a charge of having evaded the income tax return and failure to pay the proper income tax, said to amount to about $500,000, for the years included in the charges.

STYLE FETE TO LIGHT SKY

Hollywood-Boulevard Merchants to Present Aerial Aurora Borealis and Music Tonight

Three hundred and thirty-two Hollywood Boulevard mercantile establishments, comprising the principal shopping district of the screen capital, today unite in revealing autumn gowns and goods to the accompaniment of bands and bombs, a pageant of light, an aerial aurora borealis spectacle and other street attractions, interspersed with bulletins and ballyhoo for the benefit of the throngs by a huge "voice of the sky" amplifier in the First National Bank tower.

The festivities mark Hollywood's first formal fall opening and will be continued tomorrow when the pageant of light and its aurora borealis climax will be repeated. Oscar Balzer of the Boulevard Merchanters' is in charge of arrangements.

Orchestras of Hollywood theaters and cafes will take turns both nights in regaling the crowds with music in the lobbies or forecourts of the theaters and on roof-gardens and balconies overlooking the boulevard.

Several of the larger establishments are staging elaborate fashion revues with music and a contest to select the prettiest and most efficient of Hollywood's dress models is attracting interest.

The pageant of light will be comprised of twenty-five searchlights on motors which will traverse the boulevard business section twice tonight and tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

Several additional floodlight floats in the procession will sweep store fronts, intensifying the illumination of the shop-window displays, many of which will feature special attractions. The searchlights will be massed at the La Brea triangle at the conclusion of the parade, where their commingled beams of many colors will paint an ever-changing panorama of rainbow hues against a floating "carpet of Bagdad" spread in the sky by army planes.

The "voice in the sky" amplifier is described as a replica of one tested in New York last spring, when its tones penetrated across the Hudson and far into New Jersey. It is declared to magnify the human voice 4000 times. It will rebroadcast the radio programs of all Hollywood musical organizations and talent, including the first locally broadcast program of Johnny Johnson's New York Pennsylvania Hotel orchestra, which makes its Coast debut tonight in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

HOLLAND FRESH PORK LOAF

Mix four cupfuls of fine bread crumbs with one and one-half cupfuls of hot milk, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one teaspoonful of paprika, and one teaspoonful of poultry seasoning, grind fine two pounds of fresh pork, and add while grinding two medium-sized onions, combine the two mixtures, and blend thoroughly, adding two finely chopped pimientoes, and two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, pack the mixture in a baking dish, and bake for one hour, cover tightly, then remove the cover, and over the top place a layer of peeled and thinly sliced apples, return to the oven without the cover and cook for half an hour longer or until the meat is done.

CARROT SOUFFLE

Place in the top of a double-boiler two tablespoonfuls of butter, and three tablespoonfuls of flour, and heat until the butter melts, then add one cupful of milk, and stir and cook until smooth, add one and one-half cupfuls of carrots, that have been cooked and mashed through a fine sieve, remove from the fire, and add the well-beaten yolks of three eggs, and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs, to which have been added a half a teaspoonful of salt, turn the mixture into an oiled baking dish, sprinkle with paprika, place the dish in a pan of hot water, and bake until firm in the center, being careful not to let the water in the pan boil while the souffle is cooking.

CHOCOLATE-FILLED COOKIES

One cupful of shortening, two squares of unsweetened chocolate, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, two eggs, about four tablespoonfuls of milk, three cupfuls of flour, sifted with four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Cream the shortening, gradually add to it the sugar, creaming it in a little at a time, melt the chocolate over hot water, and add to the mixture, then add the slightly beaten egg yolks, and beat until well blended, add the flour alternately with the milk, being careful not to get the mixture too thin, lastly add the vanilla. Wrap in waxed paper, and place over night in the ice box to ripen, when ready to bake, roll out thin, cut in small rounds, place on an oiled cookie sheet, and bake in a moderate oven. Put together in pairs with an icing made by beating sugar into the unbeaten white of one egg, and beat until it is the right consistency to spread.

BANANA MUFFINS

Cream three tablespoonfuls of butter, and cream into it one-half cupful of brown sugar, add two well-beaten eggs and the pulp of two large bananas, which have been rubbed through a sieve, sift two cupfuls of flour, with five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, and add to the butter mixture alternately with a half a cupful of milk, beat well, and place in well-oiled muffin tins, having them about two-thirds full, place in a hot oven, for the first fifteen minutes, then reduce the heat and finish the baking.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

VENICE OIL DRILLING APPLICATIONS VISED

Twenty applications for oil drilling in Venice have been approved by the City Planning Committee and recommended to the City Council. The applicants include L. V. Alexander, Del Rey Company; J. E. Peschong, Elsie Gans, H. R. Gage, D. D. Walker and L. B. Simons.

Gym Classes Start Today

The fall term in the health education department of the Young Women's Christian Association starts today. Miss Ella Stevers, director of the department, says that due to the Olympic Games coming to Los Angeles, a greater number of schoolgirls, business girls and women will go in for training in gymnastics, dancing, swimming, basketball, tennis and golf, to be outstanding in beauty and charm and sportmindedness.

The program in this department offers all types of activities for all ages from 6 years and up.

SETBACK LINE ORDERED

The City Council, on recommendation of the City Planning Committee, has instructed the City Attorney to draft a resolution establishing eighty-foot setback lines on Magnolia avenue between Sepulveda and Ventura boulevards.

'Rain or Shine' Marks Cinema Debut of Joe Cook

Recitations of Noted Stage Humorist Highlights

Direction and Remainder of Cast Excellent

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Because "Rain or Shine," at the Orpheum, is too funny to be true, there may be four or five sticklers for realism in our town who will look at it askance. The rest of us will revel in the antics of an incredible mountebank named Joe Cook, who is assisted by a large corps of escaped madmen in putting over what is undoubtedly one of the maddest harlequinades in the annals of the screen. "Rain or Shine" has everything but the real reason Joe Cook will not imitate the four Hai-waiians.

Cook, a specialist in Bathos, owns a close kinship to the once-incomparable Frank Tinney, Ed Wynn and the Marx Brothers. His story-telling proclivities, encouraged for years in vaudeville, Earl Carroll's "Vanities" and finally in the stage "Rain or Shine," are known to every follower of things theatrical. Scattered through the film opportunely are some of the best examples of this art, if you have never heard him recite the lesson he learned from eating cornflakes without benefit of evaporated milk, you have not heard anything yet. Nor have you, indeed, appreciated the ambrosiacal delights of cornflakes served in any style.

"Rain or Shine" chooses a circus for its background. I might have added that Cook and Company would have been just as amusing against a plain drop, did it not so happen that the film obviously gains by its association with the big top. The glamour of tent life, the parades, the roar of caged beasts, the off-key of calliopes, are all here in vivid photographs, with a spectacular riot and fire to climax. "Rain or Shine" has quite a presentable little story which coincides neatly with the comedy of Cook; I don't know when, as a matter of fact, there has been as facile a blending of two such clearly opposite elements.

CONSPIRATORS ACTIVE

Delicate, charming Joan Peers plays the owner of the Greater Rainey Shows, which are always one jump ahead of the sheriff. She is loved by William Collier, Jr., who is apparently another one of those rich youths who cannot resist the call of the side-show. Two dastardly members of the troupe conspire to mulct Miss Peers out of her circus; and it is with their machinations that the plot is concerned.

One of the extremely hilarious episodes of the film occurs at a dinner given to the performers at the home of Collier's parents. Here Cook with Dave Chassen, his chief lieutenant, serving as a butler (by appointment to himself) sets out deliberately to shock social Shrewsbury. It is a dinner social Shrewsbury must still be talking about.

Most of the dialogue ad absurdum takes place between Cook and Tom Howard, a bespectacled feed man (in both senses) who, in one of the most extraordinary deals ever negotiated, buys a half-interest in the circus. It is never made very plain as to exactly what he is doing in the picture; one is frequently inclined to suspect that he just has no home. He does, however, mention an ailing horse belonging to him; and, upon Cook's advice, doses it with turpentine. Sometime later he has occasion to tell Cook that he has carried out the suggestion.

"That horse with the heaves," he comments morosely. "I gave him the turpentine, and he died."

"Yes," Cook commiserates, puffing meditatively at his cigar, "so did mine."

COOK PROVES ADAPTABLE

The comedian fits easily into the new medium, as one of the manner born. Unlike most humorists of his type, he uses no fantastic make-up, appearing in the guise of a brisk salesman of the go-getter species, and leaving the trimmings to his henchmen. He is never required to step out of character.

Frank Capra's direction for Columbia is superlative, individual shots, such as that in which the roustabouts drive the pegs for the big tent to the song of a colored shouter standing out particularly. The adaptation from the play by James Gleason was made by Jo Swerling and Dorothy Howell.

The remainder of the capable cast comprises Louise Fazenda, Alan Roscoe, Adolph Milar, Clarence Muse, Tyrell Davis, Nora Lane and Edward Martindel.

The short subjects are all above the average. The inimitable W. C. Fields is the star of "The Golf Specialist," one of the funniest tabloid comedies extant; and the artistry of Walt Disney was never more conspicuous than in "Midnight in a Toy Shop," a "Silly Symphony" cartoon. Pathe News and a Walter Futter "Curiosities" complete the assemblage. And reproduction of sound, I might add parenthetically, could be reduced a little to advantage.

Million Dollar Announces New Vaudeville Bill

The program for "Greater Vaudeville Week" at the Million Dollar Theater starting Thursday has been arranged. The schedule calls for Phil Dwyer and company to open the bill in his act, called "Rover." Dwyer has never been seen on the Pacific Coast.

"Those Three Charmers," who were brought out to the coast by M.-G.-M. studios, are three girls with, it is said, unusual voices. They will be second on the program. Herbert Denton and company in a comedy classic, "Pougkeepsie," is placed third. Sid Garry, an outstanding personage of radio, will give fifteen minutes devoted to song numbers. The flash act on the bill will be "Revue a la Carte."

Several notables will attend the opening night, it is announced. Studio lights will illuminate the sky in various colors. Columbia's production, "Hell's Island," will be the screen attraction. Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Dorothy Sebastian, stars of the picture, are expected to make personal appearances.

Notable Plays "Dishonored Lady"

Katharine Cornell
Brilliant actress of the footlights leads her company onto the Biltmore Theater stage tonight for the enactment of the drama by Margaret Ayer Barnes.

"LET'S GO NATIVE" BOOKED

Following the four Marx brothers in "Animal Crackers," "Let's Go Native," with a strong cast of comic castaways in a merry mix-up of laughs and romance, starts Thursday at the Paramount Theater in conjunction with the second stage show.

Heading the list are Jack Oakie as a Brooklyn cab driver and Jeanette MacDonald as a singer-modiste. Skeets Gallagher is a misplaced king of a tropical island; William Austin is a skittish Britisher in search of adventure; Eugene Pallette plays a blundering piano-mover; Kay Francis portrays a svelte society siren; James Hall is a broke, but brave blue blood, and David Newell is a handsome ship's officer.

"Let's Go Native" is said to move at a fast pace from a modiste's salon in New York to the streets of the same city, to a coastwise steamer, to an island in the tropics and finally to a private yacht.

On the stage, "Varietrix," a revue of dance and song, produced at the Hollywood Paramount motion-picture studios, shares the program with "Let's Go Native."

VEHICLE OF NOTED STAR SCHEDULED

United Artists Theater Offers "What a Widow" Starting Friday

Gloria Swanson's second talking film vehicle, "What A Widow," will have its world premiere at the United Artists Theater Friday. She is to be seen and heard in what is called her greatest characterization.

As a fascinating young widow Miss Swanson sails to Paris to find gayety and adventure. There is said to be sufficient drama to enable Miss Swanson to reveal the emotions of which she is capable. This actress is supported by Owen Moore, Lew Cody, Marguerite Livingston and others.

James Gleason wrote the dialogue with James Seymour. "What a Widow" is taken from a story by Josephine Lovett. It was directed by Allan Dwan. Miss Swanson sings three songs in this picture written by Vincent Youmans, "Love Is Like a Song," "Say Oui, Cherie" and "You're the One."

Tiffany Farce Starts Run at Tower Theater

"Borrowed Wives," the Tiffany picture which is having a first showing at the Tower Theater, is not a melodrama of slinky sirens who charm away other ladies' husbands; rather it is an amusing little comedy, with no apparent rhyme or reason, but lots to chuckle over.

All the situations are here—from blackmail to the haunted house and the policeman who attempts to solve a series of mysterious events clad in late evening dress, a flannel one, at that.

There are two principals, Rex Lease and Vera Reynolds, who furnish the love interest, and three comedians who enliven proceedings, namely Paul Hurst, Sam Hardy and Nita Martan. The story is of no import, while the work of Miss Martan and her two fellow-funsters is decidedly worth mention. Some of the scenes in which the three frolic about run the gamut of broad comedy, the only missing thing being a custard pie. But on the whole the situations call for smiles, if not roars.

About all Miss Reynolds has to do in "Borrowed Wives" is look pleasantly frightened in the mysterious house. Lease is the central figure in the story and plays the straight role fairly enough.

Frank Strayer directed "Borrowed Wives" for Tiffany and throughout reveals a good sense of comedy values.

An Aesop Fable, a news reel and several other short subjects complete the current program at the Tower.

Crosby will Select 'Skippy'

Percy Crosby, creator of "Skippy" in both cartoon and novel form, will assist personally in the selection of the youngster who will be chosen to play the title role in the forthcoming motion picture of "Skippy," executives of Paramount's New York studio, where the film will be produced, have announced.

HUGHES TO SEND FILM OVERSEAS

Producer Plans Typical Hollywood Premiere for "Hell's Angels"

London is to see "Hell's Angels" in October, according to wires received from Howard Hughes, the producer, by his representatives at Grauman's Chinese Theater. British authorities who have seen the picture in New York, where it is playing simultaneously at the Gaiety and Criterion theaters, believe it will be well received by English audiences, it is reported.

The two male leads, Ben Lyon and James Hall, appear in "Hell's Angels" as Oxford undergraduates, who later enlist in the Royal Flying Corps, while Jean Harlow, the feminine star, is an English society girl.

Hughes's plan is to give the Britishers a typical Hollywood premiere at one of the largest theaters in London, it is said.

COMEDY OF MATRIMONY ANNOUNCED

Norma Shearer Portrays Leading Role in Picture Coming to Loew's

Norma Shearer in "Let Us Be Gay" will be the screen attraction at Loew's State Theater starting Thursday.

Rachel Crothers's sparkling stage comedy that ran for a year in New York forms the basis for the film, a successor to "The Divorcee," in which Miss Shearer scored. The story presents the situation of a wife who, discovering too late that her husband is bored with her affections, goes to Paris for a course in acquiring "it."

Marie Dressler portrays the wealthy dowager in whose home the principal scenes take place. Rod LaRocque, Gilbert Emery, Hedda Hopper, Raymond Hackett and Sally Eilers are also in the cast. Robert Z. Leonard directed.

Censors Pass "Bad Man" in Mexico City

Word has been received at First National Studios that the Spanish version of "The Bad Man" has been approved without cutting by the censorship department of the Secretary of Education in Mexico City, and that the film is being applauded by the public and press in that city

"The Bad Man" is now showing locally at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater. Walter Huston plays the leading role, that of Pancho Lopez, a Mexican bandit who is a villain, a wit, and a philosopher Antonio Moreno plays the lead in the Spanish version

James Rennie, Dorothy Revier, O. P. Heggie, Arthur Stone, Marion Byron, Guinn Williams, and others are in the cast of the English version. Clarence Badger directed.

CELEBRITIES HONOR DEAN OF COMICS

Charlie Evans, 74 Years Young, Feted on Birthday at Uplifters

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

Having reached the age of 74 last Saturday, my young friend—and I use the adjective advisedly, as would you, did you know him—my young friend Charlie Evans, dean of all American comedians, duly celebrated that event during a large party given in his honor at the Uplifters' Club, by doing several dances, and winding up one most glorious evening by calling on such baby compatriots as Willie Collier, Joe Cawthorn, Paul Nicholson, George Marion, Hale Hamilton and half a score more, to form the most expensive known chorus in history.

That climaxed a night of real uniqueness, when some 150 of Charlie's friends, in and out of the profession—for he has thousands—assembled at the Uplifters, where he and Helena—the missus—live, to do him honor.

But Charlie Evans is one of a kind; they don't make 'em any more, and never will again. Conditions don't permit. He has been on the stage since he was 13, when he left Rochester, his birthplace, to become Bob, the bootblack, in Frank Mayo's then-famed melodrama, "Streets of New York"—and that was in May of 1869. Only two years later, he and James Niles formed what was then a real novelty team for the varieties; they worked in white face instead of black, and Charlie played a girl; they appeared in another of those atrocious melodramas, "Under the Gaslights"—and none other than the later-to-be-famous Augustin Daly was their entrepreneur. A little over a year after, Niles and Evans began a professional career of highest repute at Mozart Hall, Buffalo, in the regular varieties of that period, and played together as a team for ten years, at the very top of the headline list; even at Tony Pastor's—than which there was nothing greater.

Then they took in Bryant and Hoey—note that name—and had their own variety show, with an afterpiece, characteristic of that day, called "The Book Agent." Niles died; Charlie Evans teamed with Bill (Old Hoss) Hoey, Charles H. Hoyt rewrote their afterpiece into "A Parlor Match," and they two, Evans & Hoey, played it for the longest run any one play has ever had on earth—straight ten years. Ask any old-timer what that meant, in days when a season was considered wonderful.

It was during the run of this historic play that Evans and Hoey gave America one of its greatest theatrical sensations—Anna Held. They imported the then very naughty Anna, and she flirted her skirts and sang about "a way wiz me" and had all the men wild—and their wives wilder—and put the "gay" into the "gay 90's" as no one else ever did. That combination trio has never been matched in American stage annals. September 21, 1896, New York City, at the Herald Square Theater—keep the date green in your memories; it's historic.

Charlie did another thing, too, that is historic; he produced the first Bernard Shaw play in America, in that same theater, of which he was manager after 1884—"Arms and the Man." You know it today as "The Chocolate Soldier" in operetta. If I merely chronicle the successes that he promoted or produced, it would run into columns. His stage career is equally notable in legitimate and vaudeville—and he has been in films also.

Is it any wonder, then, that we celebrate Charlie's natal day? Or that already the famed Lambs' Club of New York has his acceptance for a memorable celebration a year hence, when Charlie will be 75 years young?

GIFT FROM SECRET DONOR DEDICATED

University of California Organ Accepted; Guest Artist Exhibits Skill

An organ, given to the University of California at Los Angeles by a friend who wishes his name to remain a secret, was dedicated yesterday afternoon by a recital in Josiah Royce Hall with Harold Gleason, head of the organ department of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N. Y., presiding.

A well arranged program including masters from the seventeenth century down to the present revealed Gleason as a virtuoso of the organ. His opening group consisting of the five composers, Purcell, Frescobaldi, Buxtehude, Couperin and Bach, was a splendid choice in introducing the new organ to the public and Gleason interpreted the compositions with unusual understanding.

An interesting feature of the recital was the introduction of two compositions written especially for the occasion by local musicians. Edward Royce, a member of the faculty at the Eastman School of Music, wrote "Chorale and Variations" in memory of his father, Josiah Royce, for the dedication of the organ in the building named in his memory. Another sketch written for the occasion was by Ernest Douglas, a local resident. Both of these compositions possess a deal of melodic beauty. Schumann, Franck, Tertius Noble and Henri Mulet brought the program to a close.

Original Cast of 'Wise Child' Now at Belasco

The original cast of Laurence E. Johnson's comedy, "It's a Wise Child," appears at the Belasco Theater in this latest offering of David Belasco.

"It's a Wise Child" is now in the fourth week of its local run. This is the first appearance in California of most of the company, which comprises Minor Watson, Sidney Toler, Harlan Briggs, Porter Hall, Joseph Striker, George Walcott, Mildred McCoy, Leila Bennett, Helen Lowell and Olga Krolow.

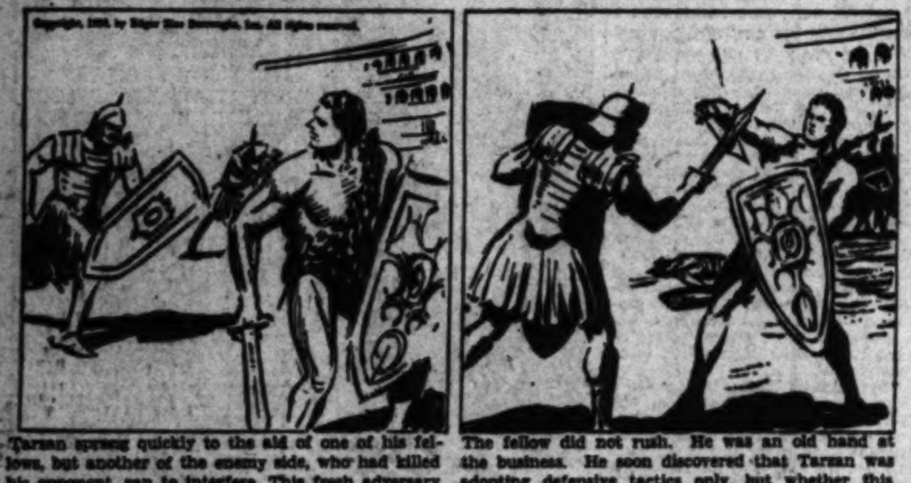
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

Tarzan sprang quickly to the aid of one of his fellows, but another of the enemy side, who had killed his opponent, ran to interfere. This fresh adversary was a professional gladiator, a man trained in the use of all his weapons, and Tarzan soon realized that only by great agility could he hope to hold his own.

The fellow did not rush. He was an old hand at the business. He soon discovered that Tarzan was adopting defensive tactics only, but whether this was for the purpose of feeling him out or whether it was part of a plan that would culminate in a swift surprise he could not tell. He did not care. He felt himself the master.

Rex Maxon

Judging Tarzan's skill with the sword by his skill with the shield, the gladiator thought that he was pitted against a highly skilled adversary, and he waited with the patience of years of experience for the ape-man to open up his offense and reveal his style. But Tarzan had no style with the sword. It was a strange weapon.

What he was waiting for was a lucky chance, the only thing that could assure him victory over this highly skilled swordsman. He counted upon his agility to save him until a swordsman would be free to come to his assistance. Gradually he gave way, and then, suddenly and without warning, a net dropped over his shoulders from behind.

PIONEER PILGRIMAGE DAY TOMORROW

Upland to Welcome Old-Timers to "Madonna of Trail"

Whiskers and Quaint Garb Mark Celebration

At left, above, Walter W. Horak, general chairman of pioneer pilgrimage celebration committee. At right: Upland women in costumes of '49, left to right, Mrs. George Schlect, Mrs. Pearl Samuels, Mrs. Mark Bailey, Mrs. D. M. Thrash, Miss Linda Schmidt, Miss Nell Atherton and Mrs. R. C. Williams. Below, at left, a few of Upland's "bad men," left to right, W. C. Jones, Jack Cunningham, D. J. Cameron, E. R. Bowman, Harry Fies, Walter Poling and George Hazelgrove. P. H. McQuillen, the Mayor, in characteristic garb.

UPLAND, Sept. 7.—The pioneers of California have never had a tribute paid to them such as is proposed by the organizations of Upland, who are sponsoring the "Pioneer Pilgrimage" to the statue "The Madonna of the Trail," erected to the memory of the pioneer mothers who followed the Santa Fe trail into California.

This pilgrimage, set for Tuesday, the 9th inst., will bring to Upland many of the oldest pioneers in the State of California. They will ride in the morning parade that will carry them through the business district of Upland, to the beautiful Euclid avenue, and then to the statue "The Madonna of the Trail," where John Steven McGroarty, California historian, will pay tribute to the men and women who made California the great empire of the West.

The statue "The Madonna of the Trail" was placed at Foothill Boulevard and Euclid avenue by the national chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the two local chapters, Los Serranos of Ontario and San Antonio of Upland.

ORCHESTRAS TO PLAY

A platform will be erected near the statue where the music of the old days will be played by Spanish orchestras, cowboy orchestras and old-time fiddlers.

Mrs. Caroline Cook of 212 South Antonio avenue, Ontario, will be introduced as the woman symbolic of the California pioneer mother. Mrs. Cook has lived in California eighty years, and in Ontario twenty years.

Mrs. Josephine Young of Colton, 87 years of age, will be introduced as typical of the early residents of California. Mrs. Young is Spanish, and an ideal figure for her part in the pilgrimage.

All the modes of transportation in California's many eras will be portrayed, from the weary padre, the horseman, the ox-team, the pony express, the mud-wagon, the Butterfield stage, the Mormon riders, the steam train, the automobile and the airplane.

The morning will be devoted to the parade and ceremonies at the statue.

OLD FIDDLERS COMING

In the afternoon the pioneers will gather for the concerts by the various orchestras, and the military band from March Field. The old fiddlers' contest and the horseshoe-flinging contests are listed for the afternoon.

Several weeks ago the men of Upland began to take on the rough appearance of pioneers, when their whiskers grew out unmolested, and their hair went untrimmed. By Tuesday the whiskers will be at their greatest growth, and prizes will be awarded the winners.

Not to be outdone, the women of Upland donned the garb of the days of '49 and appeared on the streets with the quaint costumes, much to the astonishment of tourists and visitors who didn't know what it was all about.

MORENA DAM ENLARGED

Important Hydraulic Project Which will Supply Water for 10,000 San Diegans Completed

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—Without fuss or flourish, an important hydraulic project which will supply water sufficient for 10,000 San Diegans was completed last week. The project is the enlargement of Morena Dam and spillway. The dam enlargement increases the capacity of the reservoir by more than 20 per cent and gives the city an additional 1,000,000 gallons of water a day. This amount is estimated as sufficient to care for the water requirements of 100,000 inhabitants.

In addition, the spillway enlargement will enable the dam to handle floods several times larger than the famous one of 1916, which menaced Morena Dam and for a time threatened to remove that water unit.

From a capacity of 53,700 acre-feet, the new work lifts Morena's capacity to 65,800 acre-feet. An acre-foot is slightly under a third of 1,000,000 gallons.

Financed by bonds voted last year, the Morena improvement cost $80,000. It is estimated that the city has spent $1,000,000 for each 1,000,000 gallons of net safe yield on its water system. Compared with the $1,000,000 figure, the cost of the additional 1,000,000 gallons obtained at Morena is surprisingly low, engineers say.

The additional water supply from Morena will be made available to the city through the increased capacity of the new Otay pipe line. The old line would not have carried the extra water.

Death Dealt to Dogs by Hooks in Frankfurters

UPLAND, Sept. 7.—Police are looking for the meanest man, and expect to have him behind the jail bars within a few days.

This "meanest man" has aroused the ire of the public because of his inhuman methods of bringing death to dogs.

The scheme of destruction of pets was carried out by imbedding fishhooks in frankfurters, and then scattering the pieces of meat about the city.

Dogs found the tasty bits of meat and gulped them down. The fishhooks either dug themselves into the dog's throat or mouth, or tore through the tissues of the stomach.

Twenty-four such death-dealing frankfurters were found scattered about the city, and officers are now trying to determine how many pieces of meat were thrown broadcast.

Authorities have found the store where the fishhooks were purchased, and through that clew expect to run down the dog-hater within a few days.

BOTANY AUTHORITY TO BE LEGION DELEGATE

TUJUNGA, Sept. 7. — Carroll W. Parcher today announced the celebration of the tenth year of publication of the Tujunga Record-Ledger. He also states that the plant and business of the printing company have been bought by himself, Floyd A. Peet and Frank H. Pilling. The deal also includes the purchase of the Ledger Printing Company at Montrose and the acquiring of an interest in the Crescenta Valley Ledger by Mr. Peet. He has been business manager of the Record-Ledger Printing Company for some time. Parcher has been a newswriter and columnist on the paper for three or four years.

"DADDY" OF ELKS LODGE SUCCUMBS

Charles Clark Dies at His Pomona Home; Antlered Herd Mourns Passing

POMONA, Sept. 7.—A whole city mourned, and members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Southern California were saddened today over the death last night at 7 p.m. of Charles (Daddy) Clark at his home, 238 East Holt avenue, this city, after a three-day illness brought on by failing health since a fall on the slippery pavement in front of his home last winter.

Born in England on February 6, 1848, "Daddy" Clark, with his family, came to America forty-one years ago, and had been a resident of this city for forty years. In 1902 he assisted in the forming of the Pomona Elks' lodge, being one of its charter members, and also acted as house manager for sixteen years, until advancing age necessitated his retirement from active duties. In addition to being a life member of Pomona Lodge of Elks, No. 789, "Daddy" was also a member of the Masonic and Shrine fraternities, and St. Paul's Episcopal Church. He was an honorary member of the Past Exalted Rulers' Association of the Elks of Southern California.

The name of "Daddy" Clark and Elkdom were synonymous, hundreds of members of the fraternity holding his friendship and esteem. A man of kindly disposition, "Daddy" has always been pointed out as exemplifying all that is fine and noble in manhood. His charitable deeds, of which there were many, were done without display or publicity, but his good deeds will never be forgotten by those who knew him. Modest, retiring and kindly the memory of the man will linger with those who came in contact with him in life.

At the dedication of the Pomona Elks' Temple on February 25, 1925, a bust of "Daddy" Clark, made from life, was presented to the lodge by a group of his friends, and today it stands in the lobby of the reception hall, draped in mourning in respect to the memory of its subject. The new home was of his planning, and it was the wish of his friends that his presence should always be felt within its confines.

The deceased leaves a widow, Alice Pauline Clark, two sons, C. Ralph Clark of 265 Lincoln avenue, and W. Frank Clark of 153 East Center street, both of Pomona, and a brother, Rev. Henry Clark of England.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Elks' home, Tuesday at 2:30 p.m., with Rev. Bertram A. Warren of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in charge. The Elks' ritual will also be given. Burial will be in Pomona Cemetery. The Fred E. Brown funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

FISH IN ODD THEFT

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7.—In the record of odd thefts noted within the last day or two by San Fenando Valley police is the loss of 100 goldfish. Mrs. E. R. Odin, of 11021 Aacama avenue, reports that while she was absent the thief entered her backyard and scooped up the fish from her backyard pool.

GIRL'S HEART IN RIGHT PLACE

She's Entry in Sweetheart Contest

Marion Seabury, Entrant in Southern California Fair Event

Whether she will wear her heart on her sleeve or elsewhere seems to be a question with pretty Marion Seabury, but she is certain of the fact that her entry is in for the sweetheart contest at the Southern California Fair, Riverside, the 23rd to 28th inst.

WIDENING OF WEST BROADWAY PLANNED

GLENDALE, Sept. 7. — Widening of West Broadway, between Central avenue and San Fernando Road is scheduled to start between now and October 2, next, and to be completed within ninety working days, according to the contract that has been approved by the City Council with Atkinson & Reish, whose bid of $68,317.60 was the lowest submitted. The street, one of the city's main traffic arteries, is to be widened from forty to fifty-six feet between curbs, with an eighty-foot width between property lines. The assessment area is practically limited to the frontage on Broadway.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 7.—One event that is sure to attract great interest at the Southern California Fair which opens here the 23rd inst., is the dairy cattle judging contest scheduled for Saturday, the 27th inst. C. V. Castle, Jack Klein and H. M. King will officiate as judges and, in addition to the ribbons, medals and silver trophies to be awarded the winners, the following special prizes are announced by fair officials: A Holstein calf to the boy scoring highest, presented by the California Dairy Stock Company of Los Angeles, and a gold and bronze medal to the boy or girl scoring first and second in judging Holstein-Friesian cattle, presented by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Special prizes will also be awarded by the American Jersey Cattle Club and the Ayrshire Breeders' Association.

The junior live-stock judging contest is also scheduled for the 27th inst., according to Supervisor Howard Chappell. Judges for this event include Howard Miller, horses; Arthur Campbell, sheep; William Armstrong, hogs, and W. A. Corey, beef cattle. Trophies and ribbons are to be provided by the Southern Sierras Power Company and the Southern California Fair Association.

Women's activities, under the direction of Mrs. W. M. Hoagland, promise a record number of exhibits which will include embroidery, lace work, crochet and knitting. Liberal cash prizes are to be awarded to winners in the various classes, together with silver Southern California Fair souvenir spoons to the women winning the most prizes in each of the classes.

The spelling-bee, under the direction of Vivian Evans, has attracted numerous entries from grammar schools and high schools throughout the Southland. Grammar-school winners will receive $15 in cash prizes and gold, silver and bronze medals, with similar prizes going to winners in the high-school class. Other school events include oral contests for high schools and sixth, seventh and eighth graders.

Blankenhorn Rites Tuesday

PASADENA, Sept. 7. — Mrs. Kathryn Simmons Blankenhorn, active leader of the Girl Scout movement in Southern California, died at 7:30 a.m. today at the Pasadena Hospital following a lingering illness.

She was the wife of L. Mac Blankenhorn, prominent local real-estate and insurance broker, and the daughter of the late Francis T. Simmons, Chicago civic leader.

Mrs. Blankenhorn was 38 years of age and had been active here during the last nine years in philanthropic and social work. Last year, she served as Girl Scout Commissioner for all foothill cities, including Pasadena, from Montrose to Glendora.

The funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday, in the Hillcrest avenue residence. Burial will follow in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale. The C. F. Lamb Company is in charge of arrangements.

BELL HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT GROWS

BELL, Sept. 7.—With the first week of the present school year having passed, the enrollment at the Bell High School is 1225, it is announced by Principal Claude Reeves. This includes not only the senior high-school students, but also 300 seventh and eighth-grade pupils who have been transferred to the high school from the Atlantic-avenue school, the facilities at the latter school not being suitable for junior high-school work.

NEW SOUTH GATE HIGH SCHOOL OPENS

Fall Semester Begins Today in Group Costing $600,000

Handsome New Buildings on Eighteen-acre Site Ready for Students

Imposing group just completed at South Gate will accommodate freshman and sophomore classes this year and other classes subsequently. Floyd R. Honn, appointed principal of the new institution of learning, is shown in insert.

SOUTH GATE, Sept. 7.—The most important event which has ever occurred in the way of school affairs in this city, will be the opening of the new high school plant tomorrow, the beginning of the new school year, this plant representing an expenditure of almost $600,000. The high-school building and grounds, although located in the Huntington Park Union High School district, will be known as the South Gate High School. It occupies a place on an eighteen-acre site between Firestone and Ardmore, Dearborn and Elizabeth streets.

The main administration building stands upon what was formerly known as Victoria street, this thoroughfare being closed and removed, making way for school grounds 1200 feet in length and 628 feet in width.

The present plant consists of four buildings, the administration building being three stories in height and of brick construction. This will house the school offices and the principal classrooms. In addition there are a cafeteria and study hall building, a one-story building for the shop classes and music, and a grand stand adjoining an athletic field which will seat approximately 300 persons. Showers and locker rooms are located beneath the grand stand, which is said to be one of the most imposing structures in the metropolitan area.

When the athletic field is completed, it is to have a regulation football gridiron in the center. This will be surrounded by a quarter-mile track, twenty feet wide. There will also be a 220-yard straightaway twenty-five feet in width, a set of tennis courts and outdoor basketball courts.

All the buildings are of Class A construction.

The cost of the eighteen-acre tract was approximately $225,000, and it is said the contract for the school plant was estimated at $300,000, and that the equipment will cost $50,000, bringing the total value up to $575,000.

The new school will take care of the freshman and sophomore classes in the South Gate district this coming school year.

Floyd P. Honn, who has been with the Huntington Park Union High School for six years, has been elected principal of the new school.

Completing his high-school work in the Los Angeles Seminary, Honn graduated from that institution in 1917, and four years later graduated from the Greenville (Ill.) College, and later took post-graduate work at the San Diego Teachers' College and University of California. He is now doing post-graduate work at the University of Southern California. For two years, 1921 and 1922, he taught in a high school in Superior, Neb., and the following two years, gave instructions at the Memorial Junior High School at San Diego.

HELENS MANY ON LIST OF SCHOOL-TEACHERS

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 7.—Women instructors with the given name of Helen will be in the majority in the training of the pupils at the grammar schools in this district, it is revealed, in the list of more than 150 teachers employed by the local school trustees for the coming school year which begins tomorrow.

The list shows that there are six Helens who will train the youthful minds, while the Ruths are next in the list, there being five instructors with this given name. Then comes the Marys and the Dorothys, four each. There will be three women teachers by the name of Frances and a like number with the names of Esther, Marie, Marian and Marjorie.

In the list are two each of Amanda, Margaret, Martha, Anna, Mabel, Elizabeth, Charlotte, Bessie, Irene, Evelyn, Ethel, Alice, Louise, Gertrude, Lucile, Olga, Lela, Agnes, Edna, Laura, Clara, Florence and Edith.

Among the remaining teachers in the list there are no two surnames alike. There are only a few male instructors and they have such given names as Paul, Lewis, Harold, Leonard, Russell and Robert.

CONFERENCE ON MINING CALLED

San Diego County's Mineral Resources Considered

State Bureau, California and City Chambers in Move

Meeting 17th Inst. Hoped to Stimulate Interest

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 7.—Through the combined efforts of the local Chamber of Commerce, the California State Chamber of Commerce and the State Bureau of Mines and Mining, plans for stimulating interest in the mineral resources of San Diego county will get under way the 17th inst.

Committees representing the trinity of State and civic organizations will hold a meeting at the United States Grant Hotel at noon on that date. Through Charles S. Knight of the California State Chamber of Commerce and Thomas Bomar, manager of the industrial department of the local chamber, invitations to attend the conference have been extended to the County Supervisors, city officials, former members of the San Diego Chamber of Mines, and the secretaries of the various chambers of commerce throughout the county.

The meeting will be the first conducted here under the auspices of the State Mining Committee since 1928.

Among those who will address the conference will be John E. Hodge, Los Angeles mining engineer; M. J. Holmes, Alhambra; L. W. O'Brien of the Santa Fe Railroad and W. B. Tucker of the State Bureau of Mines.

All Quiet on Front Between Two Companies

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 7. The trouble between the Vaqueros-Major Oil Company and the Bolsa Chica Land Company over the drilling for oil on tidelands east of this city has apparently subsided. The armed guards protecting the property have gone and only one guard stands on the property today.

A small pier was constructed on the tidelands some time ago to hold the lease for later drilling. The Bolsa Chica Land Company, opposing the drilling on the beach fronting its property, took the matter into the courts. The result is that the oil company can transport its equipment over an established right of way to the beach and then move down the beach to the drill site. The Bolsa Chica Land Company's property cannot be trespassed upon by the oil company's trucks. However, the land company has given permission to President Thomas H. Berry, Attorney Robert M. Pease and the engineer of the oil company, to walk across the property to the oil well location. The officials are obliged to crawl under a fence and walk through the deep sand.

Actual drilling operations are expected to begin in about two weeks, President Berry said. The case was dismissed from the calendar but it is expected to open again next month. One of the points of litigation is over the location of the high-water mark, and this may be definitely settled soon. This well will be the first one to be drilled on the tidelands of the Orange county coast.

Publisher Made Chamber Head

OCEANSIDE, Sept. 7.—Harold N. Beck, editor and publisher of the Oceanside Daily Blade-Tribune, was chosen president of the local Chamber of Commerce by a new board of directors last evening. William Nietfeld, jeweler, and Harold Veblen, insurance man, were elected first and second vice-presidents of the organization.

The election of Beck to the presidency is a significant honor as he is only 26 years of age and a resident of Oceanside for only eleven months. His office is the culmination of many months of work on the part of the young business men to impress the public that more young men should be on the board of directors and have a part in community affairs.

Oceanside's chamber is a growing organization that had a great part in helping this city to be the fastest-growing community in the Southland, outside of Los Angeles county, according to the figures of the recent census.

The new directors are President Beck, Fred Baumgarten, Dr. E. W. Cartwright, Ike Glasser, F. A. Jones, C. A. Marks, William D. Nietfeld, Herbert Schwartz, Harold Veblen, Al Waibel, J. W. Weber, A. R. Whisler, W. R. Kruse, Sam Lothlen, Dale Pogue and S. Stephenson. They will be installed at a large annual dinner meeting next Thursday evening.

Continuation School Opens

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 7. — The Continuation School, conducted by the local Board of Education for the benefit of students between the ages of 16 and 18, who are not attending another public school and must attend regular classes four hours per week, will open tomorrow.

This school, which provides special advantages for those who must work several hours each day at a gainful occupation, has been a profitable undertaking as it has resulted in relieving the financial strain in many families where there are children of working age, at the same time providing them with educational facilities.

An employment bureau is conducted in connection with this part-time school.

Salesmen, Solicitors —10-B

THIS ADVERTISEMENT IS ADDRESSED TO THE THOUSANDS OF SINCERE SALESMEN AND SALESWOMEN IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WHOM, WE KNOW, WILL WELCOME THIS

NEWS

We know from nearly a quarter of a century's experience that salespeople of the better class are constantly alert to opportunities to improve themselves and their positions, and on the lookout for new things that the public wants and is buying, and that even non-salespeople eager to enter the realm of selling under the proper auspices and with something to sell that will bring happiness to its buyers, will welcome this advertisement.

We are building a very large selling organization and we cannot possibly give our time to individual explanations; that is why we want you to know something NOW about what we have to offer. We have created through the Clark Plan Corporation, Ltd., the CLARK PLAN TRUST, a dual-controlled trust—administered by a personnel beyond reproach, and supervised by a board of trustees of high integrity and purpose.

We have made it available to everyone through a subscription plan of as little as $10 down and $10 a month, without interest on the deferred payments. The plan is the result of nearly two years of work and study, and it eliminates every objectionable feature of every trust arrangement with which we are familiar.

The contingencies that arise in the average man's family are provided for, and the subscriber is entitled to 6% cumulative interest annually, PLUS 65% of the net profits above that, before the management group can be compensated for its skill, diligence and intelligence in handling the funds of the trust.

Every practical protection has been thrown around the Clark Plan to the end that it be as nearly flawless as possible.

Behind your selling activity, should you join us, will be a vigorous, well-directed advertising campaign larger than anything of its kind ever projected in Southern California. We have 11 offices, all equipped, ready to start functioning. Leads? There will be plenty of them! Instruction? Under Major Lansdowne, one of the best-versed trust experts in Southern California, and a sales counsellor of wide and excellent repute.

While we are interested in securing experienced salespeople, some of the best in our organization in the past have been developed by us from raw material. If we think you can make good, we will train you quickly. And we know that if you become identified with this big, fine organization that you will be mighty proud of your connection and you will find it very profitable if you live up to its ideals and standards.

COME IN TUESDAY MORNING AT 9:30, IN TIME TO HEAR MAJOR LANSDOWNE TELL YOU MORE OF OUR STORY. YOU WILL HEAR IT TOLD AS IT IS, WITHOUT FICTION OR FANCY. Then you can determine whether you want to become a member of our family.

FRANK N. CLARK, INC., LTD. Second Floor, Metropolitan Building, 315 West 5th Street, Los Angeles.

Why She Didn't Marry Him

They were vacationing down at Clamsbell-by-the-Sea. He had just arisen from an almost sleepless night.

"I'll ask her this time," said Charley Jangle, emphatically to himself and then joyfully balanced the sharp end of a razor on his nose. "I'll wait till we're in the ocean and then I'll do something daredevilish to arouse her admiration and then she'll be sure to say 'yes.' Whoopee!"

And he dashed himself upon the floor joyously and rolled up in a rug to the other end of the large room.

Then Jangle put on a new bathing cap of blubber to cover up his bald pate and a pair of canvasback shorts, then skipped off to the beach.

And there she was—spattering away out in an orange cap and orange slippers, and a black beevydee. She was waving to Charley.

"Dodeene!" he cried. "I camaming—I mean, I am coming," and he dove dizzily down in the depths of the deep, from a high rock.

"Fifteen minutes later he came up smiling, right at her feet.

"Dody," he sputtered. "Will you—???"

But Dodeene went down screaming, "Help!"

For Charley Jangle had dived into a lot of tar floating on the water and had come up blacker than a cannibal in mourning.

And even after she had recovered from the fright of it some three weeks later, she steadfastly and vociferously refused to marry Charley Jangle.—[Detroit Free Press.

SCENE OF GRANDEUR SEEN AT LAND'S END

From no place do the Scilly Isles look quite so romantic as they do on those not altogether rare clear days when they stand out visible, distant and very, very low, black and purple specks across a clear blue sea, to keen-eyed watchers on Pardenack Point at Land's End. No one . . . stands long either on the Lizard or Land's End itself on a fine summer day. The crowds are far too great for that peaceful communion with nature which every man, faced with a stupendous scene, rightly demands. But there is room here for tens of thousands. It is only a question of walking a few hundred yards.

People pretend to be disappointed with Land's End, expecting a fine narrow point jutting out into the Atlantic. The ordinary person's idea of what Land's End ought to look like is to be found at the Needles in the Isle of Wight. One glance at the map ought to correct that impression. It ought, too, to be added that Cape Cornwall appears to jut out much farther, thereby adding a grievance to those already disappointed at the lack of solitude, and the lack of a point. Its compensations are, however, many. In the first place, no one could deny grandeur to this succession of tremendous crags of granite. In the second the view immediately at one's feet is, to put it mildly, arresting.

There stand, two miles away, the Longships Lighthouse, standing fifty feet above a sixty-foot rock, with waves ever licking its base, looking about the size of a miniature serpentine souvenir of itself. Six miles to the south stands the Wolf. Everywhere on the shore and just off the shore stand rocks of majestic or grotesque shape, the Armed Knight, Enys Dodman, the Irish Lady, the Spire, the Kettle Bottom, the Shark's Fin, and Dr. Syntax's Head. Everywhere there are hosts of gulls, a sea of everchanging green and blue, and always some sailing ship or collier battling toward home out of the vast Atlantic.

To scamper lightly, from a car to the edge of the cliff, peer over, and shrug one's shoulders with contempt at so many other people doing the same thing, is not to give Land's End a fair chance. There is a hotel full of windows on the headland. Stay there at least one night. See the sunset over the distant Scillies, let the moon give the Longships Lighthouse a chance to cast its pencil-like shadow across the still water, see the granite boulders on the hilltop as J. M. W. Turner saw them . . . like petrified sheep, and then you may begin to see that there is something in Land's End more than the further stretched-out-toe of your native land. It is by no means the grandest cliff in Cornwall, being only sixty feet above the sea, but when you scramble down — few people ever think of doing so—and explore the pierced archway of Enys Dodman, climbing further away from the hordes of other visitors, some sense of its peculiar atmosphere will descend upon you, and you will find yourself agreeing that it does not do to dismiss Land's End.—[S. P. B. Mais, in "The Cornish Riviera."

All Married People Quarrel

"It is always assumed by witnesses in this court that all married people quarrel," said Justice Hill in the divorce court of London a short time ago. This statement followed a remark by a woman that she and her husband quarreled "like married people do."

CRIME AND LIQUOR ALWAYS INSEPARABLE, SAYS DIVINE

Dr. Bruce Brown Sets Right Those Who Think "Modification" of Prohibition Would Work

There would be no controversy over prohibition if people would frankly face fundamental and elemental truths, according to Dr. Bruce Brown, who discussed the subject in his sermon yesterday at South Park Christian Church.

"It is surprising how people of ordinary intelligence get so befuddled over great moral questions that they cannot see the plainest, simplest facts," said Dr. Brown. "In the first place, the sale of liquor never can be legalized without legalizing places in which it is to be sold. Such places would be saloons.

"Saloons never were known to obey any law and were always breeding places for every crime. There is always more liquor drunk and more drunkenness with saloons than without them. The legalized saloons were all bootlegging joints where liquor was adulterated. With the open saloon, liquor is sold everywhere. It can be had at almost every drug store and is delivered by the case to private homes by wholesale houses.

"Gambling and prostitution always thrive, in a way now never seen, by the side of the saloon. Saloons always have had ladies' entrances. The saloons in Tia Juana today are exactly like the saloons in Los Angeles a few years ago and obey the law just as well as saloons ever do. Nobody cares anything about light wines and beers. The fight is to get the booze joints back again."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

"Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon yesterday in all Christian Science churches, branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

One of the Scripture citations in the lesson-sermon presented Paul's words: "Now I say, that the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all; but is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father. Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world; but when the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons. And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of His Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, contained the following statements: "God is the creator of man, and, the divine principle of man remaining perfect, the divine idea or reflection, man, remains perfect. Man is the expression of God's being."

SERVICE IN HONOR OF RITA CRAWFORD

A service in honor of Rita Crawford, who is leaving Los Angeles soon to enter the Salvation Army training college at San Francisco, was conducted yesterday at Salvation Army Citadel. The address was by Commandant Herbert Carroll, who spoke in part as follows:

"There is within the heart of every Salvationist a desire to accomplish something worth while. Sister Crawford, you are going out thus unselfishly to carry out such a purpose. Be faithful to your trust and true to the best impulses in you and we will hear good things of you. God has given you a voice. Use it to make people happy, and the world a better place in which to live."

AUTHORITY THEME OF DORN'S SERMON

Discussing "The Authority of Jesus" at Hollywood Lutheran Church yesterday, Dr. J. George Dorn said that this element in the character of the Master is deserving of most careful study.

"In other men, even in great men, one catches a constant note of hesitance," said Dr. Dorn. "Even in the most dogmatic person you have the sense of a possible mistake. In Christ there is not the faintest trace of such a hesitance. There is an absolute certainty in the face of every problem. Christ moved among the glories of the past as one who had full authority. This He accepts as something always valid; that He rejects as something only temporary. This He ratifies; that He cancels. The same authority is seen with reference to Himself. He never doubted for a moment that He was the Son of God. Even when rejected by His own people, He assures Pilate that He is a King.

POSSIBLE PERIL IN OVERORGANIZATION

"The Main Drive in Church Work" was discussed by Rev. Alden Lee Hill yesterday at Highland Park Christian Church. Mr. Hill said in part:

"The activities of the modern city church have become so complex and varied that there is danger of missing the real purpose. In the midst of evangelism, education, worship, stewardship, fellowship, missions, good citizenship, etc., we may become lost in the maze of organization and activity unless we keep clearly in mind at what we are aiming. It is well for us to re-examine the purpose of Jesus. His teaching affected society profoundly, but His main purpose was to bring life more abundantly to every individual. Every person is of great value in the sight of God. The church must give the greatest possible number of individuals the very best opportunity in the life that now is and in the life to come."

MENTAL FREEDOM HIGHEST LIBERTY

"The greatest of all liberties is mental freedom," declared Dr. Sheldon Shepard in his sermon yesterday at First Universalist Church.

"Break the bonds of prejudice, superstition and dogma and move forward into your future's enlarging truth," advised Dr. Shepard. "Yesterday's knowledge and vision are not enough for tomorrow. Believe in yourself. You have to associate with yourself. Aim to be fit company for your soul. Share yourself with others and be a friend. Meet your friends on your highest, not your lower level. Live your future one hour at a time. The secret of success is playing, every stroke as it comes, to the limit of your capacity."

PINCHON DISCUSSES WORKS OF EMERSON

Edgecumb Pinchon, Emersonian scholar, spoke at Beaux Arts Building yesterday on "Perception." He said in part:

"All across Emerson's life and work is written the one tremendous sentence by which he stands or falls; by which, at last, we all must stand or fall, namely: 'Perception is power.' That sentence needs understanding. Perception is not thinking, it is seeing. It is the ability to see the spiritual laws which irresistibly govern our life and to look upon the spiritual powers which are at our command as clearly and unmistakably as with our physical sight we look upon chairs and tables.

"Not by merit, but by mercy, not by thinking, but by grace, comes this perception. But the path to it is in the first case the desire for truth, and in the second the steadfast submission of the mind to the supreme intellectual statement of truth to be found by every man in the inevitable operation of his own reason, when applied to the question scornfully pondered by Pilate, 'What is Truth?' and as answered at another time and place by Jesus with 'I am the Truth.'"

Check Paid on Fatal Auto Wreck

"Times" Policy Claim Liquidated

H. F. Thompson, representative of the National Casualty Company, delivers check for $1000 to Miss Dorothy Miller of the insurance department of the Los Angeles Times as payment of the death claim of Sara B. McKenna who was insured under The Times travel and pedestrian accident policy issued to its subscribers.

'TIMES' PAYS AUTO DEATH RISK CLAIM

Teacher Accident Victim Had Insurance Policy for Only Short Period

Another $1000 check has been added to the long list of claims that have been paid by the Los Angeles Times to its subscribers, who were protected under the travel and pedestrian accident clauses in the insurance policy issued by this newspaper.

Agnes McKenna, 228 West Twenty-fourth street, sister and administrator of the estate of Sara B. McKenna, was paid $1000 in The Times office Saturday following the death of her sister from injuries received when her automobile skidded and collided with another car.

According to Miss Agnes McKenna, her sister had been a teacher at the Gardena High School for ten years and drove back and forth in her automobile every day to the school from her residence, 5603 Farrell avenue, Lawndale. She had never had an accident or had been involved in an accident with her automobile prior to the tragic collision.

Driving to an art exhibit at the school the automobile driven by Sara B. McKenna skidded on the wet pavement and crashed into another car causing it to overturn. She was taken to the Hermosa-Redondo Hospital, where it was found she sustained a crushed chest and other severe injuries which resulted in her death.

Miss McKenna as a subscriber to The Times purchased the policy at the premium of $1 per year and was in possession of this insurance protection a relatively short time before the fatal accident.

LITIGATED STOCK DEAL CANCELED

Mrs. Stimson Wins Suit Against Beverage Concern and Recovers Shares

Judgment for $34,833.33 against the Arrowhead Springs Beverage Company and in favor of Mrs. Annie W. Stimson was granted by Superior Judge Edmonds after he voided a stock transaction entered into by the litigants July 27, 1928.

Mrs. Stimson sued for recission of contract and recovery of Anaheim Sugar Company stock, valued at $30,400, which she traded the beverage company two years ago for 3040 shares of preferred and 700 shares of common capital stock of the Arrowhead concern.

When the agreement was made, she contends, the beverage company had not obtained its permit from the Commissioner of Corporations to issue such stock, therefore the deal was void, Mrs. Stimson asserted, adding that the 700 common shares were not delivered. Nondelivery was admitted by the beverage company, which contended, nevertheless, that the deal was valid.

Judge Edmonds awarded judgment to Mrs. Stimson for recovery of the sugar stock valued at $30,400 and legal interest amounting to $4433.33, with costs. Attorney G. Harold Janeway represented Mrs. Stimson.

LESS THAN HALF PASS BAR TEST

Names of Those Who Did Get by Announced

Total of 682 Attempted to Answer Questions

Oral Quiz Fails to Baffle Any Right Writers

Less than half the applicants who underwent the examinations conducted here and in San Francisco August 4 to August 7, last, gained the recommendation of the State Bar of California for admission to the practice of law in this State, it is revealed by the list of successful candidates just released for publication by the committee of bar examiners. Only 44.57 per cent of the total number passed, 55.43 per cent failing.

Of the 682 who took the examinations, 267, or 39 per cent, had failed previously in tests given in this State or elsewhere; and of this number only fifty-two, or 19.5 per cent, passed.

The committee's report points out that none who passed the written examinations failed sufficiently in the oral quiz to prevent him from being recommended for admission. It states also that 137 of the applicants examined, namely 20 per cent, had not had four years of high school or college education. Of these, only twenty-eight passed the tests.

The successful applicants who took the examination here are:

Guns Again Roar in Buenos Aires

Counter-Uprising Against Uriburu Regime Seen in Argentina

Fierce Fighting Breaks Out Shortly After Formal Inaugural

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 9. (Tuesday) (Exclusive) —"It is reliably reported that the provisional government of Gen. Uriburu has ordered the arrest of the deposed President Hipolito Yrigoyen and all members of his Cabinet, as well as scores of well-known adherents to the Yrigoyen radical regime.

Last night's trouble appears to have been caused when infantry of the victorious revolutionary forces stationed near the Government House mistook an incoming detachment of another regiment for counter-revolutionists, and fired upon them.

MONTEVIDEO (Uruguay) Sept. 9. (P) (Tuesday)—Despite a rigid censorship which was placed on outgoing cable and telegraphic dispatches from Buenos Aires last night it was learned here early this morning that sanguinary fighting occurred there during the evening. Just when the public had appeared to be returning to a normal state of mind after having participated in an enthusiastic manifestation of support for the incoming government of Gen. Jose Evaristo Uriburu firing broke out in various parts of the city, the fusillade beginning about 9 p.m.

The fire appeared to be concentrated on Government House and on the paseo or avenue which is adjacent to it. Interspersed with machine fire could be heard the rattle of Mausers and small arms.

The cannon fire was heard at intervals of about fifteen minutes. As the night advanced the shots became less frequent.

The firing took thousands of inhabitants who were in the streets completely by surprise.

Rumors were heard about the streets of the Argentine capital that several regiments had risen against the new government with the object of replacing in power the deposed President, Hipolito Yrigoyen.

The new President, Gen. Uriburu, issued a communication to the press at midnight, affirming that there was no basis for alarm and that it was false that some of the military had risen against his government.

Reports that warships in the harbor had taken part in bombardment of a section of the city during the evening were declared false.
